Magnum Fifty Years At The Front Line Of History:

Magnum Russell Miller, 1998 The photographers of Magnum have been on hand at the defining moments of the twentieth century From Robert Capa's moment of death photograph of a Loyalist soldier during the Spanish Civil War to Eve Arnold's astonishingly intimate portraits of celebrities such as Joan Crawford and Malcolm X the images captured by members of Magnum have changed how we perceive war our political leaders social crises and the communities next door Magnum's photographers including Capa Arnold David Seymour George Rodger Henri Cartier Bresson Bruce Davidson Mary Ellen Mark Susan Meiselas Inge Morath James Nachtwey Eugene Richards and Sebastiao Salgado are some of the most talented brave and resourceful in the world and Magnum follows them around the world through picaresque adventures and into the risk filled trenches of several wars in search of the perfect shot A dramatic portrait of the world's greatest photo house and its times Magnum is an essential volume for anyone interested in photography history or photojournalism Book jacket Liquid Criminology Michael Hviid Jacobsen, Sandra Walklate, 2016-06-17 This book explores the ways in which criminological methods can be imaginatively deployed and developed in a world increasingly characterized by the blurred nature of social reality Whilst recognizing the importance of positivist approaches and research techniques it advocates a commitment to understanding the ways in which those techniques can be used imaginatively at times in combination with less conventional methods discussing the questions concerning risk ethics and access that arise as a result Giving voice to cutting edge research practices both in terms of concepts and methods that shift the criminological focus towards the kind of imaginative work that comprised the foundations of the discipline it calls into question the utility and credentials of mainstream work that fails to serve the discipline itself or the policy questions allied to it A call not to give up on numbers but also not to be defined by statistics and the methods that produce them Liquid Criminology sheds light on a way of doing research for criminology that is not only creative but also critical As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology criminology and social policy with interests in research methods and design Culture and Customs of France W. Scott Haine Ph.D., 2006-10-30 The French are of perennial interest for among other things their style their cuisine and wine and their cultural output Culture and Customs of France is a thoroughly jam packed narrative through the glories that France continues to offer the world The volume is a boon for preparing country reports a must read for travelers and perfect for culture studies Chapters on the land people and history religion social customs gender family and marriage cinema and media literature food and fashion architecture and art and performing arts are current and pleasurable to read David 'Chim' Seymour Carole Naggar, 2022-06-21 He used his camera like a doctor would use a stethoscope in order to diagnose the state of the heart His own was vulnerable Cartier Bresson wrote about David Seymour who liked to be called Chim Chim is best known as one of the cofounders of photojournalism's famous cooperative Magnum Photos Weaving Chim's life and work this book discovers this empathetic photographer who has been called The First Human Rights Photographer In 1947 Chim was one of the four cofounders of the Magnum Photos cooperative with Robert Capa Henri Cartier Bresson and George Rodger He also wrote Magnum's 1955 bylaws which are still in effect today But he is the only one of those famous photographers who does not have a full biography to his name This book examines his life and work from Poland to France to the Spanish Civil War his work for British intelligence during World War II his reportage on Europe's children after the war his reportages on Italian actors illiteracy and religious festivals in Southern Italy his coverage of Israel's beginnings before his 1956 death during the Suez war His complex itinerary is emblematic of the displacements and passages of the XXth century

Counterfactualism in the Fine Arts Elke Reinhuber, 2022-10-14 Counterfactual thinking has become an established method to evaluate decisions in a range of disciplines including history psychology and literature Elke Reinhuber argues it also has valuable applications in the fine arts and popular media A fascination with the path not taken is a logical consequence of a world saturated with choices Art which provokes and explores these tendencies can help to recognise and contextualise the impulse to avoid or endlessly revisit individual or collective decisions Reinhuber describes the term in broad strokes through the disciplines to show how counterfactualism finds shape in contemporary art forms especially in photography film and immersive and interactive media art such as 360 content virtual reality and augmented reality She analyses the different stages of counterfactuals with examples where artists experience counterfactual thoughts in the process of art production explore these thoughts in their artwork and where the artwork itself evokes counterfactual thoughts in the audience A fascinating exploration for scholars and students of art media and the humanities and anybody else with an interest in choices the art of decisionmaking and counterfactualism In/Visibility of Flight Monika

Mokre, Maria Six-Hohenbalken, 2024-03-04 In Visibility is unequally distributed in society and closely related to the distribution of power and privilege Using images and narratives to mobilize is part of political strategies The relationship of in visibility and migration is the guiding question for this edited volume The chapters discuss multidisciplinary perspectives and factors that contribute to the visibility of forced migration beyond a policy centered discourse They focus on the voices and agency of refugees in different countries and contexts By including research practical experiences and artistic methods the volume will be of interest to readers from different academic disciplines and the arts as well as to practitioners quotations comprehensively indexed for ready reference Lord Byron may have taken the view I think it great affectation not to quote oneself but for the less self centred the Oxford Dictionary of Quotations provides a quote for every occasion from the greatest minds of history and from undistinguished characters known only for one happy line Drawing on Oxford's unrivalled dictionary research programme and unique language monitoring over 700 new quotations have been added to this eighth edition from authors ranging from St Joan of Arc and Coco Chanel to Albrecht Dürer and Thomas Jefferson New sayings from across the ages include It would not be better if things happened to men just as they wish the classical writer Heraclitus Fight on and God will give the Victory the suffragette Emily Wilding Davison and The future is already here it's just not evenly distributed the writer William Gibson

Drift Jeff Ferrell, 2018-03-16 This book was written late in the North American night with the rumbling thuds and booming train horns of the nearby rail yard echoing through my windows reminding me of the train hoppers and gutter punks out there rolling through the darkness In Drift Jeff Ferrell shows how dislocation and disorientation can become phenomena in their own right Examining the history of drifting he situates contemporary drift within today's economic legal and cultural dynamics He also highlights a distinctly North American form of drift that of the train hopping hobo by tracing the hobo's legal and political history and by detailing his own immersion in the world of contemporary train hoppers Along the way Ferrell sheds light on the ephemeral intensity of drifting communities and explores the contested politics of drift the strategies that legal authorities employ to control drifters in the interest of economic development the social and spatial dislocations that these strategies ironically exacerbate and the ways in which drifters create their own slippery forms of resistance Ferrell concludes that drift constitutes a necessary subject of social inquiry and a way of revitalizing social inquiry itself offering as it does new models for knowing and engaging with the contemporary world

Routledge International Handbook of Visual Criminology Michelle Brown, Eamonn Carrabine, 2017-07-06 Dynamically written and richly illustrated the Routledge International Handbook of Visual Criminology offers the first foundational primer on visual criminology Spanning a variety of media and visual modes this volume assembles established researchers whose work is essential to understanding the role of the visual in criminology and emergent thinkers whose work is taking visual criminology in new directions This book is divided into five parts that each highlight a key aspect of visual criminology exploring the diversity of methods techniques and theoretical approaches currently shaping the field Part I introduces formative positions in the developments of visual criminology and explores the different disciplines that have contributed to analysing images Part II explores visual representations of crime across film graphic art documentary police photography press coverage and graffiti and urban aesthetics Part III discusses the relationship of visual criminology to criminal justice institutions like policing punishment and law Part IV focuses on the distinctive ethical problems posed by the image reflecting on the historical development theoretical disputes and methodological issues involved Part V identifies new frameworks and emergent perspectives and reflects upon the distinctive challenges and limits that can be seen in this emerging field This book includes a vibrant colour plate section and over a hundred black and white images breaking down the barriers between original photography and artwork historic paintings and illustrations and modern comics and films This interdisciplinary book will be of interest to criminologists sociologists visual ethnographers art historians and those engaged with media studies Oxford Treasury of Sayings and Quotations Susan Ratcliffe,2011-10-13 Contains quotations proverbs and phrases from throughout history and around the world grouped by topic in over four hundred alphabetically arranged categories from Ability to Youth Includes a list of themes and a keyword index Oxford Dictionary of Modern Quotations Elizabeth Knowles,2007-08-23 Containing more than 5 000 quotations from authors as diverse as Bertolt Brecht George W Bush Homer Simpson Carl Sagan William Shatner and Desmond Tutu the dictionary is organized alphabetically by author with generous cross referencing and keyword and thematic indexes This new edition features more than 500 new quotations and 187 new authors The book includes special sections featuring quotations from cartoons films political slogans famous last words misquotations official advice newspaper headlines and more Framing Crime Keith Hayward,the late Mike Presdee,2010-07-02 In a world in which media images of crime and deviance proliferate where every facet of offending is reflected in a vast hall of mirrors Framing Crime Cultural Criminology and the Image makes sense of the increasingly blurred line between the real and the virtual Images of crime and crime control have become almost as real as crime and criminal justice itself The meaning of both crime and crime control now resides not solely in the essential and essentially false factuality of crime rates or arrest records but also in the contested processes of symbolic display cultural interpretation and representational negotiation It is essential then that criminologists are closely attuned to the various ways in which crime is imagined constructed and framed within modern society Framing Crime responds to this demand with a collection of papers aimed at helping the reader to understand the ways in which the contemporary story of crime is constructed and promulgated through the image It also provides the relevant analytical and research tools to unearth the hidden social and ideological concerns that frequently underpin images of crime violence and transgression Framing Crime will be of interest to students and academics in the fields of criminology crime and the media and sociology The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield,2011-05-27 In The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield challenges the idea that photographs of political violence exploit their subjects and pander to the voyeuristic tendencies of their viewers Instead she argues passionately that looking at such images and learning to see the people in them is an ethically and politically necessary act that connects us to our modern history of violence and probes the human capacity for cruelty Grappling with critics from Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht to Susan Sontag and the postmoderns and analyzing photographs from such events as the Holocaust China s Cultural Revolution and recent terrorist acts Linfield explores the complex connection between photojournalism and the rise of human rights ideals In the book s concluding section she examines the indispensable work of Robert Capa James Nachtwey and Gilles Peress and asks how photography should respond to the increasingly nihilistic trajectory of modern warfare A bracing and unsettling book The Cruel Radiance convincingly demonstrates that if we hope to alleviate political violence we must first truly understand it and to do that we must begin to look

U.S. Foreign Policy and the Other Michael Patrick Cullinane, David Ryan, 2014-11-01 John Quincy Adams warned Americans not to search abroad for monsters to destroy yet such figures have frequently habituated the discourses of U S foreign policy This collection of essays focuses on counter identities in American consciousness to explain how foreign policies and the discourse surrounding them develop Whether it is the seemingly ubiquitous evil of Hitler during World War II or the more complicated perceptions of communism throughout the Cold War these essays illuminate the cultural contexts that constructed rival identities The authors challenge our understanding of others looking at early applications of the concept in the eighteenth century to recent twenty first century conflicts establishing how this phenomenon is central to decision making through centuries of conflict

Philosophy, Crime, and Criminology Bruce A. Arrigo, Christopher R. Williams, 2010-10-01 Philosophy Crime and Criminology represents the first systematic attempt to unpack the philosophical foundations of crime in Western culture Utilizing the insights of ontology epistemology aesthetics and ethics contributors demonstrate how the reality of crime is informed by a number of implicit assumptions about the human condition and unstated values about civil society Charting a provocative and original direction editors Bruce A Arrigo and Christopher R Williams couple theoretically oriented chapters with those centered on application and case study In doing so they develop an insightful sensible and accessible approach for a philosophical criminology in step with the political and economic challenges of the twenty first century Revealing the ways in which philosophical conceits inform prevailing conceptions of crime Philosophy Crime and Criminology is required reading for any serious student or scholar concerned with crime and its impact on society and in our lives

Rituals of Mediation François Debrix, Cynthia Weber, 2003 A timely consideration of the meaning of transnational cultural interactions today In an era of increasing globalization the cultural and the international have borders as permeable as most nations and an understanding of one requires making sense of the other Foregrounding the role of mediation understood here as a site of representation transformation and pluralization the authors engage two specific questions How might we make theoretical and practical sense of transnational cultural interactions And how are we to understand the ways in which the sites of mediation represent transform and remediate internationals Accordingly the authors consider international issues like security development political activism and the war against terrorism through the lens of cultural practices such as traveling through airports exhibiting art and photography logging on to the Internet and spinning news stories

Killing for Show Julian Stallabrass, 2020-10-30 See firsthand how war photography is used to sway public opinion In the autumn of 2014 the Royal Air Force released blurry video of a missile blowing up a pickup truck which may have had a weapon attached to its flatbed This was a lethal form of gesture politics to send a 9 million bomber from Cyprus to Iraq and back burning 35 000 an hour in fuel to launch a smart missile costing 100

000 to destroy a truck or rather to create a video that shows it being destroyed Some lives are ended it is impossible to tell whose so that the government can pretend that it taking effective action by creating a high budget snuff movie This is killing for show Since the Vietnam War the way we see conflict through film photographs and pixels has had a powerful impact on the political fortunes of the campaign and the way that war has been conducted In this fully illustrated and passionately argued account of war imagery Julian Stallabrass tells the story of post war conflict how it was recorded and remembered through its iconic photography The relationship between war and photograph is constantly in transition forming new perspectives provoking new challenges what is allowed to be seen Does an image have the power to change political opinion How are images used to wage war Stallabrass shows how photographs have become a vital weapon in the modern war as propaganda from close quarters fighting to the drone s electronic vision as well as a witness to the barbarity of events such as the My Lai massacre the violent suppression of insurgent Fallujah or the atrocities in Abu Ghraib Through these accounts Stallabrass maps a comprehensive theoretical re evaluation of the relationship between war politics and visual culture Killing for Show offers 190 photographs encompassing photojournalism artists images photographs by soldiers and amateurs and dronesA comprehensive comparison of the role of photography in the Vietnam and Iraq WarsAn explanation of the waning power of iconic images in collective memoryAn analysis of the failure of military PR and the public display of killingA focus on what can and cannot be seen photographed and publishedAn exploration of the power and limits of amateur photographyArguments about how violent images act on democracy This full color book is an essential volume in the history of warfare and photography

Blood and Champagne Alex Kershaw,2003-07-25 Friend of Hemingway John Huston and lover of beautiful women Capa lived a life that was equal parts glamour and danger He was the best of combat photographers yet no one knew that Capa was not his real name and that his greatest artistic achievement may well have been himself Two 8 page photo inserts

Aesthetics and the Revolutionary City James Clifford Kent,2018-09-22 Aesthetics and the Revolutionary City engages in alternative ways of reading foreign visual representations of Havana through analysis of advertising images documentary films and photographic texts It explores key narratives relating to the projection of different Havana imaginaries and focuses on a range of themes including pre revolutionary Cuba the dream of revolution and the metaphor of the city frozen in time The book also synthesizes contemporary debates regarding the notion of Havana as a real and imagined city space and fleshes out its theoretical insights with a series of stand alone important case studies linked to the representation of the Cuban capital in the Western imaginary The interpretations in the book bring into focus a range of critical historical moments in Cuban history including the Cuban Revolution and the Special Period and consider the ways in which they have been projected in advertising documentary film and photography outside the island
