Naturalizing The Mind Jean Nicod Lectures:

Naturalizing The Mind Fred Dretske, 1997-08-21 Naturalizing the Mind skillfully develops a representational theory of the qualitative the phenomenal the what it is like aspects of the mind that have defied traditional forms of naturalism How can the baffling problems of phenomenal experience be accounted for In this provocative book Fred Dretske argues that to achieve an understanding of the mind it is not enough to understand the biological machinery by means of which the mind does its job One must understand what the mind s job is and how this task can be performed by a physical system the nervous system Naturalizing the Mind skillfully develops a representational theory of the qualitative the phenomenal the what it is like aspects of the mind that have defied traditional forms of naturalism Central to Dretske s approach is the claim that the phenomenal aspects of perceptual experiences are one and the same as external real world properties that experience represents objects as having Combined with an evolutionary account of sensory representation the result is a completely naturalistic account of phenomenal consciousness Not for sale in France or Belgium

Naturalism and Our Knowledge of Reality R. Scott Smith, 2016-04-22 Philosophical naturalism is taken to be the preferred and reigning epistemology and metaphysics that underwrites many ideas and knowledge claims But what if we cannot know reality on that basis What if the institution of science is threatened by its reliance on naturalism R Scott Smith argues in a fresh way that we cannot know reality on the basis of naturalism Moreover the fact value split has failed to serve our interests of wanting to know reality The author provocatively argues that since we can know reality it must be due to a non naturalistic ontology best explained by the fact that human knowers are made and designed by God The book offers fresh implications for the testing of religious truth claims science ethics education and public policy Consequently naturalism and the fact value split are shown to be false and Christian theism is shown to be true

The Emotional Mind Stephen T. Asma, Rami Gabriel, 2019-04-15 Tracing the leading role of emotions in the evolution of the mind a philosopher and a psychologist pair up to reveal how thought and culture owe less to our faculty for reason than to our capacity to feel Many accounts of the human mind concentrate on the brain s computational power Yet in evolutionary terms rational cognition emerged only the day before yesterday For nearly 200 million years before humans developed a capacity to reason the emotional centers of the brain were hard at work If we want to properly understand the evolution of the mind we must explore this more primal capability that we share with other animals the power to feel Emotions saturate every thought and perception with the weight of feelings The Emotional Mind reveals that many of the distinctive behaviors and social structures of our species are best discerned through the lens of emotions Even the roots of so much that makes us uniquely human art mythology religion can be traced to feelings of caring longing fear loneliness awe rage lust playfulness and more From prehistoric cave art to the songs of Hank Williams Stephen T Asma and Rami Gabriel explore how the evolution of the emotional mind stimulated our species cultural expression in all its rich variety Bringing together insights and data from philosophy biology anthropology neuroscience and psychology The Emotional Mind offers a new paradigm for understanding what it is that makes us so unique

Jackendoff, 2009-01-23 An integrative approach to human cognition that encompasses the domains of language consciousness action social cognition and theory of mind that will foster cross disciplinary conversation among linguists philosophers psycholinguists neuroscientists cognitive anthropologists and evolutionary psychologists Ray Jackendoff's Language Consciousness Culture represents a breakthrough in developing an integrated theory of human cognition It will be of interest to a broad spectrum of cognitive scientists including linguists philosophers psycholinguists neuroscientists cognitive anthropologists and evolutionary psychologists Jackendoff argues that linguistics has become isolated from the other cognitive sciences at least partly because of the syntax based architecture assumed by mainstream generative grammar He proposes an alternative parallel architecture for the language faculty that permits a greater internal integration of the components of language and connects far more naturally to such larger issues in cognitive neuroscience as language processing the connection of language to vision and the evolution of language Extending this approach beyond the language capacity Jackendoff proposes sharper criteria for a satisfactory theory of consciousness examines the structure of complex everyday actions and investigates the concepts involved in an individual's grasp of society and culture Each of these domains is used to reflect back on the question of what is unique about human language and what follows from more general properties of the mind Language Consciousness Culture extends Jackendoff's pioneering theory of conceptual semantics to two of the most important domains of human thought social cognition and theory of mind Jackendoff's formal framework allows him to draw new connections among a large variety of literatures and to uncover new distinctions and generalizations not previously recognized The breadth of the approach will foster cross disciplinary conversation the vision is to develop a richer understanding of human nature
