Struggles for Representation Phyllis Rauch Klotman,Janet K. Cutler,1999 Struggles for Representation examines over 300 non fiction films by more than 150 African American film videomakers and includes an extensive filmography bibliography and excerpts from interviews with film videomakers In eleven original essays contributors explore the extraordinary scope of these aesthetic and social documents and chart a previously undiscovered territory documentaries that examine the aesthetic economic historical political and social forces that shape the lives of black Americans as seen from their perspectives Until now scholars and critics have concentrated on black fiction film and on mainstream non fiction films neglecting the groundbreaking body of black non fiction productions that offer privileged views of American life Yet these rich and varied works in film video and new electronic media convey vast stores of knowledge and experience Although most documentary cannot hope to match fiction film s mass appeal it is unrivaled in its ability to portray searing indelible impressions of black life including concrete views of significant events and moving portraits of charismatic individuals Documentary footage brings audiences the moments when civil rights protestors were attacked by state troopers it provides the sights and sounds of Malcom X delivering an electrifying speech Betty Carter performing a heart wrenching song and Langston Hughes strolling on a beach Uniting all of this work is the struggle for representation that characterizes each film an urgent desire to convey black life in ways that counter the uninformed and often distorted representations of mass media film and television productions African American documentaries have long been associated with struggles for social and political empowerment for many film videomakers documentary is a compelling mode with which to present an alternative more authentic narrative of black experiences and an effective critique of mainstream discourse Thus many socially and politically committed film videomakers view documentary as a tool with which to interrogate and reinvent history

Los Angeles--Struggles toward Multiethnic Community Edward T. Chang, Russell Charles Leong, 2017-08-24 Myths and theories of the American melting pot of assimilation and of pluralistic society were shattered as racial violence during the 1992 Los Angeles uprising vividly exposed the inadequacy of our prior assumptions The uprising revealed that radical approaches are needed to address structural issues of economic and political inequality and issues of race and representation Los Angeles has emerged as a focal point for social scientists as they develop new ideas about race relations This volume based on a special issue of Amerasia Journal focuses on race and ethnic relations in Los Angeles as they emerged out of the uprising and within the broader national picture Latino and Asian and African American scholars journalists and writers have contributed two dozen essays commentaries and literary works Among the scholarly essays are Jewish and Korean Merchants in African American Neighborhoods by Edward Chang Communication between African Americans and Korean Americans before and after the Los Angeles Riots by Ella Stewart Asian Americans and Latinos in San Gabriel Valley California by Leland T Saito The South Central Los Angeles Eruption A Latino Perspective by Armando Navarro and Race Class Conflict and Empowerment On Ice Cube's Black Korea by Jeff Chang Commentaries by Asian and African American writers feature Larry Aubry Angela E Oh Sharon Park Amy Uyematsu Erich Nakano Walter Lew and Miriam Ching Louie A selection of literary writings features Mari Sunaida Ko Won Wanda Coleman Mellonee R Houston Sae Lee Nat Jones Arjuna Chungmi Kim and Lynn Manning

The Path to the Greater, Freer, Truer World Lindsey R. Swindall, 2019-04-08 The Southern Negro Youth Congress and the Council on African Affairs were two organizations created as part of the early civil rights efforts to address race and labor issues during the Great Depression They fought within a leftist Pan African framework against disenfranchisement segregation labor exploitation and colonialism By situating the development of the SNYC and the Council on African Affairs within the scope of the long civil rights movement Lindsey Swindall reveals how these groups conceptualized the U S South as being central to their vision of a global African diaspora Both organizations illustrate well the progressive collaborations that maintained an international awareness during World War II Cleavages from anti radical repression in the postwar years are also evident in the dismantling of these groups when they became casualties of the early Cold War By highlighting the cooperation that occurred between progressive activists from the Popular Front to the 1960s Swindall adds to our understanding of the intergenerational nature of civil rights and anticolonial organizing

Mintirho ya Vulavula Jabulisile Mhlambi, Sandile Ngidi, 2021-04-19 Mintirho ya Vulavula Arts National Identities and Democracy examines the role of arts and culture in development and specifically its value in consolidating our nascent democracy and in facilitating the transformation of South African society Contributors to this edited volume interrogate the role of arts culture and heritage from a transdisciplinary perspective enriched by the cross generational perspectives offered by young and older artists cultural practitioners activists and scholars Authors also offer some policy recommendations on how the contribution of arts and culture to social cohesion and nation building can be enhanced

Arise Africa, Roar China Yunxiang Gao, 2021-12-17 This book explores the close relationships between three of the most famous twentieth century African Americans W E B Du Bois Paul Robeson and Langston Hughes and their little known Chinese allies during World War II and the Cold War journalist musician and Christian activist Liu Liangmo and Sino Caribbean dancer choreographer Sylvia Si lan Chen Charting a new path in the study of Sino American relations Gao Yunxiang foregrounds African Americans combining the study of Black internationalism and the experiences of Chinese Americans with a transpacific narrative and an understanding of the global remaking of China s modern popular culture and politics Gao reveals earlier and more widespread interactions between Chinese and African American leftists than accounts of the familiar alliance between the Black radicals and the Maoist Chinese would have us believe The book s multilingual approach draws from massive yet rarely used archival streams in China and in Chinatowns and elsewhere in the United States These materials allow Gao to retell the well known stories of Du Bois Robeson and Hughes alongside the sagas of Liu and Chen in a work that will transform and redefine Afro Asia studies

Between the Avant-garde and the Everyday Timothy Brown, Lorena Anton, 2011-07-01 The wave of anti authoritarian political activity associated with the term 1968 can by no means be confined under the rubric of protest understood narrowly in terms of street marches and other reactions to state initiatives Indeed the actions generated in response to 1968 frequently involved attempts to elaborate resistance within the realm of culture generally and in the arts in particular This blurring of the boundary between art and politics was a characteristic development of the political activism of the postwar period This volume brings together a group of essays concerned with the multifaceted link between culture and politics highlighting lesser known case studies and opening new perspectives on the development of anti authoritarian politics in Europe from the 1950s to the fall of Communism and beyond
