Mulga Bill Rides Again:

Go Books Gordon Winch, 1997 Bush, City, Cyberspace John Foster, Ern Finnis, Maureen Nimmon, 2005-06-01 Aimed at academic professional and general readers Bush city cyberspace provides a snapshot of the state of Australian children's and adolescent literature in the early twenty first century and an insight into its history In doing so it promotes a sense of where Australian literature for young people may be going and captures a literary and critical mood with which readers in Australia and beyond will identify The title of the work is intended to capture the fact that the field has changed dramatically in the century and a half that Australian children's literature has existed from the bush myths and heroism that inform the past and the present through the recognition that the vast majority of authors and readers live in cities to the third wave of cyberliterature that incorporates multimedia hypertext weblinks and e books none of which lessens the enduring enthusiasm of practitioners and readers for books Bush city cyberspace is not meant to be an encyclopedic volume Rather well known recent and or award winning works have been emphasised with the addition of others where these help to illuminate particular points The book is similar in coverage and approach to Australian Children's Literature An Exploration of Genre and Theme written by the same three authors and published by the Centre for Information Studies in 1995 In the intervening period much has changed in the field notable examples including the blurring of the dividing line between quality and popular literature the blending of genres the rise of a truly indigenous literature the demise to a significant extent of Outbackery in fiction the acceptance of multiculturalism as the norm and the advent of the literature of cyberspace with new methods and the sheer speed of communication between writer and reader All these trends and others are reflected in this work The Oxford Companion to Australian Children's Literature Stella Lees, Pam Macintyre, 1993 Arranged alphabetically The Oxford Companion to Australian Children's Literature contains 1600 entries covering authors publishers illustrators famous characters events institutions and awards from Ned Kelly and the Eureka Stockade to Australian comics and the work of Evelyn Goode The book is an invaluable resource for anyone interested in children's literature or Australian culture

indexed by author title and illustrator Prelude to Literacy Maureen Crago, Hugh Crago, 1983 This is the first in depth study of a preschool child's interaction with picture and story books Based on five years of intensive observation of the author's daughter Anna the book provides detailed verbatim records of Anna's questions and comments as she listened to books being read aloud It is a fascinating scholarly contribution to those interested in language acquisition The first part of the study presents Anna's reactions to six books ranging from Where the Wild Things Are at two years to The Story of Doctor Dolittle at four and a half The authors analyze what Anna said and did drawing on contextual material to make it clear that initially inexplicable or irrelevant remarks are not only logical but often indicative of underlying emotional dynamics as well Part two describes Anna's reaction to fictional experience in her own play and spontaneous monologue of which several examples are transcribed and analyzed in full The third section begins with two chapters devoted to the visual dimension of Anna's book experience In chapters dealing with humor fantasy plot narrative voice identification and emotion the authors use their findings to shed new light on frequently asked but rarely answered questions What do children laugh at Are some books too frightening for children Is a happy ending vital in a story for young children Can preschoolers understand the difference between fantasy and reality Bound for Vietnam Lydia Laube, 2010 It's funny how things turn out A chance encounter with a Welshman on the Trans Siberian Express en route to Ulaan Bator had made me decide once again to take the long and difficult way home Mulga Madness Rex Ellis, 2013-07-05 Mulga Madness is a hilarious collection of true stories which pay tribute to Australian bush humour the determined antidote to hard work and loneliness Rex Ellis is a master of the ingenious leg pull the laconic understatement the often explosive climax He draws on his experience as jackaroo sheep station overseer and outback guide to introduce us to bushies the men and women from outback towns and stations often folk of few words who will go a long way for a beer and a laugh and whose oddities and eccentricities made more marked by isolation make them fair game for the story teller This wiry little bushman reckons he has had his fair share of mulga madness over the years but it's not a bad affliction to suffer from in fact it's a very desirable disease being more likely to prolong life than to shorten it Mulga is a tough desert acacia Acacia Aneura It covers more area than any other Australian tree A.B. "Banjo" Paterson Andrew Barton Paterson, 1992 This collection focuses on the versatility of Paterson's writing Includes not only his ballads and short stories but also examples of his work as a journalist war correspondent and racing scribe The editor is also the author of the Paterson biography The Banjo of the Bush Includes a select bibliography Under the Mulga Jim Gasteen, 2005 An authentic and entertaining first hand account of life in the Australian bush from the 1920s to the 1950s Under the Mulga follows Jim Gasteen's childhood adventures marriage and his life long love affair with the land which saw him eventually become an unlikely champion of land management With a knack for storytelling Jim Gasteen recounts classic tales of outback life the bullockies governesses and swaggies the shearing horse breaking and fencing His reminiscences tell of colourful characters an unforgiving landscape and a sense of community and camaraderie
