 Data structures and algorithms are presented at the college level in a highly accessible format that presents material with one page displays in a way that will appeal to both teachers and students The thirteen chapters cover Models of Computation Lists Induction and Recursion Trees Algorithm Design Hashing Heaps Balanced Trees Sets Over a Small Universe Graphs Strings Discrete Fourier Transform Parallel Computation Key features Complicated concepts are expressed clearly in a single page with minimal notation and without the clutter of the syntax of a particular programming language algorithms are presented with self explanatory pseudo code Chapters 1 4 focus on elementary concepts the exposition unfolding at a slower pace Sample exercises with solutions are provided Sections that may be skipped for an introductory course are starred Requires only some basic mathematics background and some computer programming experience Chapters 5 13 progress at a faster pace The material is suitable for undergraduates or first year graduates who need only review Chapters 1 4 This book may be used for a one semester introductory course based on Chapters 1 4 and portions of the chapters on algorithm design hashing and graph algorithms and for a one semester advanced course that starts at Chapter 5 A year long course may be based on the entire book Sorting often perceived as rather technical is not treated as a separate chapter but is used in many examples including bubble sort merge sort tree sort heap sort quick sort and several parallel algorithms Also lower bounds on sorting by comparisons are included with the presentation of heaps in the context of lower bounds for comparison based structures Chapter 13 on parallel models of computation is something of a mini book itself and a good way to end a course Although it is not clear what parallel A Man & A Pram Mark Cundy,2011-06-23 People travel from London to New York every day nothing unusual about that but if your journey took you 14 months you might rightly wish to seek compensation from the airline However Mark Cundy s journey was different his was a walking odyssey of immense proportions covering 5 500 miles between October 2004 and December 2005 across three continents in aid of Cancer Research UK and its overseas equivalents Facing a lonely often gruelling trek Mark encountered many setbacks and obstacles en route limited resources accommodation problems language barriers extremes of climate red tape cultural differences and health issues and met plenty of angels and a few devils as his journey pressed on through Europe across Russia and on to Australia and finally the USA There were many times he stopped to wonder What am I doing But in true Forrest Gump style he just kept on walking This is an extraordinary story told with immense humour of true grit and determination against the odds to fulfil a dream that had been many years in the making one that took the World Walker through every gamut of emotion from fear to triumph and desperation to sheer joy It was a defining achievement And to what does the pram in the title refer He didn't really take a baby with him did he Well you'll just have to read it and see Pearson's Magazine, 1911 Vol 49 no 9 Sept 1922
