Digital Service Delivery in

Africa Ogechi Adeola, Jude N. Edeh, Robert E. Hinson, Fulufhelo Netswera, 2022-02-07 The dynamics of the world's pervasive digital technologies is transforming organisations and enabling enterprises to create sustainable competitive advantage. This presents huge economic opportunities for Africa. This book responds to the need for African enterprises and organisations particularly those in the service sector to fully exploit the inherent potential in digital platforms by putting in place processes to respond effectively to changing consumer demands. Digital service delivery is conceptualised as a key driver of effective management and service delivery across the value chain of businesses. The authors offer insights into the opportunities, drivers, structures and models of digital service delivery specific to the African context using case studies and country-based themes that highlight how the adoption of digital platforms and practices can transform service delivery for value creation. The book examines the scope and applications of digital businesses, emphasising the emergence, value creation and strategic implications for Africa's private and public enterprises. Students, entrepreneurs, IT innovators, academics and policymakers will gain a greater understanding of how digitalisation is shaping consumer expectations, industry practices and service delivery in Africa.
