Fraseología, Diatopía y Traducción / Phraseology, Diatopic Variation and Translation Pedro Mogorrón Huerta, Antonio Albaladejo-Martínez, 2018-11-15. In all languages humans frequently use linguistic combinations called phraseological units (PUs) in communicative acts. These PUs are characterized by their institutionalized fixation and in many cases by their opacity. Traditionally, the work on phraseology has placed the emphasis on the total fixing of components and structures of verbal expressions. Variation in PUs is currently an uncontested fact and has been extensively studied and analyzed. In addition, in the case of languages like Spanish, English, French spoken in many countries, new creations or diatopic variants arise. While these diatopic expressions have been collected or analyzed in their territory of influence, no comprehensive collection showing all the expressions and contrastive analysis to observe the similarities and differences between these diatopic creations with all their idiosyncratic and cultural references have been made so far. The content of this volume deals with numerous linguistic, lexicographic and translational problems in the context of language variation in general as well as specifically related to diatopic variation. The aim is to make progress in these challenging and highly interesting areas which still pose many comprehension and translation problems. Spanish

Binominal Quantifiers in Spanish Katrien Dora Verveckken, 2015-07-24 Quantification is central to human experience cf Aristotle s Organon the most basic aspects of human life and reasoning involve quantity assessment This study sheds lights on a highly frequent way to express quantification in Spanish viz the binominal quantifier e g un aluvi nN1 de llamadasN2 a flood of calls which assesses the quantity of N2 in terms of N1 This volume offers a corpus based cognitive functional analysis of binominal quantifiers BQ in Spanish The first part is dedicated to the development of BQs and starts from the assumption that BQs are cross linguistically involved in grammaticalization This monograph frames the history of BQs in Spanish in terms of constructional levels of change and highlights the complex interplay between analogical thinking and conceptual persistence The second part motivates both the ample variation in the paradigm of quantifying nouns and their combinatorial pattern by the very same mechanism of conceptually driven analogy The study thus yields an innovative functional model of BQs in Spanish in synchrony and in diachrony with major implications for reference grammars and theory building

Manual of Romance Word Classes Anna-Maria De Cesare, Giampaolo Salvi, 2024-09-02 Word classes are linguistic categories serving as basis in the description of the vocabulary and grammar of natural languages While important publications are regularly devoted to their definition identification and classification in the field of Romance linguistics we lack a comprehensive state of the art overview of the current research This Manual offers an updated and detailed discussion of all relevant aspects related to word classes in the Romance languages In the first part word classes are discussed from both a theoretical and historical point of view The second part of the volume takes as its point of departure single word classes described transversally in all the main Romance languages while the third observes the relevant word classes from the point of view of specific Romance based varieties The fourth part explores Romance word classes at the interface of grammar and other fields of research The Manual is intended as a reference work for all scholars and students interested in the description of both the standard major Romance languages and the smaller lesser described Romance based varieties

Verb Classes and Aspect Elisa Barrajon López, José Luis Cifuentes Honrubia, Susana Rodríguez Rosique, 2015-11-15 This volume offers a variety of perspectives on two of the main topics situated at the crossroads between lexical semantics and syntax namely a) aspect and its correspondence with syntactic structure and b) the delimitation of syntactic structures from verb classes Almost from Aristotle's Metaphysics it has been assumed that verbs invoke a mental image about the way in which eventualities are distributed over time When it comes to determining time schemata the lexical class to which the verb belongs represents a first step Speaking about verb classes does not exclusively mean a semantic similarity rather verb classes exhibit a bundle of common features and thus show a set of recursive behavior patterns Beyond the meaning of the verb both semantic and syntactic factors together with pragmatic ones play a decisive role when establishing the aspectual classification of an eventuality The contributions collected in this book approach the aforementioned lines either analyzing the relationships between aspect and syntactic structure or traversing the path from a verb class to its syntactic manifestation Some of them stress diachronic filiations while others include processes of word formation in the debate some of them focus on certain classes such as movement verbs or psychological verbs while others examine specific constructions A number of chapters also discuss relevant theoretical issues concerning the analysis of aspect In sum the kaleidoscopic view provided by this book allows the reader to delve deeper into one of the most controversial as well as exciting topics within current linguistics

Planning non existent dictionaries João Paulo Silvestre, Alina Villalva, 2015 There is an increasing number of dictionary types and lexical search tools designed to respond to an ever growing array of user needs The quest for innovation however is not over and this is what this book shall shed light on In the autumn of 2013 a conference entitled Planning non existent dictionaries was held at the University of Lisbon Scholars and lexicographers were invited to present and submit for discussion their research and practices focusing on aspects that are traditionally perceived as shortcomings by dictionary makers and dictionary users The topics for debate were intended to be provocative the identification of dictionary types that have never been developed for certain languages or for a given lexical domain as well as typological and linguistic problems that may compromise the development of lexicographic projects We hoped that the discussion would lead to the presentation of problem solving strategies especially those related to corpora documentation information technology and data presentation We received an incredible response and have had the opportunity to acknowledge several projects that are different in size novelty and degree of accomplishment
