Sport in Underdeveloped and Conflict Regions Meredith A. Whitley, William V. Massey, Simon C. Darnell, Brett Smith, 2018-12-07 Over the past two decades scholars and practitioners have taken a keen interest in the field of Sport for Development and Peace SDP These efforts have largely focused on and debated the merits of sport as a tool for development diplomacy and peacebuilding in under resourced underdeveloped and conflict regions Making sense of the positive contributions that sport can offer to such complex and multi faceted issues requires understanding the various connections and meanings that individuals and communities ascribe to their sporting experiences This book offers a unique outlet for research that engages with rather than makes claims about individuals and communities around the world Diverse contemporary and thought provoking examples of qualitative methods in the study of SDP are detailed along with rich meaningful and provocative insights from these studies Readers are invited to think critically about the fields of enquiry philosophical underpinnings and methodologies utilised as well as the audiences engaged and topics explored We hope readers will join us in considering how these chapters can push the SDP field into more rigorous methodologically innovative and diverse approaches to research and evaluation while also engaging with actors who are still often spoken for or about rather than with This book was originally published as a special issue of Qualitative Research in Sport Exercise and Health

Research Anthology on Empowering Marginalized Communities and Mitigating Racism and Discrimination Management Association, Information Resources, 2021-02-05 With the newly inaugurated US Presidential Administration signing several orders to mitigate discrimination and racism within the United States government attentions globally are once again brought to the Black Lives Matter campaign and its message Discrimination in business contexts social interactions and educational institutions remains a concern for leaders today The empowerment of marginalized communities has been rapidly spreading through societies thanks to the platforms that social media now offer The Research Anthology on Empowering Marginalized Communities and Mitigating Racism and Discrimination is a three volume hand selected compilation of the highest quality research on the empowerment of marginalized communities that have been experiencing ongoing discrimination To shed light on the underpinnings of disparities between marginalized groups and overreaching society this text explores social justice applications and practices and the changes being made or pushed for around the globe that promote equality fair treatment and inclusivity This book is ideal for sociologists teachers activists practitioners managers administrators policymakers government officials researchers academicians and students working in fields such as gender studies race studies social justice behavioral studies history sociology anthropology psychology law as well as anyone interested in the current practices and advances in mitigating racism and discrimination in society Routledge Revivals: What's Wrong With Ethnography? (1992) Martyn Hammersley, 2018-02-01 Originally published 1992 What's Wrong With Ethnography provides a fresh look at the rationale for and distinctiveness of ethnographic research in sociology education and related fields Relativism critical theory the uniqueness of the case study and the distinction between qualitative and quantitative research are all examined and found wanting as a basis for informed ethnography The policy and political implications of ethnography are a particular focus of attention The author compels the reader to re-examine some basic methodological assumptions in an exciting way Foundations of Qualitative Research Jerry W. Willis, 2007-01-26 Foundations of Qualitative Research introduces key theoretical and epistemological concepts replete with historical and current real world examples Author Jerry W Willis provides an invaluable resource to guide the critical and qualitative inquiry process written in an accessible and non-intimidating style that brings these otherwise difficult concepts to life Evaluation Research Alan Clarke, 1999-09-22 Providing students and practitioners with a comprehensive introduction to evaluation research this book shows how social research methods and methodologies can be applied in a variety of evaluation contexts The author illustrates the contribution both quantitative and qualitative methods can make to evaluation stresses the important part played by theory in the evaluation enterprise introduces some of the conceptual methodological and practical problems encountered when undertaking this type of applied research especially in the areas of criminal justice health care and education Vedic Practice, Ritual Studies and Jaimini's Mīmāṃsāsūtras Samuel G. Ngaihte, 2019-06-27 Drawing on insights from Indian intellectual tradition this book examines the conception of dharma by Jaimini in his Mīmāṃsāsūtras assessing its contemporary relevance particularly within ritual scholarship Presenting a hermeneutical re-reading of the text it investigates the theme of the relationship between subjectivity and tradition in the discussion of dharma bringing it into conversation with contemporary discourses on ritual The primary argument offered is that Jaimini's conception of dharma can be read as a philosophy of Vedic practice centred on the enjoinder of the subject whose stages of transformation possess the structure of a hermeneutic tradition Offering both substantive and methodological insights into the contentions within the contemporary study of ritual this book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of Hindu studies ritual studies Asian religion and South Asian studies The Qualitative Researcher's Companion Michael Huberman, Matthew B. Miles, 2002-03-19 This text provides a solid intellectual grounding in the area of qualitative research It examines theoretical underpinnings methodological perspectives and empirical approaches Encyclopedia of Evaluation Sandra Mathison, 2005 All humans are nascent evaluators Evaluation has been with us throughout history and in its modern form has moved from the margins to the centers of organizations agencies educational institutions and corporate boardrooms No longer a specialized part time activity evaluation has become institutionalized a common practice and indeed an important commodity in political and social life The Encyclopedia of Evaluation is an authoritative first of its kind who what where why and how of the field of evaluation Covering professional practice as well as academia this volume chronicles the development of the field its history key figures theories approaches and goals From the leading publisher in the field of evaluation this work is a must have for all social science libraries departments that offer courses in evaluation and students and professional evaluators around the world The entries in this Encyclopedia capture the essence of evaluation as a practice methods techniques roles people as a profession professional obligations shared knowledge ethical imperatives events places and as a discipline theories and models of evaluation ontological and epistemological issues International Scope Despite the fact that evaluation practice is not institutionalized in the same way around the world the encyclopedia recognizes the international growth of the profession due in large part to organizations such as UNICEF the World Bank and USAID Entries cover the following Afghanistan Belgium Cambodia Ethiopia Germany Greece Guyana Israel Netherlands Niger Scotland South Africa Spain and Uganda In addition the international group of authors includes contributions from more than a dozen nations There are a number of stories about evaluation practice around the world that are set off as sidebars in the text These stories provide a glimpse into the nature of evaluation practice in a diverse set of circumstances delineate the common and uncommon issues for evaluators around the world and point to the complexities of importing evaluation from one culture to another Interdisciplinary Methodological Coverage Much of the practice of evaluation has grown out of the social science research tradition While psychological methods and psychometrics continue to be useful evaluation research today draws from a wide range of disciplines including anthropology education political science literary criticism systems theory and others This Encyclopedia covers all of the relevant methodologies including both qualitative and quantitative approaches Evaluators and Theories The Encyclopedia of Evaluation includes significant coverage of the major figures in the field throughout its history Many of these figures are well known for a particular theory or approach and whenever applicable the entries make this connection for the reader as well as provide references for further reading Good examples include Michael Quinn Patton and
