Based mainly on understudied Arabic manuscript sources describing the learned salons of the Mamluk Sultan al-Ghawrī, In the Sultan's Salon presents the first theoretical conceptualization of the term court that can be fruitfully applied to premodern Islamic societies. It uses this conceptualization to demonstrate that al-Ghawrī's court functioned as a transregionally interconnected center of dynamic intellectual exchange, theological debate, and performance of rule that triggered novel developments in Islamic scholarly, religious, and political culture. Selling Cromwell's Wars Nicole Greenspan, 2015-10-06 Greenspan examines a selection of Cromwell's conflicts, policies, and imperial ventures to explore the ways in which the media was instrumental in developing, promoting, and legitimizing government actions. Telephony, 1909

Women and Citizenship St. Louis Marilyn Friedman, Professor of Philosophy, Washington University, 2005-09-16 The notion of citizenship is complex; it can be at once an identity, a set of rights, privileges, and responsibilities, an elevated and exclusionary status, a relationship between individual and state, and more. In recent decades, citizenship has attracted interdisciplinary attention, particularly with the transnational growth of Western capitalism. Yet citizenship's relationship to gender has gone relatively unexplored, despite the globally pervasive denial of citizenship to women, historically and in many places ongoing today. This highly interdisciplinary volume explores the political and cultural dimensions of citizenship and their relevance to women and gender. Containing essays by a well-known group of scholars, including Iris Marion Young, Alison Jaggar, Martha Nussbaum, and Sandra Bartky, this book examines the conceptual issues and strategies at play in the feminist quest to give women full citizenship status. The contributors take a fresh look at the issues, going beyond conventional critiques and examining problems in the political and social arrangements, practices, and conditions that diminish women's citizenship in various parts of the world. Ringworld Throne Larry Niven, 1997-03-30 Come back to the Ringworld, the most astonishing feat of engineering ever encountered. The human, Louis Wu, the puppeteer known as the Hindmost Acolyte, son of the Kzin, called Chmee, legendary beings brought together once again in the defense of the Ringworld. Something is going on with the Protectors. Incoming spacecraft are being destroyed before they can reach the Ringworld. Vampires are massing. And the Ghouls have their own agenda if anyone dares approach them to learn. Each race on the Ringworld has always had its own Protector. Now it looks as if the Ringworld itself needs a Protector. But who will sit on the Ringworld Throne? Niven's work has been an intriguing and consistent universe, and this book is the keystone of the arch. His technique is wonderfully polished; his characters and their situations are nicely drawn, wraps up

Consolidating Conquest Padraig Lenihan,2014-05-22 This groundbreaking and controversial new study tells the story of two nations in Ireland an Irish Catholic nation and a Protestant nation emerging from a blood stained century This survey confronts the violence and enmity inherent in the consolidation of conquest Lenihan contends that the overriding grand narrative of this period was one of conflict and dispossession as the native elite was progressively displaced by a new colonial ruling class This struggle was not confined to war but also had cultural religious economic and social reverberations At times the darkness was relieved throughout the period by episodes of peaceful cooperation Consolidating Conquest places events in Ireland in the context of three Stuart kingdoms religious rivalry within and between those kingdoms and the shifting balance of power as monarchy and commonwealth Whitehall and Westminster fought for ultimate power Corilia: Return
