Cityscapes in History Heléna Tóth,2016-05-23 Cityscapes in History Creating the Urban Experience explores the ways in which scholars from a variety of disciplines history history of art geography and architecture think about and study the urban environment The concept cityscapes refers to three different dynamics that shape the development of the urban environment the interplay between conscious planning and organic development the tension between social control and its unintended consequences and the relationship between projection and self presentation as articulated through civic ceremony and ritual The book is structured around three sections each covering a particular aspect of the urban experience The City Planned looks at issues related to agency self perception the transfer of knowledge and the construction of space The City Lived explores the experience of urbanity and the construction of space as a means of social control And finally The City as a Stage examines the ways in which cultural practices and power relations shape and are in turn shaped by the construction of space Each section combines the work of scholars from different fields who examine these dynamics through both theoretical essays and empirical research and provides a coherent framework in which to assess a wide range of chronological and geographical subjects Taken together the essays in this volume provide a truly interdisciplinary investigation of the urban phenomenon By making fascinating connections between such seemingly diverse topics as 15th century France and modern America the collection raises valuable questions about scholarly approaches to urban studies

Making Industrial Pittsburgh Modern Edward K. Muller,Joel A. Tarr,2019-10-22 Pittsburgh s explosive industrial and population growth between the mid nineteenth century and the Great Depression required constant attention to city building Private profit oriented firms often with government involvement provided necessary transportation energy resources and suitable industrial and residential sites Meeting these requirements in the region s challenging hilly topographical and riverine environment resulted in the dramatic reshaping of the natural landscape At the same time the Pittsburgh region s free market private enterprise emphasis created socio economic imbalances and badly polluted the air water and land Industrial stagnation temporarily interrupted by wars and then followed deindustrialization inspired the formation of powerful public private partnerships to address the region s mounting infrastructural economic and social problems The sixteen essays in Making Industrial Pittsburgh Modern examine important aspects of the modernizing efforts to make Pittsburgh and Southwestern Pennsylvania a successful metropolitan region The city building experiences continue to influence the region s economic transformation spatial structure and life experience Pennsylvania's Forbes Trail Burton K.
