Madeleine Blaess a French born British raised student set off for Paris to study for a doctorate in Medieval French literature at the Sorbonne In June 1940 the German invasion cut off her escape route to the ports preventing her return to Britain She was forced to remain in France for the duration of the Occupation and in October 1940 began to write a diary Intended initially as a replacement letter to her parents in York she wrote it in French and barely missed an entry for almost four years Madeleine s diary is unique as she wrote it to record as much as she could about everyday life people and events so she could use these written traces to rekindle memories later for the family from whom she had been parted Many diaries of that era focus on the political situation Madeleine s diary does reflect and engage with military and political events It also provides an unprecedented day by day account of the struggle to manage material deprivation physical hardship mental exhaustion and depression during the Occupation The diary is also a record of Madeleine s determination to achieve her ambition to become a university academic at a time when there was little encouragement for women to prioritise education and career over marriage and motherhood Her diary is edited and translated here for the first time The English Catalogue of Books

Published from January, 1835, to January, 1863 ,1864 Contemporary Archival Fiction Elin Ivansson,2025-09-30 This book presents a synthesised framework for analysing archival poetics in multimodal literature examining case studies from twenty first century American fiction towards elucidating the archival turn in contemporary literature more broadly Ivansson turns her focus on multimodal archival fiction here understood as works which engage with archival practices of collecting and organising both verbal text and visual inclusions of fictional and factual archival material such as photographs sketches notes and newspaper clippings The volume brings together work from multimodality cognitive stylistics and narratology with archival studies to demonstrate how contemporary archival fiction engages with archival themes through multimodal design Case studies include works from Barbara Hodgson Leanne Shapton Valeria Luiselli and Jacob Garbe and Aaron A Reed The selected examples allow for a detailed exploration of how to analyse the multimodal composition and reader experience of archival poetics Furthermore these case studies also elucidate how such a framework can be applied more broadly to the analysis of fictional works thematically and structurally concerned with the archive or those that grapple with such areas of interest in contemporary research as materiality bookishness and ontological ambiguity This volume will appeal to students and scholars in multimodality stylistics American literature and literary studies Catalogue of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1937 Twentieth Century Crime & Mystery Writers NA NA,2015-12-25
