The Contested Floodplain Tobias Haller,2013 The Contested Floodplain tells the story of institutional changes in the management of common pool resources pasture wildlife and fisheries among Ila and Balundwe agro pastoralists and Batwa fishermen in the Kafue Flats in southern Zambia It explains how and why a once rich floodplain area managed under local common property regimes becomes a poor man s place and a degraded resource area Based on social anthropological field research the book explains how well working institutions in the past regulating communal access to resources have turned into state property and open access or privatization As a basis for analysis the author uses Elinor Ostrom s design principles for well working institutions and the approach of the New Institutionalism by Jean Ensminger The latter approach focuses on external factors and change in relative prices It explains how local actors face changing bargaining power and use different ideologies to legitimize and shape resource use regulations The study focuses on the historic developments taking place since pre colonial and colonial times up to today Haller shows how the commons had been well regulated by local institutions in the past often embedded in religious belief systems He then explains the transformation from common property to state property since colonial times When the state is unable to provide well functioning institutions due to a lack in financial income it contributes to de facto open access and degradation of the commons The Zambian copper based economy has faced crisis since 1975 and many Zambians have to look for economic alternatives and find ways to profit from the lack of state control a paradox of the present absent state And while the state is absent external actors use the ideology of citizenship to justify free use of resources during conflicts with local people Also within Zambian communities floodplain resources are highly contested which is illustrated through conflicts over a proposed irrigation scheme in the area The different actors and interest groups use ideologies such as citizenship vs being indigenous ethnic identity vs class conflict and modernity vs traditional way of life to legitimize land claims Kaleidoscope Skills, Book One ,2004 E.
