only a fresh treatment of strategy and ethics but also to engage with a variety of potential audiences He provokes and informs in equal measure Richard Whipp Cardiff University A truly eclectic approach to strategy Intellectually capturing the book is great fun to read at the same time A must for those who want to discuss management beyond styles fads and fashions Hubert Wagner Qonsult ReCreating Strategy is written for students of strategy change management and more general management and organization theory courses It will provide a better understanding of how to bring together and apply the many analytical frameworks relating to the organization as a whole Stephen Cummings challenges the view that there is never one best framework and shows why the latest theory is not necessarily better than earlier ones The textbook includes short and long case studies interesting pictorial aids and examples and a generally more participative and rewarding approach than that offered by more mainstream texts PowerPoint slides to accompany the book are now also available by clicking on the link to Sample Chapters and Resources in the left hand margin The book also offers more scope for individual lecturers who wish to encourage students to question assumptions and think creatively about strategy and management

Photography and Italy Maria Antonella Pelizzari, 2010-11-15 In this beautifully illustrated book Maria Antonella Pelizzari traces the history of photography in Italy from its beginnings to the present as she guides us through the history of Italy and its ancient sites and Renaissance landmarks Pelizzari specifically considers the role of photography in the formation of Italian national identity during times of political struggle such as the lead up to Unification in 1860 and later in the nationalist wars of Mussolini's regime While many Italians and foreigners such as Fratelli Alinari or Carlo Ponti John Ruskin or Kit Talbot focused their lenses on architectural masterpieces others documented the changing times and political heroes creating icons of figures such as Garibaldi and the brigands Pelizzari's exploration of Italian visual traditions also includes the photographic collages of Bruno Munari the neorealist work of photographers such as Franco Pinna the bold stylized compositions of Mario Giacomelli and the controversial images created by Oliviero Toscani for Benetton advertising in the 1980s Featuring unpublished works and a rare selection of over one hundred images this book will appeal to art collectors and students of art history and Italian culture The Architects' Journal, 1993 Victorian and Edwardian Responses to the Italian

Renaissance John E. Law, Lene Østermark-Johansen, 2017-03-02 The historiography of the Italian Renaissance has been much studied but generally in the context of a few key figures Much less appreciated is the extent of the enthusiasm for the subject in the 19th and early 20th centuries when the subject was discovered by travellers and men and women of letters historians artists architects and photographers and by collectors on both sides of the Atlantic The essays in Victorian and Edwardian Responses to the Italian Renaissance explore the breadth of the responses stimulated by the encounter between the British the Americans and the Italians of the Renaissance The volume approaches the subject from an interdisciplinary perspective While recognising the abiding importance of the familiar great names it seeks to draw attention to a wider cast of people many of whom led colourful energetic lives knew Italy well and wrote eloquently about the country and its

Renaissance Several essays show that Renaissance studies became a field in which female historians could explore areas of relevance to the New Woman Other chapters examine the aims and politics of collecting and the place of the collector in literature and in the rediscovery of Renaissance artists The contribution of teachers and other less formal champions of the Italian Renaissance is explored as is the role of photographers who re framed and re viewed Florence the Renaissance city for Victorian and later eyes

Behind the Scenes at the Science Museum Sharon Macdonald, 2020-05-21 What goes on behind closed doors at museums How are decisions about exhibitions made and who or what really makes them Why are certain objects and styles of display chosen whilst others are rejected and what factors influence how museum exhibitions are produced and experienced This book answers these searching questions by giving a privileged look behind the scenes at the Science Museum in London By tracking the history of a particular exhibition Macdonald takes the reader into the world of the museum curator and shows in vivid detail how exhibitions are created and how public culture is produced She reveals why exhibitions do not always reflect their makers original intentions and why visitors take home particular interpretations Beyond this local context however the book also provides broad and far reaching insights into how national and global political shifts influence the creation of public knowledge through exhibitions
