Cinema's Sinister Psychiatrists Sharon Packer, M.D., 2012-09-18 Film history is merged with psychiatric history seamlessly to show how and why bad depictions of mind doctors especially hypnotists occur in early film long before Hannibal Lecter burst upon the scene The German Expressionist Dr Caligari is not cinema's first psychotic charlatan but he launches the stereotype of screen psychiatrists who are sicker than their patients Many film psychiatrists function as political metaphors while many more reflect real life clinical controversies This book discusses films with diabolical drugging unethical experimentation involuntary incarceration sexual exploitation lobotomies shock schlock conspiracy theories and military medicine to show how fact informs fantasy and when fantasy trumps reality Traditional asylum thrillers changed after hospital stays shortened and laws protected people against involuntary commitment Except for six short golden years from 1957 to 1963 portrayals of bad psychiatrists far outnumber good ones and this book tells how and why that was

Psychiatry, Mental Institutions, and the Mad in Apartheid South Africa Tiffany Fawn Jones, 2012-05-23 In the late 1970s South African mental institutions were plagued with scandals about human rights abuse and psychiatric practitioners were accused of being agents of the apartheid state Between 1939 and 1994 some psychiatric practitioners supported the mandate of the racist and heteropatriarchal government and most mental patients were treated abysmally However unlike studies worldwide that show that women homosexuals and minorities were institutionalized in far higher numbers than heterosexual men Psychiatry Mental Institutions and the Mad in Apartheid South Africa reveals how in South Africa per capita white heterosexual males made up the majority of patients in state institutions The book therefore challenges the monolithic and omnipotent view of the apartheid government and its mental health policy While not contesting the belief that human rights abuses occurred within South Africa s mental health system Tiffany Fawn Jones argues that the disparity among practitioners and the fluidity of their beliefs along with the disjointed mental health infrastructure diffused state control More importantly the book shows how patients were also to a limited extent able to challenge the constraints of their institutionalization This volume places the discussions of South Africa s mental institutions in an international context highlighting the role that international organizations such as the Church of Scientology and political events such as the gay rights movement and the Cold War also played in shaping mental health policy in South Africa

Frames of Minds Eelco F. M. Wijdicks,2024 As a medium that aims to connect people through the communication and interpretation of experiences cinema is uniquely positioned to showcase cultural misunderstandings around issues of mental health Frames of Minds traces a history of psychiatry in film concentrating on the major paradigm shifts in neuropsychiatry over the last century Oftentimes representations of psychiatry mental illness and psychotic breakdown are reduced to tropes and used by filmmakers as a tool for plot progression Conversely films can be used as an avenue to voice common concerns about the missteps of psychiatry including overdiagnosis and mistreatment Dr Eelco Wijdicks provides fresh insights into the minds of filmmakers and how they creatively tackle this complex topic How do filmmakers use psychiatry and what do they want us to see What is their frame of mind psychoanalytically biologically sociologically anthropologically Were they influenced by their own prejudices about the origins of mental illness How does this influence the direction of their films Examining the history of film alongside developments in neuropsychiatry Frames of Minds uncovers a cinematic language of psychiatry By taking chances to portray mental illness filmmakers aim to achieve a sense of reality and provide catharsis for viewers through the act of dramatization Ultimately the history of psychiatry in film is a history of the public perception of medicine and the ways psychiatry is understood by directors writers actors and audiences

Making Us Crazy Herb Kutchins, Stuart Kirk, 2003-09-18 A persuasive and passionate plea from two mental health professionals to ease use of the Diagnostic Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders under their belief that it is leading to an over diagnosed society For many health professionals the Diagnostic Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders DSM is an indispensable resource As the standard reference book for psychiatrists and psychotherapist everywhere the DSM has had an inestimable influence on the way medical professionals diagnosis mental disorders in their patients But with a push to label clients with pathological disorders in order to get reimbursed by insurance companies the purpose of the DSM is no longer serving as a reference book Instead it is acting as a list of things that can qualify a patient s diagnosis In Making Us Crazy Stuart Kirk and Herb Kutchins evaluate how the DSM has become the influence behind diagnoses that assassinate character and slander the opposition often for political or monetary gain By examining how the reference book serves as a source to label every phobia and quirk that arises in a patient Kirk and Kutchins question the overuse of the DSM by today s mental health professionals

Community Series in Mental Illness, Culture, and Society: Dealing with the COVID-19 Pandemic, volume VIII

Mohammadreza Shalbafan,Samer El Hayek ,Renato de Filippis,2024-06-21 The COVID 19 outbreak has impacted many areas of our lives including mental health Lockdown and physical distancing measures have been one major effective intervention to counter the spread of the virus and reduce the impact of the disease However they have negatively impacted mental well being and behaviors either triggering the onset of new psychiatric symptoms and diseases or amplifying pre existing ones The pandemic and lockdown measures have also been associated with reduced access to treatment and facilities all over the world further worsening mental health outcomes The impact on mental health although universal varied between nations Cultural and societal variables including norms values religion and stigma have played an important role in shaping COVID 19 related mental health symptoms including anxiety depression grief psychosis and addiction These sociocultural factors have also molded how mental health interventions are tailored and provided Highlighting the intertwining relationship between the pandemic mental health and sociocultural factors are essential to managing emerging mental health symptoms adequately New Directions in Psychiatry Maurizio Pompili,Roger McIntyre,Andrea Fiorillo,Norman Sartorius,2020-06-08 This book focuses on hot issues faced by clinicians in everyday clinical practice and provides in depth analyses of both met and unmet needs in the management of psychiatric disorders It has been repeatedly shown that the needs of patients relatives the community at large and those of the governmental bodies only partially overlap For instance patients in their families are more concerned about quality of life treatment autonomy and independent living whereas governmental stakeholders are typically more concerned about relapse prevention and reduction of hospitalizations As such a volume bridging the gap between theoretical notions and practical understanding of patients untreated aspects of their psychiatric disorders is much needed Instead of focusing on traditional descriptions of psychopathology and diagnostic criteria the volume guides readers to core problems for each topic taking into account new approaches in the classification of mental disorders as proposed by DSM 5 It elaborates on much debated controversial problems such as the assessment and treatment of psychomotor agitation and non adherence to treatment that impacts on the psychiatric context With its unique approach this volume appeals to anyone with an interest in the field including researchers clinicians and trainees
