Making a Difference: Volume I and II Sasha A. Barab, Kenneth E. Hay, Nancy Butler Songer, Daniel T. Hickey, 2017-09-05 William Wordsworth 1770 1850 needs little introduction as the central figure in Romantic poetry and a crucial influence in the development of poetry generally This broad ranging survey redefines the variety of his writing by showing how it incorporates contemporary concepts of language difference and the ways in which popular and serious literature were compared and distinguished during this period It discusses many of Wordsworth s later poems comparing his work with that of his regional contemporaries as well as major writers such as Scott The key theme of relationship both between characters within poems and between poet and reader is explored through Wordsworth s construction of community and his use of power relationships A serious discussion of the place of sexual feeling in his writing is also included

Mentoring in STEM Through a Female Identity Lens: Heroes Make a Difference for Women Cecilia (Ceal) D. Craig, 2024-09-24 With the stagnant low percentages of women in STEM careers identifying practices to satisfy the growing need for professionals in those fields is critical to improve recruitment and retention Supportive relationships like mentors and sponsors have been shown to both inspire women to pursue those careers and to help them succeed in them This book explores how developing supportive connections helps students faculty and teachers see STEM professions as being a place for women to grow and succeed Early chapters provide essential mentor characteristics and explore engineering education gender inequity from a teacher's perspective of stereotypes stereotype threat and bias offering culturally relevant teacher mentoring approaches to promote equitable pre college engineering education Middle chapters describe K 12 mentoring programs mentorship initiatives empowering young South African Women and girls to advance to mathematical related careers programs methods and activities to achieve the desired goal of making young students aspire to become scientists and engagement year round in grades 9 12 combined with 40 years of iterative evaluation created a finely honed enrichment program for low income Black women in urban public high schools A longitudinal undergraduate mentoring program for mentoring early college students in Louisiana provides further insights in that section The final four chapter section describes mentoring programs for professors and teachers reciprocal mentor relationships and role shifting within an informal peer mentoring group differences between mentoring relationships and sponsoring relationships within academia the impact of culturally responsive mentorship CRM on the development and expression of a pre service teacher's woman of science identity and a program that aims to recruit and retain STEM pre service teachers and STEM teachers of color With several longitudinal mentoring programs several programs for women of color this book fills a gap to help grow the numbers of women in STEM

A Pocket Guide to Risk Mathematics Matthew Leitch, 2010-09-07 This uniquely accessible breakthrough book lets auditors grasp the thinking behind the mathematical approach to risk without doing the mathematics Risk control expert and former Big 4 auditor Matthew Leitch takes the reader gently but quickly through the key concepts explaining mistakes organizations often make and how auditors can find them Spend a few minutes every day reading this conveniently pocket sized book and you will soon transform your understanding of this highly topical area and be in demand for interesting reviews with risk at their heart I was really excited by this book and I am not a mathematician With my basic understanding of business statistics and business risk management I was able to follow the arguments easily and pick up the jargon of a discipline akin to my own but not my own Dr Sarah Blackburn President at the Institute of Internal Auditors UK and Ireland

Can Emerging Technologies

Make a Difference in Development? Rachel A. Parker, Richard P. Appelbaum, 2013-02-28 In this innovative and entirely original text which has been thoughtfully edited to ensure coherence and readability across disciplines scientists and practitioners from around the world provide evidence of the opportunities for and the challenges of developing collaborative approaches to bringing advanced and emerging technology to poor communities in developing countries in a responsible and sustainable manner This volume will stimulate and satisfy readers seeking to engage in a rich and challenging discussion integrating many strands of social thought and physical science For those also seeking to creatively engage in the great challenges of our times for the benefit of struggling farmers sick children and people literally living in the dark around the world may this volume also spark imagination inspire commitment and provoke collaborative problem solving Making a Difference for Students at Risk Margaret C. Wang, Maynard C. Reynolds, 1994-11-14 The contributors to this forward looking book examine the various programmes and approaches which have been implemented in inner city schools in the United States to address the special needs of disadvantaged non English speaking gifted and dropout students The book suggests that the primary reason such programmes have been largely unsuccessful is that they have not been properly coordinated Making a Difference for Students at Risk offers thoughtful practical suggestions for new approaches aimed at not only reforming but transforming urban schools in order to achieve the inclusion of all students into general school programmes

Adopting the Song of Phrase: An Emotional Symphony within Making A Difference For Students At Risk

In a global used by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of immediate connection, the melodic beauty and mental symphony created by the written term frequently diminish into the background, eclipsed by the constant noise and distractions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, situated within the pages of Making A Difference For Students At Risk a wonderful literary prize filled with raw thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a wonderful musician of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts readers on a mental trip, well unraveling the concealed songs and profound impact resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the emotional examination, we can explore the book's main harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing model, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers' souls.
