Congressional Record United States. Congress,1970 Energy policy Elsevier ScienceDirect,2004 Nitrogen Cycling in the Americas: Natural and Anthropogenic Influences and Controls Luiz A. Martinelli,Robert W. Howarth,2007-01-19 The rate of creation of reactive nitrogen NR on the earth has dramatically increased in the last half century mainly due to the production of N fertilizer through the Haber Bosch process fossil fuel combustion and the cultivation of plants that fix N from the atmosphere The anthropogenic production of NR has been especially high in developed countries of the temperate zone such as the USA and Canada where severe eutrophication of estuaries and coastal zones acidification of lakes and streams loss of biodiversity and reduced forest productivity have become common environmental problems associated with increasing nitrogen loads to ecosystems However important drivers responsible for the increase of the production of NR in the temperate zone are increasingly influencing the nitrogen cycle in rapidly developing regions of the world such as the Tropics and Sub Tropics including most of the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean Advances in our understanding of the nitrogen cycle and the impact of anthropogenic activities on regional to global scales depend on the expansion of scientific studies to these fast developing regions This book presents a series of studies from across the Americas whose aim is to highlight key natural processes that control nitrogen cycling as well as discuss the main anthropogenic influences on the nitrogen cycle in both the tropical and temperate regions of the Americas

Survival the IISS s bimonthly journal challenges conventional wisdom and brings fresh often controversial perspectives on strategic issues of the moment In this issue Anatol Lieven argues that realist support for prudence and restraint in foreign policy does not equate to chauvinism isolationism and opposition to international cooperation Toby Dodge assesses that the United States attempt to comprehensively transform Afghanistan was based on its erroneous presumption that the liberal peacebuilding model was universally applicable Audrey Kurth Cronin contends that the logic of fighting terrorists far from the US homeland no longer holds as the US faces resource constraints and rising domestic terrorism Jens Ringsmose and Sten Rynning analyse the potential priorities and scope of NATO s next Strategic Concept and how it can bridge the Alliance s political military divide And eight more thought provoking pieces as well as our regular Book Reviews and Noteworthy column Editor Dr Dana Allin Managing Editor Jonathan Stevenson Associate Editor Carolyn West Assistant Editor Jessica Watson Resources in Education ,1994 Treaty Doc. 96-53 United States. Although the themes of women's complicity in and resistance to war have been part of literature from early times they have not been fully integrated into conventional conceptions of the war narrative Combining feminist literary criticism with the emerging field of feminist war theory this collection explores the role of gender as an organizing principle in the war system and reveals how literature perpetuates the ancient myth of arms and the man The volume shows how the gendered conception of war has both shaped literary texts and formed the literary canon It identifies and interrogates the conventional war text with its culturally determined split between warlike men and peaceful women and it confirms that women's role in relation to war is much more complex and complicitous than such essentializing suggests The contributors examine a wide range of familiar texts from fresh perspectives and bring new texts to light Collectively these essays range in time from the Trojan War to the nuclear age The contributors are June Jordan Lorraine Helms Patricia Francis Cholakian Jane E Schultz Margaret R Higonnet James Longenbach Laura Stempel Mumford Sharon O'Brien Jane Marcus Sara Friedrichsmeyer Susan Schweik Carol J Adams Esther Fuchs Barbara Freeman Gillian Brown Helen M Cooper Adrienne Auslander Munich and Susan Merrill Squier Treaty Doc. 96-53; Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women, Adopted by the U.N.
