Pattern Electrorretinogram, Circulatory Disturbances of the Visual Systems and Pattern Evoked Responses International Society for Clinical Electrophysiology of Vision. Symposium, 1984 21st Symposium of the International Society for Clinical Electrophysiology of Vision Budapest Hungary May 30 June 3 1983 Ocular Circulation and Neovascularization D. Beneza, N. Ryan, B.M. Glaser, R.P. Murphy, 2012-12-06 Neovascularization is a normal phase of tissue repair mechanism. In the eye, however, sprouting of new vessels within a vascular tissue and their great tendency to bleed have detrimental effects on vision. Diabetic retinopathy, corneal neovascularization, age-related macular degeneration, retinal vein occlusion, and retinopathy of prematurity are major causes of blindness. In all uncontrolled proliferation of new vessels is the underlying pathological cause leading to the inexorable loss of vision. Development of laser technologies and their wide use in ophthalmology have brought some hope for the treatment of these diseases. However, it became evident that direct closure of the new vessels and or ablation of large parts of the tissue are not ideal solutions to the problem. Recent advances in molecular biology and genetic engineering have fostered basic knowledge regarding the growth factors and intercellular messengers and their association with the proliferation of new blood vessels. These latter findings sparked a renewed interest in Michaelson's X factor of ocular neovascularization and opened avenues for possible innovative therapeutic approaches. Therefore, the suggestion to organize an international gathering of clinicians and scientists interested in problems of ocular circulation and neovascularization was received with great enthusiasm. Unanimously, it was decided to dedicate the symposium to Professor I.C. Michaelson, the innovative scientist, the great clinician, the indefatigable teacher, and above all, the wonderful human being. The meeting was highlighted by the outstanding atmosphere of friendship and scientific exchanges. This book mirrors the information delivered and includes a selection of papers from the scientific program. The organization of this meeting and the publication of the book would not have been possible without the harmonious team efforts made by the International Scientific and Local Committees. I am thankful to the chairpersons of the various sessions for their time, keen interest, and endeavor for the realization of a high scientific level. I also deeply acknowledge the help and support of Arnall Patz, Bob Murphy, Bert Glaser, Robert Frank, Larry Hjelm, and Gordon Klintworth. Neville Welsh, Charles Riva, Alec Garner, Desmond Archer, Ephraim Friedman, Myron Yanoff, Moshe Lahav, Willem Manschot, Hans Walther Larsen, and Masanobu Uyama. The powerful stimulus of Hanan Zauberman, Steve Ryan, Gabriel Coscas, Giselle Soubrane, Moshe Ivry, Yuval Yassur, and Sue and Peter Ballen was most instrumental in the realization of these dreams. As always, I was fortunate to have the invaluable collaboration of my loyal assistants, Evelyn Cohen, Genia Maftzir, Israel Barzel, Arie Zelikovitch, and Judith Ben Ezra. The smooth running of the meeting and timely editing of the book could not have been possible without the incalculable help and indefatigable typing and council of Judith Fisher, whose seconded me in selecting the papers and editing the book. Drum, 2012-12-06 From the 98 presentations of the XIIth Symposium on Colour Vision Deficiencies 61 were selected after peer review and revision by the authors In addition to these contributions this volume contains a cumulative index to all authors in the IRGCVD proceedings since the first one in 1968 including the present volume The contents include contributions on basic questions of anatomical and electrophysiological organisation of the neural pathways underlying colour vision and on ways in which disturbances of these pathways can produce acquired colour vision deficiencies Further contributions deal with genetics and congenital red green colour deficiencies and colour vision testing The resulting publication contains much of interest to basic vision scientists as well as to specialists in colour vision deficiencies

Colour Vision Deficiencies XI B. Drum, 2012-12-06 The eleventh Symposium of the International Research Group on Colour Vision Deficiencies IRGCVD was held 20-23 June 1991 in Sydney Australia ably hosted by local organizer Stephen Dain A total of 35 talks and 10 posters were presented Papers based on 37 of these presentations are included here in Colour Vision Deficiencies XI The scientific program featured sessions on three special topics with each topic highlighted by an invited speaker The opening session on the Genetics of congenital colour vision deficiencies began with a superb invited lecture by Charles Weitz about his pioneering work on the molecular genetics of tritanopia The session on the second special topic Spatial aspects of colour vision began with the launching of a new IRGCVD tradition as 1991 Verriest Memorial Award recipient Harry Sperling presented the first Verriest Memorial Lecture on his recent studies of spatial discrimination of heterochromatic stimuli Dr Sperling reported new evidence that certain asymmetries in red green opponent colour vision can be explained by the spatial organization of colour opponent retinal neurons In the third special session on Occupational aspects of colour vision Barry Cole took the audience on a fascinating tour of the historical development of colour vision standards in his invited lecture entitled Does defective colour vision really matter In addition to the three special topics many interesting presentations were given in topical sessions on Variations in normal colour vision Acquired colour vision deficiencies and Colour vision tests and testing methods

Colour Vision Deficiencies X B. Drum, J.D. Moreland, A. Serra, 2012-12-06 Since its inception the International Research Group on Colour Vision Deficiencies IRGCVD has followed the policy that the Symposium Proceedings should be as close as possible to a complete record of the scientific content of the meeting This policy has the advantage of providing an accurate picture of the current state of the art in research on color vision deficiencies but it also has the disadvantage that papers typically span a wide range of quality In this volume however we have instituted a system of peer review in an effort to enhance scientific quality as much as possible while continuing our past policy of publishing all submitted manuscripts In addition to being edited for English composition and grammar each of the papers included here has been carefully reviewed by an IRGCVD member selected for his or her expertise in the specific topic of the paper Reviewers were instructed to include in their comments suggestions for improvement rather than recommendation or rejection In our opinion this review process has resulted in substantial improvement of many of the articles and has enhanced the value of the publication We are pleased to acknowledge the efforts of our reviewers and offer them our sincere thanks for their important contributions to Colour Vision Deficiencies X The Editors B Drum J D Moreland A Serra eds Colour Vision Deficiencies X p xiii

Seventh International Visual Field Symposium, Amsterdam, September 1986 E.L. Greve, A. Heijl, 2012-12-06 The Seventh International Visual Field Symposium organized by the International Perimetric Society was held in Amsterdam The Netherlands September 6-10 1986 In many respects it was an exciting and fruitful meeting The number of participants was greater than ever The number of papers was too great to accommodate all of them The quality of the papers reflects the continuously rising interest in perimetry in general and in automated perimetry in particular Last but not least the social programme was organized in the by now almost classical friendly enjoyable and humorous style of the International Perimetric Society This created an atmosphere of openness and free exchange of information which was clearly also felt in the scientific sessions The scientific part was divided in seven sessions with 44 spoken papers and a separate poster session during which the 46 posters were discussed The major themes of the meeting were The influence of media disturbances on the visual field and Advances in perimetry in glaucoma with special emphasis on progression The session on media provided interesting information on how the visual field was affected by preretinal filters The authors either studied the influence of lens or corneal opacities or simulated opacities by special filters placed in front of the eye In two papers the effect of cataract was qualified by photography or stray light measurements
