The International Jute Commodity System Chhabilendra Roul, 2009 The jute commodity system as prevalent in the Indian subcontinent is a conglomeration of paradoxes Jute was once called the golden fibre on account of its contribution to means of livelihood to millions of farmers traders manufacturers in the unorganized sector mill workers in the organized sector as well scores of people employed in the service sector relating to trading manufacturing and exports of jute and jute goods Jute industry along with textile manufacturing provided the foundation of modern manufacturing industry in India Simultaneously this industry was also the fountain head of the growth of private entrepreneurship and capital in India Most of the traditional Industrial Houses in India grew out of trading and manufacturing of jute and jute goods coal and tea On the other hand most of the farmers involved in cultivation of natural fibres like jute are small and marginal farmers Without alternative avenues of gainful employment elsewhere these millions in South Asia would be deprived of a part of their livelihood The entire commodity chain of natural fibres is characterized by low productivity low value addition high volumes and low returns The advent and discovery of mineral oil helped exploit cheap HDPE and PP polyethylene sacks which started replacing the natural fibre based packaging materials As a result the jute industry got wiped out from Europe America and the Far East Today it is survived in the Indian subcontinent and to a lesser extent in Brazil The unique feature of the volume is that it focuses on the first hand experience of the policy makers and other stakeholders in the jute commodity system who are confronted with a dilemma of reviving a declining economic subsector At this juncture when there is need for a Commodity Development Strategy suitable to the ethos of a commodity like the jute fibre the present volumes attempts to devise such a strategy thorough analysis of the system based on authentic and up to date information The Book furnishes an erudite analysis and stock taking of the jute commodity system This analysis points out to the fact that there is a need for a holistic systemic approach to the problems being faced by this sector focusing on the economic exploitation of the whole jute plant holistic research for addressing productivity and processing efficiency in the entire commodity chain of jute and creating a network of organisations for advocacy for jute and allied fibres which would focus on repositioning the golden fibre as sustainable and eco friendly commodity with the help of green and sustainable development advocacy groups The Commodity Development Strategy highlights the need for greater effort for significant degree of product diversification which would entail significant consumption of the fibre or fabric in volume terms The volume ends with an optimistic note with ideas of inclusive development under the Millennium Development Goals and Carbon Credits Sustainable Development under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change the welcome paradigm shifts in the approach to the jute sector The effort by Sh Roul is a timely one on the eve of the observance of 2009 as International Year for Natural Fibres by the United Nations The book is quite comprehensive with its focus on a wide range of issues pertaining to the jute agri commodity system addressed against a historical background and from macro economic analytical perspective The volume offers stimulating reading for those interested in the dynamics of agricultural commodity systems like jute and allied fibres The book is expected to help sensitise national governments international organizations and nongovernmental organizations towards the eco sustainability of jute as a natural fibre The book can serve as an excellent reference book for post graduate students in economics jute and textiles management development studies regional development and agriculture and agro marketing Prospects Upp-Int Wb Czech K. Hungary's Integration Into European Union Markets Bart?omiej Kami?ski,1999 Abstract June 1999 Can Hungarian firms cope with competitive pressures and market forces within the European Union market a criterion for joining The empirical evidence suggests that Hungary can withstand such competitive pressures without suppressing the real incomes of Hungary s citizens Hungary has achieved impressive results in reorienting both its production and trade Between 1989 and 1992 as the former CMEA markets collapsed and Hungary liberalized imports and the exchange rate regime exports to the European Union EU expanded with manufactured exports redirected largely to Western mostly EU markets During this first phase of expansion characterized by a dramatic reorientation and explosion of trade the value of Hungary s exports increased 84 percent In 1993 export expansion lost steam and EU oriented exports fell 12 percent In a second phase of expansion in 1994 97 driven by restructured and rapidly changing export offers exports again registered strong performance their value increasing 132 percent There was a dramatic shift from an export basket dominated by resource intensive low value added products to one driven by manufactures with a rapidly accelerating growth of engineering products Machinery and transport equipment rose from 12 percent of exports to the EU in 1989 to more than 50 percent in 1997 The shift from natural resource and unskilled labor intensive products to technology and capital intensive products in EU oriented exports suggests the potential for integration higher in the value added spectrum More stringent EU environmental regulations will affect a relatively low and falling share of Hungary s exports The Hungarian share of environmentally dirty products imported by the EU has increased but these products have not been trendsetters among Hungarian exports their share in exports falling from 26 percent in 1989 to 16 percent in 1996 The rapid pace of Hungary s turnaround seems to reflect the emergence of second generation firms mostly foreign owned Foreign owned firms tend to be more export oriented Hungary has been one of the more successful transition economies because its economy was receptive to foreign direct investment from the outset Between 1990 and 1997 Hungary absorbed roughly half of all foreign capital invested in Central Europe This paper a product of Trade Development Research Group is part of a larger effort in the group to study regional integration The author may be contacted at bkaminski worldbank org

Regional Economic Outlook, October 2010, Europe, Building Confidence International Monetary Fund. European Dept.,2010-10-20 The recovery in Europe continues supported by strong policy action to contain sovereign debt problems in the euro area In advanced Europe lingering uncertainties and market pressures make for moderate and unequal growth creating challenges for macroeconomic and financial sector policies The REO also sheds light on the governance issues revealed by the crisis arguing that better policy frameworks in particular at the euro area level promise a stronger Europe For the first time the REO devotes a separate chapter to the outlook for emerging Europe where after a deep recession an export led recovery is under way However the rebound is uneven across the region and policymakers face the difficult challenge of dealing with the legacies of the crisis while not hurting the recovery Beyond the short term the REO argues that the region will need to find new growth engines as the capital inflows driven and credit fueled domestic demand boom needs to give way to more balanced growth Indeed the REO emphasizes that active fiscal policy and coordinated prudential measures are key to avoiding a repeat of the boom bust cycle the region has just endured

Foreign Direct Investment in New Member State of the EU and Western Balkans: Taking Stock and Assessing Prospects La-Bhus Fah Jirasavetakul, Jesmin Rahman, 2018-08-21 FDI has played a strong role in the export led growth of eastern European countries that are now members of the European Union EU Largely sourced from advanced Europe FDI inflows were motivated by the intention to pursue new markets and cost efficiency Over time foreign investment has restructured the exports sector in these countries in favor of products that are considered more technology intensive As these countries face skills shortage and rising wages what is needed for FDI to continue playing a strong role Can the Western Balkan countries who are not yet EU members and have in recent years stepped up financial incentives and policy initiatives to court investors emulate the experience This paper takes stock of the FDI experience of both these groups and tries to estimate their potential gains from additional policy efforts Cumulated Index Medicus ,1976 Environmental Management and Sustainability in India Abhay Sankar Sahu,Nilanjana Das Chatterjee,2023-07-25 This volume explores the spatial side of sustainability using cases from India It provides a variety of chapters from scholars from West Bengal and elsewhere in the country highlighting spatial perspectives on environmental issues and offering insight on sustainable development in the subcontinent from a geographical perspective A wide variety of topics are covered here including but not limited to mitigation of and adaptation to climate issues hydrogeomorphologic issues environmental management agricultural sustainability ecosystem services urban environmental management and tourism issues The lessons learned here are transferable to other contexts and the book is a resource for researchers academics practitioners government organizations NGOs and anyone else interested in the spatial side of sustainability Capital ,1972-07 INFOFISH International ,2005

India and Central Europe Rajendra K. Jain,2021-09-01 This book explores the transformation of India s relations with Central and Eastern Europe from being a subset of Indo Soviet relations during the Cold War to the rediscovery and rebuilding of relations with the region almost from scratch in the post Cold War era It examines how the combination of Brexit the rise of China and India s expanding geo economic interests in Europe has led the Narendra Modi government to contemplate relations with Central Europe through a more strategic lens and treat the region as an autonomous element within India s foreign policy rather than a footnote of its relations with other great powers Fulfilling a long felt gap in existing literature this volume examines India s political economic investment defence and cultural relations with the Visegrad Four the Czech Republic Hungary Poland and Slovakia It analyzes Indian perceptions of Central Europe and explores prospects of New Delhi s political and economic engagement with the region The painstakingly compiled appendices on the exchange of bilateral visits and agreements between India and the Visegrad Four would be of immense use as a handy reference to scholars policy makers and other interested persons and institutions Tax Systems and Tax Reforms in New EU Member States Luigi Bernardi,Mark Chandler,Luca Gandullia,2005-02-03 Building on the work carried out in the 2004 Routledge book Tax Systems and Tax Reforms in Europe an international team of contributors now turn their attention to the new EU member states The book compares conditions in the new and potential EU Member states to those in the long standing EU countries Topics covered include A Comparative View of Taxation in the EU and in New Members Tax Policy in EU New Members Tax Policy in New Members under the Stability Pact Tax Administration and the Black Economy As well as investigating countries such as the Czech Republic Estonia and the Baltics Hungary Poland and Slovenia this outstanding book contains a foreword by Vito Tanzi and will be a valuable resource for postgraduates and professionals in the fields of economics politics finance and European studies The Graphic ,1921 Index Medicus ,2003 Vols for 1963 include as pt
