Community-based Traditional Music in Scotland Josephine L. Miller, 2022-10-17 This book examines the community based learning and teaching of traditional music in contemporary Scotland with implications for transnational theoretical issues The book draws on a broad range of scholarship and a local case study of a large organisation A historical perspective provides an overview of new educational formats emerging from the mid twentieth century folk music revival in Scotland Practices through which participants encounter and perpetuate the idiom of traditional music include social music making learning by ear and participatory and presentational elements of musical performances Individuals are shown as combining these aspects with their own learning strategies to participate in the contemporary community of practice of traditional music The work also discusses how experiences of learning contribute to identity formation including the role and practice of tutors of traditional music The author proposes conceptualising the teaching and learning of traditional music in community based organisations as a pedagogy of participation

Community Music at the Boundaries Lee Willingham, 2021-04-06 Music lives where people live Historically music study has centred on the conservatory which privileges the study of the Western European canon and Western European practice The Eurocentric way music has been studied has excluded communities that are considered to be marginalized in one or more ways despite that the majority of human experiences with music is found outside of that realm Community music has emerged as a counter narrative to the hegemonic music canon it seeks to increase the participation of those living on the boundaries Community Music at the Boundaries explores music and music making on those edges The real power of community music writes Roger Mantie in the foreword lies not in the fiction of trying to eliminate boundaries or pretending they don t exist but in embracing the challenge of walking them Contributions from scholars and researchers music practitioners and administrators examine the intersection of music and communities in a variety of music making forms ensembles university and police choirs bands prison performing groups youth music groups instrument classes symphonies drum circles and musical direction and performance Some of the topics explored in the volume include education and change music and Indigenous communities health and wellness music by incarcerated persons and cultural identity By shining a light on boundaries this volume provides a wealth of international perspectives and knowledge about the ways that music enhances lives Rethinking Social Action through Music Geoffrey Baker, 2021-04-12 How can we better understand the past present and future of Social Action through Music SATM This ground breaking book examines the development of the Red de Escuelas de Música de Medellín the Network of Music Schools of Medellín a network of 27 schools founded in Colombia s second city in 1996 as a response to its reputation as the most dangerous city on Earth Inspired by El Sistema the foundational Venezuelan music education program the Red is nonetheless markedly different its history is one of multiple reinventions and a continual search to improve its educational offering and better realise its social goals Its internal reflections and attempts at transformation shed valuable light on the past present and future of SATM Based on a year of intensive fieldwork in Colombia and written by Geoffrey Baker the author of El Sistema Orchestrating Venezuela s Youth 2014 this important volume offers fresh insights on SATM and its evolution both in scholarship and in practice It will be of interest to a very varied readership employees and leaders of SATM programs music educators funders and policy makers and students and scholars of SATM music education ethnomusicology and other related fields The Musical Blue Book of America, ..., 1922
