Art as a Social System Niklas Luhmann, 2000 This is the definitive analysis of art as a social and perceptual system by Germany's leading social theorist of the late 20th century. It combines three decades of research in the social sciences, phenomenology, evolutionary biology, cybernetics, and information theory with an intimate knowledge of art history, literature, aesthetics, and contemporary literary theory.

Mythologies of the Prophet Muhammad in Early Modern English Culture Matthew Dimmock, 2013-05-31 The figure of Mahomet was widely known in early modern England. A grotesque version of the Prophet Muhammad, Mahomet was a product of vilification, caricature, and misinformation placed at the centre of Christian conceptions of Islam. In Mythologies of the Prophet Muhammad in Early Modern English Culture, Matthew Dimmock draws on an eclectic range of early modern sources, literary, historical, visual, to explore the nature and use of Mahomet in a period bounded by the beginnings of print and the early Enlightenment. This fabricated figure and his spurious biography were endlessly recycled but also challenged and vindicated, and the tales the English told about him offer new perspectives on their sense of the world, its geographies and religions, near and far, and their place within it. This book explores the role played by Mahomet in the making of Englishness and reflects on what this might reveal about England's present circumstances.

Encyclopedia of Interior Design Joanna Banham, 1997-05-01 From ancient Greece to Frank Lloyd Wright, studio to smoking rooms, chimney boards to cocktail cabinets and papier mâché to tubular steel, the Encyclopedia of Interior Design provides a history of interior decoration and design from ancient times to the present day. It includes more than 500 illustrated entries covering a variety of subjects, ranging from the work of the foremost designers to the origins and function of principal rooms and furnishing types, as well as surveys of interior design by period and nationality, all prepared by an international team of experts in the field. Entries on individuals include a biography, a chronological list of principal works, or career summary, a primary and secondary bibliography, and a signed critical essay of 800 to 1500 words on the individual's work in interior design. The style and topic entries contain an identifying headnote, a guide to main collections, a list of secondary sources, and a signed critical essay.

The Microscope in the Dutch Republic Edward G. Ruestow, 1996 Focusing on the two seventeenth-century pioneers of microscopic discovery, the Dutchmen Jan Swammerdam and Antoni van Leeuwenhoek, Ruestow demonstrates that their uneasiness with their social circumstances spurred their discoveries. Though arguing that aspects of Dutch culture impeded serious research with the microscope, Ruestow also shows, however, that the culture of the period shaped how Swammerdam and Leeuwenhoek responded to what they saw through the lens. He concludes by emphasising how their early microscopic efforts differed from the institutionalised microscopic research that began in the nineteenth century.
