Allsbrook Jr., 2023-06-23 The banjo has been emblematic of the Southern Appalachian Mountains since the late twentieth century Making Music The Banjo in a Southern Appalachian County takes a close look at the instrument and banjo players in Haywood County North Carolina Author William C Allsbrook Jr MD presents the oral histories of thirty two banjo players all but two of whom were born in Haywood County These talented musicians recount in their own words their earliest memories of music and of the banjo as well as the appeal of the banjo They also discuss learning to play the instrument including what it feels like playing the banjo many describing occasional flow states In the book Allsbrook explores an in home musical folkway that developed along the colonial frontier By the mid 1800s frontier expansion had ceased in Haywood County due to geographic barriers but the in home musical tradition including the banjo survived in largely isolated areas Vestiges of that tradition remain to this day although the region has undergone significant changes over the lifetimes of the musicians interviewed As a result the survival of the in home tradition is not guaranteed Readers are invited into the private lives of the banjo players and asked to consider the future of the banjo in the face of contemporary trends The future will be shaped by how this remarkable mountain culture continues to adapt to these challenges Still this thriving community of banjo players represents the vibrant legacy of the banjo in Haywood County and the persistence of tradition in the twenty first century
