Holliday, 2016-05-03 A vivid and engaging exploration of California's debt to the ancient world Discussing the influence of the classics on America is nothing new indeed classical antiquity could be considered second only to Christianity as a force in modeling America's national identity What has never been explored until now is how from the beginning Californians in particular chose to visually and culturally craft their new world using the rhetoric of classical antiquity Through a lively exploration of material culture literature and architecture American Arcadia offers a tour through California's development as a Mediterranean haven from the late nineteenth century to the present In its earliest days California was touted as the last opportunity for alienated Yankees to establish the refined gentleman farmer culture envisioned by Jefferson and build new cities free of the filth and corruption of those they left back East Through architecture and landscape design Californians fashioned an Arcadian setting evocative of ancient Greece and Rome Later as Arcadia gave way to urban sprawl entire city plans were drafted to conjure classical antiquity self-styled villas dotted the hills and utopian communities began to shape the state's social atmosphere Art historian Peter J. Holliday traces the classical influence primarily through the evidence of material culture yet the book emphasizes the stories and people famous and forgotten behind the works such as Florence Yoch the renowned landscape designer and set designer for Gone with the Wind and Sister Aimee Semple McPherson the most publicized Christian evangelist of her day whose sermons filled the Pantheon like Angelus Temple Telling stories from the creation of the famed aqueducts that turned the semi arid landscape to a cornucopia of almonds alfalfa and oranges to the birth of the body sculpting movement American Arcadia offers readers a new way of seeing our past and ourselves      Patio Gardens Helen Mergenthau Fox, 1929      Los Angeles Magazine , 1999-07 Los Angeles magazine is a regional magazine of national stature Our combination of award winning feature writing investigative reporting service journalism and design covers the people lifestyle culture entertainment fashion art and with one sentence Architecture is space created for human activities The basic need to find food and water places these activities within a larger spatial field Humans have learned and found ways to adjust to the various contextual difficulties that they faced as they roamed the earth Thus rather than adapting humans have always tried to change the context to their activities Humanity has looked at the context not merely as a limitation but rather as a spatial situation filled with opportunities that allows through intellectual interaction to change these limitations Thus humanity has created within the world their own contextual bubble that firmly stands against the larger context it is set in The key notion of the book is that architecture is space carved out of and against the context and that this process is deterministic Spanish Gardens Mrs. Constance Mary (Fielden) Villiers-Stuart,1929 Material Dreams Kevin Starr,1990 In Material Dreams Starr turns to one of the most vibrant decades in the Golden State s history the 1920s when some two million Americans migrated to California the vast majority settling in or around Los Angeles Although he treats readers to intriguing side trips to Santa Barbara and Pasadena Starr focuses here mainly on Los Angeles revealing how this major city arose almost defiantly on a site lacking many of the advantages required for urban development creating itself out of sheer will the Great Gatsby of American cities He describes how William Ellsworth Smyth the Peter the Hermit of the Irrigation Crusade propounded the importance of water in Southern California s future and how such figures as the self educated Irish engineer William Mulholland who built the main aquaducts to Los Angeles and George Chaffey who diverted the Colorado River transforming desert into the lush Imperial Valley brought life supporting water to the arid South He examines the discovery of oil Yes it s oil oil oil that makes LA boil went the official drinking song of the Uplifters Club the boosters and land developers the evangelists such as Bob Shuler the Methodist Savanarola of Los Angeles and Aimee Semple McPherson and countless other colorful figures of the period There are also fascinating sections on the city s architecture such as the remarkably innovative Bradbury Building and its eccentric neophyte designer George Wyman the impact of the automobile on city planning the great antiquarian book collections the Hollywood film community and much more By the end of the decade Los Angeles had tripled in population and become the fifth largest city in the nation In Material Dreams Kevin Starr captures this explosive growth in a narrative tour de force that combines wide ranging scholarship with captivating prose California Garden ,1928 The Ultimate Garden Designer Tim Newbury,2000 The Ultimate Garden Designer allows the reader to design a garden from over 100 designs Each design is accompanied by plans and colour illustrations and includes a vast selection of garden features from pools to patios Spanish & Portuguese Gardens Rose Standish Nichols,1924
