Lovell Beddoes 1803-49 was a powerful poet of the English Romantic period who has been and is still strangely neglected by critics. His macabre blank verse dramatic writings and his delicately balanced lyrics have both won ardent admirers such as Browning, Gosse, Pound and Christopher Ricks. Yet there are formal and generic problems in Beddoes's writings which continue to marginalize him as merely an eccentric and the canon of Romanticism seems to have found no place for him.

Words from the Heart Sister Magdala Marie Gilbert Osp, 2011-10. This book of poetry reflects my thoughts about God, my own personal journey as well as reflections on the world at large. The preface of this book gives my reason for writing this special piece of work. Poetry takes time, much reflection and lots of energy, especially when the reflections express the inner workings of the Holy Spirit in one's life. Reflection M.E. Wyatt, 2024. The end of the Realm has come and I am its destroyer. Vi eri finds herself at the end of time. The death of her realm. War looms and the people of the world rally behind her for they have but two options: Fight or die. Alone and afraid, she hides herself from the others, seeking solitude from their spiteful glares. However, one day a young human asks her to tell him a tale, a tale from her past. The tale of how she'd brought this destruction upon them. Are the answers she seeks buried deep in her past? Hidden behind a lifetime of pain. Or is this truly to be the end of all? Epic in feel and scale, told from a first person perspective, Reflection is a must read for those who are fans of Robin Hobb's The Assassin's Apprentice or Patrick Rothfuss's The Name of the Wind. The Patchwork of Reflection Thomas Latter, 1869.
