Magical Dead:

Virtual War and Magical Death Neil L. Whitehead, Sverker Finnström, 2013-04-19 Virtual War and Magical Death is a provocative examination of the relations between anthropology and contemporary global war. Several arguments unite the collected essays which are based on ethnographic research in varied locations including Guatemala, Uganda and Tanzania as well as Afghanistan, Pakistan, Iraq and the United States. Foremost is the contention that modern high tech warfare as it is practiced and represented by the military, the media and civilians is analogous to rituals of magic and sorcery. Technologies of virtual warfare such as high altitude bombing, remote drone attacks, night vision goggles and even music videos and computer games that simulate battle reproduce the imaginative worlds and subjective experiences of witchcraft magic and assault sorcery long studied by cultural anthropologists. Another significant focus of the collection is the U.S. military's exploitation of ethnographic research particularly through its controversial Human Terrain Systems (HTS) Program which embeds anthropologists as cultural experts in military units. Several pieces address the ethical dilemmas that HTS and other counterinsurgency projects pose for anthropologists. Other essays reveal the relatively small scale of those programs in relation to the military's broader use of and ambitions for social scientific data. Walsh, 2013-07-25 If I could have or do any three things in the world what would they be? This is the simple question that Patrick Hamilton Walsh asked himself at the age of 16. The answer to this question would lead him to living the life of his dreams. Life is details in an open and honest manner the goals that Patrick set for himself as a 16 year old and the mindset that he had to develop in order to achieve these goals. Upon the fulfilment of those early goals Patrick set his sights on ever greater goals such as Travelling overland from London to Sydney, Breaking a Guinness World Record for a good cause, Owning a Porsche before age 30, Swimming off the coast of every continent, Attending dinner with the President. In Life is Patrick details how he achieved his goals, gives an insight into each experience and details what he plans to do in the future. The final section of the book contains a surprising twist that everyone in this rat race world will relate to. This is a book for anyone that carries unfulfilled potential or has a dream yet to be fulfilled. Ultimately this is a book for anyone that has the desire to do more.
