Disciplining the Holocaust Karyn Ball, 2008-10-23 Disciplining the Holocaust examines critics efforts to defend a rigorous and morally appropriate image of the Holocaust Rather than limiting herself to polemics about the proper approach to traumatic history Karyn Ball explores recent trends in intellectual history that govern a contemporary ethics of scholarship about the Holocaust She examines the scholarly reception of Goldhagen s Hitler s Willing Executioners the debates culminating in Eisenman s Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe in Berlin Lyotard s response to negations of testimony about the gas chambers psychoanalytically informed frameworks for the critical study of traumatic history and a conference on feminist approaches to the Holocaust and genocide Ball s book bridges the gap between psychoanalysis and Foucault s understanding of disciplinary power in order to highlight the social implications of traumatic history BOOK JACKET

Speaking Architecture, 2000 Studio Works 5 Harvard University. Graduate School of Design, 1998 This text reflects and documents the spirit and character of the design studios at Harvard s Graduate School of Design through student work and texts dialogues and interviews It includes work from each department architecture landscape architecture and urban planning and design Lessons and Legacies VI Peter Hayes, Jeffrey Diefendorf, Dagmar Herzog, Holocaust Educational Foundation, 1991 In the courtroom and the classroom in popular media public policy and scholarly pursuits the Holocaust its origins its nature and its implications remains very much a matter of interest debate and controversy Arriving at a time when a new generation must come to terms with the legacy of the Holocaust or forever lose the benefit of its historical social and moral lessons this volume offers a richly varied deeply informed perspective on the practice interpretation and direction of Holocaust research now and in the future In their essays the authors an international group including eminent senior scholars as well those who represent the future of the field set the agenda for Holocaust studies in the coming years even as they give readers the means for understanding today s news and views of the Holocaust whether in court cases involving victims and perpetrators international national and corporate developments or fictional documentary and historical accounts Several of the essays such as one on nonarmed amideh or resistance and others on the role of gender in the behavior of perpetrators and victims provide innovative and potentially significant interpretive frameworks for the field of Holocaust studies Others for instance the rounding up of Jews in Italy Nazi food policy in Eastern Europe and Nazi anti Jewish scholarship emphasize the importance of new sources for reconstructing the historical record Still others including essays on the 1964 Frankfurt trial of Auschwitz guards and on the response of the Catholic Church to the question of German guilt bring a new depth and sophistication to highly charged sharply politicized topics Together these essays will inform the future of the Holocaust in scholarly research and in popular understanding Housing + Single-Family Housing Manuel Gausa, Jaime Salazar, 2005-05-12 As cities evolve architects are constantly searching for appropriate architectonic solutions and in this book the authors present a systematic examination of innovative single family houses and residential buildings in the context of presentday cities The latest developments are reviewed in essays and thematic chapters discuss such topics as lowenergy building the use of prefabricated materials or low budget building A range of international examples from architects such as Wiel Arets Shigeru Ban Ben van Berkel Kees Christiaanse Philippe Gazeau Frank O Gehry Steven Holl Hans Kollhoff Morger Degelo MVRDV Jean Nouvel Kas Oosterhuis illustrate the subjects discussed Housing and Single Family Housing were previously published separately each proving hugely popular Now both volumes have been incorporated into a single lowpriced edition

Empathetic Memorials Mark Callaghan,2020-11-12 This book is a study of the Berlin Holocaust Memorial Competitions of the 1990s with a focus on designs that kindle empathetic responses Through analysis of provocative designs the book engages with issues of empathy secondary witnessing and depictions of concentration camp iconography It explores the relationship between empathy and cultural memory when representations of suffering are notably absent The book submits that one design represents the idea of an uncanny memorial and also pays attention to viewer co authorship in counter monuments Analysis of counter monuments also include their creative engagement with German history and their determination to defy fascist aesthetics As the winning design for The Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe is abstract with an information centre there is an exploration of the memorial museum Callaghan asks whether this configuration is intended to compensate for the abstract memorial s ambiguity or to complement the design s visceral potential Other debates explored concern political memory national memory and the controversy of dedicating the memorial exclusively to murdered Jews

Losing Site Dr Shelley Hornstein,2013-06-28 As Ruskin suggests in his Seven Lamps of Architecture We may live without architecture and worship without her but we cannot remember without her We remember best when we experience an event in a place But what happens when we leave that place or that place no longer exists This book addresses the relationship between memory and place and asks how architecture captures and triggers memory It explores how architecture exists as a material object and how it registers as a place that we come to remember beyond the physical site itself It questions what architecture is in the broadest sense assuming that it is not simply buildings Rather architecture is considered to be the mapping of physical mental or emotional space The idea that we are all architects in some measure as we actively organize and select pathways and markers within space is central to this book s premise Each chapter provides a different example of the manifold ways in which the physical place of architecture is curated by the architecture in our mental space our imaginary toolbox when we think of a place and look at a photograph or visit a site and describe it later or send a postcard By connecting architecture with other disciplines such as geography visual culture sociology and urban studies as well as the fine and performing arts this book puts forward the idea that a conversation about architecture is not exclusively about formal isolated buildings but instead must be deepened and broadened as spatialized visualizations and experiences of place

New Architecture and Technology Gyula Sebestyen,Christopher Pollington,2007-06-07 Many books have covered the topics of architecture materials and technology

New Architecture and Technology is the first to explore the interrelation between these three subjects It illustrates the impact of modern technology and materials on architecture The book explores the technical progress of building showing how developments both past and present are influenced by design methods It provides a survey of contemporary architecture as affected by construction technology It also explores aspects of building technology within the context of general industrial social and economic developments The reader will acquire a vocabulary covering the entire range of structure types and learn a new approach to understanding the development of design

Pamphlet Architecture 25: Gravity James Cathcart, Frank Fantauzzi, Terence Van Elslander, 2003-08 For fifteen years three architects James Cathcart Frank Fantauzzi and Terence van Elslander from three different cities have held an ongoing collaboration creating installations and other works of innovation and art about the act of building Pamphlet Architecture 25 Gravity catalogs a cross section of their many works from the portable toilets installed in the facade of New York s StoreFront for Art and Architecture to Big Orbits a giant solid and a giant void constructed from 4600 shipping palettes Although strongly conceptual their work reminds us that a primary function of architecture is to engage the public

The Structural Basis of Architecture Bjørn N. Sandaker, Arne P. Eggen, Mark R. Cruvellier, 2019-03-25 This is a book that shows how to see structures as being integral to architecture It engages a subject that is both about understanding the mechanical aspects of structure as well as being able to relate this to the space form and conceptual design ideas that are inherent to the art of building Analyzing the structural principles behind many of the best known works of architecture from past and present alike this book places the subject within a contemporary context The subject matter is approached in a qualitative and discursive manner illustrated by many photographs and structural behavior diagrams Accessible mathematical equations and worked out examples are also included so as to deepen a fundamental understanding of the topic This new color edition s format has been thoroughly revised and its content updated and expanded throughout It is perfect as either an introductory structures course text or as a designer s sourcebook for inspiration for here two essential questions are addressed in parallel fashion How do structures work and What form do structures take in the context of architecture and why so A rich varied and engaging rationale for structural form in architecture thus emerges

Memories and Representations of War Elena Lamberti, Vita Fortunati, 2009 The contributors to this volume approach the World Wars as complex and intertwined crossroads leading to the definition of a new European reality While assessing the the way the memories of the two World Wars have been readjusted each time in relation to the evolving international historical setting and through various mediators of memory cinema literature art and monuments the various essays contribute to unveil a cultural panorama inhabited by contrasting memories

Model Perspectives: Structure, Architecture and Culture Mark R. Cruvellier, Bjorn N. Sandaker, Luben Dimcheff, 2017-09-25 This book contains a unique collection of various perspectives on the relationship between structures and the forms and spaces of architecture As such it provides students and professionals alike with an essential sourcebook that can be mined for visual inspiration as well as for textually rich and authoritative insight into the links between structure architecture and cultural context The chapters address fundamental structural elements and systems columns walls beams trusses frames tensile structures arches domes and shells Each chapter is subdivided into two parts The essays introduce the chapters with the reprinting of a curated set of essays and excerpts by various authors that uniquely address how particular structural elements or systems relate in essential fashion to architectural design concepts The model studies physical models of the overall structural systems of several notable contemporary buildings from Europe North and South America Africa and Asia are illustrated with large photographs detail close ups and views of their external forms and internal spaces that establish the exceptional qualities of these projects in connecting structural form to architectural design objectives Mosaic layouts complete the chapters with a collection of photographs of yet more models whose particular details and unique features serve to extend the visual repertoire of the structural type being considered The combination juxtaposition and mutual positive reinforcement of these two collections one largely textual and the other image based provides the reader with unique and multifaceted insights into how structural forms and systems can be related to architectural design intentions Conveyed by a strong and deliberate graphical design format this assembly of materials gets to the very essence of structures within the context of architecture and will inspire students and practitioners alike to make strategic design decisions for their own projects

Memorials in Berlin and Buenos Aires Brigitte Sion, 2014-12-01 The Memorial to the Murdered Jews in Berlin inaugurated in 2005 and the Monument to the Victims of State Terrorism within the Memory Park Parque de la Memoria in Buenos Aires partially unveiled in 2007 have been controversial from start to finish While these sites differ in many respects Germany and Argentina share a history of dictatorial regimes that murdered civilians on a massive scale The Nazis implemented the genocide of millions of Jews and other minorities during World War II In Argentina the junta led state repression was responsible for the disappearance and subsequent murder of thousands of civilians between 1976 and 1983 Decades later new governments in Germany and Argentina acknowledged the responsibility of their respective states for these mass murders by memorializing the victims with a national monument in the capital city for the first time This study of two memorials develops a model and method for analyzing the memorialization of recent tragedies that share several basic characteristics the state creates a self indicting national memorial to the victims of state sponsored mass murder in the absence of their bodies Analyzed as sites of conflicting performances and as performances themselves these memorials illuminate the ways in which people engage with them and how an architecture of absence triggers embodied memory through somatic experience While death tourism and architourism are a key to their success in attracting visitors they also pose a threat to their commemorative role Besides assessing the success and failure of these memorials Sion explores the ways in which these sites are paradigmatic and offers a model for analyzing a transnational circuit of commemorative practices

Urban Planning and Cultural Identity William Neill, 2003-10-23 Urban Planning and Cultural Identity reviews

the intense spatiality of conflict over identity construction in three cities where culture and place identity are not just post modernist playthings but touch on the raw sensibilities of who people define themselves to be Berlin as the reborn German capital has put coming to terms with the Holocaust and the memory of the GDR full square at the centre of urban planning Detroit raises questions about the impotence and complicity of planners in the face of the most extreme metropolitan spatial apartheid in the United States and where African American identity now seems set on a separatist course In Belfast in the clash of Irish nationalist and Ulster unionist traditions place can take on intense emotional meanings in relation to which planners as mediators of space can seem ill equipped The book drawing on extensive interview sources in the case study cities poses a question of broad relevance Can planners fashion a role in using environmental concerns such as Local Agenda 21 as a vehicle of building a sense of common citizenship in which cultural difference can embed itself

The Pan Am Building and the Shattering of the Modernist Dream Meredith L. Clausen, 2005 How a building and the reaction to it signaled the end of an era the transformation of architectural practice in the context of New York City culture and politics Philip Johnson and His Mischief Christian Bjorne, The Images Publishing Group, 2014-04-04 In the world of modern art the idea of appropriation or the conscious manipulation of the recognised world of another artist has long been accepted as a legitimate strategy in criticism of the tradition of art authorship challenging the context of viewing contemporary work and the manipulation of omnipresent media images The world of art itself is fair game to be pillaged or mined in the production of new art but there is almost no recognised equivalent aesthetic in architecture Philip Johnson consistently dealt with the concept of appropriation and used it as a design strategy from the very beginning of his illustrious career A singular taste maker Philip Johnson influenced art architecture and design during the second half of the 20th century Philip Johnson and His Mischief Appropriation in Art and Architecture looks at the concept of appropriation and how Johnson's style was influenced first by his mentor Mies van der Rohe and then by post modern ideas and artists This title serves to review Johnson's body of work and show that far from being a weakness his use of appropriation was a major part of his innovative success

Jews, Turks, and Other Strangers Jerome S. Legge, 2003-11-01 Scholarly objective insightful and analytical Jews Turks and Other Strangers studies the causes of prejudice against Jews foreign workers refugees and emigrant Germans in contemporary Germany Using survey material and quantitative analyses Legge convincingly challenges the notion that German xenophobia is rooted in economic causes Instead he sees a more complex foundation for German prejudice particularly in a reunified Germany where perceptions of the other sometimes vary widely between east and west a product of a traditional racism rooted in the German past By clarifying the foundations of xenophobia in a new German state Legge offers a clear and disturbing picture of a conflicted country and a prejudice that not only affects Jews but also fuels a larger anti foreign sentiment

Unplanned Visitors Olivier Vallerand, 2022-03-30 Sexuality and gender have long been influential in understanding the construction of domestic space its meanings often revealing a binary division of private and public female and male By reconstructing the foundation of queer critiques of space and by analyzing the representation of domesticity in contemporary art and architecture Unplanned Visitors shows the blurring of private and public that can occur in any domestic space and explores the potential of queer theory for understanding and designing the built environment Olivier Vallerand investigates how queer critiques building on pioneering feminist work question the relation between identity and architecture and highlight normative constructs underlying domestic spaces He draws out a genealogy of queer space in theoretical discourse in architecture studying projects by Mark Robbins Joel Sanders J Mayer H Elmgreen Dragset Andr s Jaque and MYCKET among others These works blur the traditional borders between architecture and art to emphasize the tensions between private and public and their impact on assumptions about domestic space and family structure The challenges in moving from experimental installations to built environments suggest how designers must acknowledge and respond to the social contexts that shape architecture rethinking how domestic spaces can be designed to allow everyone to better manage the expression of their self identification through their living environments Unplanned Visitors poses a challenge to traditional architectural theory and history but also suggests a renewed and more inclusive ethics whereby designers explicitly address social and political power structures The potential of a queer approach to architectural design history theory and education is precisely to enact a method that creates more inclusive buildings and safer neighbourhoods for everyone

Holocaust Monuments and National Memory Peter Carrier,2006-09-01 Since 1989 two sites of memory with respect to the deportation and persecution of Jews in France and Germany during the Second World War have received intense public attention the V lo d Hiver Winter Velodrome in Paris and the Monument for the Murdered Jews of Europe or Holocaust Monument in Berlin Why is this so Both monuments the author argues are unique in the history of memorial projects Although they are genuine sites of memory neither monument celebrates history but rather serve as platforms for the deliberation negotiation and promotion of social consensus over the memorial status of war crimes in France and Germany The debates over these monuments indicate that it is the communication among members of the public via the mass media rather than qualities inherent in the sites themselves which transformed these sites into symbols beyond traditional conceptions of heritage and patriotism Holocaust Monuments and National Memory Cultures in France and Germany Since 1989 Peter Carrier,2005 Since 1989 two sites of memory with respect to the deportation and persecution of Jews in France and Germany have received intense public attention the Ve d Hiv in Paris and the Monument for the Murdered Jews of Europe in Berlin Why is this so Both monuments the author argues are unique in the history of memorial projects
