much to appreciate about that Booklist There is an eerie precision to her work like the delicate discernment of a brain surgeon's scalpel that renders each moment in both its absolute clarity and ultimate transitory fragility Rita Dove In her first full collection in a decade Olena Kalytiak Davis revivifies language and makes love offerings to her beloved reader With a heightened post-confessional directness she addresses lost love sexual violence and the confrontations of aging In her characteristic syntactical play sly slips of meaning and all-out feminism Davis hyperconsciously erases the rulebook in this memorable collection From The Poem She Didn't Write began when she stopped began in winter and like everything else at first just waited for spring in spring noticed there were lilac branches but no desire no need to talk to any angel to say sky dooryard _____ when summer arrived there was more but not much nothing really worth noting and then it was winter again nothing had changed sky dooryard _____ white frozen was the lake and the lagoon some froze the ocean now you erase that you cross that out and so on and so forth Olena Kalytiak Davis is a first-generation Ukrainian American who was born and raised in Detroit Michigan Educated at Wayne State University the University of Michigan Law School and Vermont College she is the author of three books of poetry She currently works as a lawyer in Anchorage Alaska The Columbia Guide to East African Literature in English Since 1945 Simon Gikandi, Evan Mwangi, 2007 The Columbia Guide to East African Literature in English Since 1945 challenges the conventional belief that the English language literary traditions of East Africa are restricted to the former British colonies of Kenya Uganda and Tanzania Instead these traditions stretch far into such neighboring countries as Somalia and Ethiopia Simon Gikandi and Evan Mwangi assemble a truly inclusive list of major writers and trends They begin with a chronology of key historical events and an overview of the emergence and transformation of literary culture in the region Then they provide an alphabetical list of major writers and brief descriptions of their concerns and achievements Some of the writers discussed include the Kenyan novelists Grace Ogot and Ngugi wa Thiong'o Ugandan poet and essayist Taban Lo Liyong Ethiopian playwright and poet Tsegaye Gabre Medhin Tanzanian novelist and diplomat Peter Palangyo Ethiopian novelist Berhane Mariam Sahle Sellassie and the novelist M G Vassanji who portrays the Indian diaspora in Africa Europe and North America Separate entries within this list describe thematic concerns such as colonialism decolonization the black aesthetic and the language question the growth of genres like autobiography and popular literature important movements like cultural nationalism and feminism and the impact of major forces such as AIDS HIV Christian missions and urbanization Comprehensive and richly detailed this guide offers a fresh perspective on the role of East Africa in the development of African and world literature in English and a new understanding of the historical cultural and geopolitical boundaries of the region Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1884 Unity, 1885 Black World/Negro Digest, 1971-12 Founded in 1943 Negro Digest later Black World was the publication that launched Johnson Publishing During the most turbulent years of the civil rights movement Negro Digest Black World served as a critical vehicle for political thought for supporters of the movement The Listener, 1929 The Independent

Sung Birds Elizabeth Eva Leach traces postmedieval uses of birdsong within Western musical culture She first explains why such melodious sound was not music for medieval thinkers and then goes on to consider the ontology of music the significance of comparisons between singers and birds and the relationship between art and nature as enacted by the musical performance of late medieval poetry If birdsong was not music how should we interpret the musical depiction of birdsong in human music making What does it tell us about the singers their listeners and the moral status of secular polyphony Why was it the fourteenth century that saw the beginnings of this practice continued to this day in the music of Messiaen and others Leach explores medieval arguments about song language and rationality whose basic terms survive undiminished into the present She considers not only lyrics that have their singers voice the songs or speech of birds but also those that represent other natural nonmusical sounds such as human cries or the barks of dogs The dangerous sweetness of birdsong was invoked in discussions of musical ethics which because of the potential slippage between irrational beast and less rational woman in comparisons with rational human masculinity depict women s singing as less than fully human Leach s argument comes full circle with the advent of sound recording This technological revolution like its medieval equivalent the invention of the music book once again made the relationship between music and nature an acute preoccupation of Western culture
