Regional Financial Cooperation Jose Antonio Ocampo, 2007-08-29 A Brookings Institution Press and Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean ECLAC publication Using the experience of postwar Western Europe as a benchmark Jos Antonio Ocampo and his colleagues assess how regional financial institutions can help developing countries often at a disadvantage within the global financial framework finance their investment needs counteract the volatility of private capital flows and make their voices heard The 1997 Asian financial crisis generated extensive debate on the international financial architecture Through this discussion it became clear that services by financial institutions including adequate mechanisms for preventing and managing financial crises and instruments for safeguarding global macroeconomic and financial stability are undersupplied Furthermore private international capital markets provide finance to developing countries in a way that effectively reduces the ability of those nations to undertake countercyclical macroeconomic policies

International capital markets ration out many developing countries particularly the poorest from private global capital markets While these deficiencies in the financial architecture are clear the post 1997 debate has done little to evaluate the role that regional institutions could play in improving global financial arrangements Regional Financial Cooperation aims to fill that important gap Contributors include Ernest Aryeetey Institute of Statistical Social and Economic Research University of Ghana Georges Corm Saint Joseph University Beirut Roy Culpeper North South Institute Ottawa Ana Teresa Fuzzo de Lima Institute of Development Studies University of Sussex Stephany Griffith Jones Institute of Development Studies University of Sussex Julia Leung Hong Kong Monetary Authority Jos Luis Machinea ECLAC Jae Ha Park Korean Institute of Finance Yung Chul Park Korea University Fernando Prada FORO Nactional International Lima Guillermo Rozenwurcel School of Politics and Government University of San Martin Argentina

Innovation, Regional Integration, and Development in Africa Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Mammo Muchie, 2018-07-26 This edited volume discusses the role of innovation and regional integration in economic development in Africa Over the past five decades post colonial African countries have struggled to break loose from the trap of poverty and underdevelopment through the adoption of various development strategies at regional national and continental levels However the results of both national and regional efforts at advancing development on the continent have been mixed Although the importance of agglomeration and fusion of institutions have long been recognized as possible path to achieving economic development in Africa the approach to regionalism has been unduly focused on market integration while neglecting other dimensions such as social policy mobility of labor educational policy biotechnology regional legislation manufacturing innovation and science and technology This volume investigates the link between innovation regional integration and development in Africa arguing that the immediate and long term development of Africa lies not just in the structural transformation of its economies but in the advancement of scientific and innovation capacities The book is divided into four parts Part I addresses the theoretical and conceptual underpinnings of innovation and regional integration in Africa Part II presents case studies which examine how regional economic institutions are fostering innovation in Africa Part III of the book deals with sectoral issues on innovation and integrated development in Africa Part IV sets the future research on innovation regional integration and development in Africa Combining theoretical analysis and a comparative interdisciplinary approach this volume is appropriate for researchers and students interested in economic development political economy African studies international relations agricultural science and geography as well as policymakers in regional economic communities and the African Union

The Regional Integration Manual Philippe De Lombaerde, Renato Flores, Lelio Iapadre, Michael Schulz, 2012-03-29 The Regional Integration Manual brings together different methods for monitoring and analysing regional integration processes in a systematic way Employing a multi disciplinary approach it seeks to provide officials in regional organisations researchers in think tanks academics and students worldwide with an accessible set of both quantitative and qualitative tools useful in their day to day work The Manual addresses an increasing demand for such tools in a world where mechanisms and ideas for effective regional government and governance are in dire need whereas the monitoring and analytical capabilities of official and non governmental actors often lag behind It also addresses a rapidly growing academic community studying the determinants depth speed and other characteristics of regional integration and co operation Employing a multi disciplinary approach The Regional Integration Manual will be of interest to scholars of governance and regional politics as well as policy makers and those in regional organisations Development Centre Seminars Regional Integration in Africa OECD,Asian Development Bank,2002-04-25 Regional integration and co ordination are not a panacea but they could hold the key to African countries long awaited participation in the world economy This was one of the conclusions of the second International Forum on African Perspectives Region-building Ludger Kühnhardt,2010-07-01 After two centuries of nation building the world has entered an era of region building in search of political stability cultural cohesion and socio economic development Nations involved in the regional structures and integration schemes that are emerging in most regions of the world are deepening their ambitions with Europe s integration experience often used as an experimental template or theoretical model Volume I provides a political analytical framework for recognizing the central role of the European Union not only as a conceptual model but also a normative engine in the global proliferation of regional integration It also gives a comprehensive treatment of the focus motives and objectives of non European integration efforts Volume II offers a unique collection of documents that give the best available overview of the legal and political evolution of region building based on official documents and stated objectives of the relevant regional groupings across all continents Together these volumes are important contributions for understanding the evolution of global affairs in an age when power shifts provide new challenges and opportunities for transatlantic partners and the world community Regionalism, Security and Development in Africa Ernest Tooche Aniche,Ikenna Mike Alumona,Inocent Moyo,2021-04-29 This book charts the history and contemporary landscape of African regionalism investigating how regional cooperation can be used to help to tackle security and development challenges in Africa Africa has a long tradition of regional cooperation with the oldest trade and monetary integration schemes in the developing world but its colonial period and partition of have caused lasting damage that still be seen in today s African economies Contemporary post colonial African regionalism deeply rooted in notions of pan Africanism has served as a means of collective self reliance and economic transformation and development This book starts with the history and theory behind African regionalism before discussing and comparing regional organisations such as the Economic Community of Central African States ECCAS the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS the Community of Sahel Saharan States CEN SAD Southern African Development Community SADC the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa COMESA and the East African Community EAC Finally the book considers how regional integration and cooperation can help to address security and development challenges This ambitious and broad ranging book will be a valuable resource for researchers working on

Mapping Agency Ulrike Lorenz-Carl, Martin Rempe, 2016-05-13 Despite regionalism having developed into a global phenomenon the European Union EU is still more often than not presented as the role model of regionalism whose institutional designs and norms are adopted by other regional actors and organizations as part of a rather passive downloading process Reaching beyond such a Eurocentric perception Mapping Agency provides an empirically rich African perspective on regionalisms in Sub Saharan Africa It adopts an actor centred approach but departs from a rather simplified understanding of agency as exerting power and instead scrutinizes to what extent actors actually participate in or are excluded from processes of regionalism The value of this volume derives from the inclusion of historical dimensions its open multi actor approach to both formal and informal processes and its comparative perspective within but also beyond Sub Saharan Africa The chapters offer a multifaceted picture of agency beyond disciplinary divides where the EU is one actor amongst many and where local national regional and global state and non state actors shape and sometimes break processes of regionalisms in Sub Saharan Africa Holding-Together Regionalism: Twenty Years of Post-Soviet Integration

Alexander Libman, E. Vinokurov, 2012-09-27 An in depth analysis of one of the most important and complex issues of the post Soviet era namely the re integration of this highly interconnected region The book considers the evolution of holding together groups since the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 looking at intergovernmental interaction and informal economic and social ties Capitalism and Economic Crime in Africa Jörg Wiegratz, 2024-06-21 This book offers a comprehensive analysis of economic crimes and market irregularities including matters of trickery parallel economy illicit trade economies of violence and criminalisation of the poor in neoliberal Africa It investigates economic crime as a phenomenon of neoliberal reform and transformation and it unpacks crime as a societal and particularly as a political economic phenomenon under capitalism The book brings together a collection of research articles briefings and updated blog posts that were published over a period of nearly 40 years 1986 2023 in the acclaimed journal Review of African Political Economy ROAPE and on its website roape net Featuring contributions from leading experts in the field including a foreword by Yusuf K Serunkuma and an afterword by Laureen Snider this volume explores what these crimes have to do with and can tell us about state business relations regulation capitalist transformation and the corporation on the continent shedding light on the co production of the crimes by a range of actors from the realms of business politics state and international development including major reform advocates such as international financial institutions IFIs and other donors It responds to the imperative to advance the analysis of the link between capitalism and crime in Africa and to locate capitalism more centrally in the analysis of economic crimes as more African countries move from being societies with capitalism to capitalist societies Illustrating the relevance of African countries to debates in criminology corporate crime state crime crimes of the powerful and illegality this volume engages with and mobilises a variety of literatures to analyse economic crimes as phenomena of global and local capitalism and provides readers from academia government business media civil society and education a striking source of information and analysis

Economic Development Through Regional Trade K.

Kimbugwe,N. Perkidis,M. Yeung,W. Kerr,2012-02-14 Post colonial Africa is littered with regional trade agreements that amounted to little more than a photo opportunity for the leaders that signed them This book explores conventional explanations for past failures and posits a new theory rooted in the symbiotic relationship between authoritarian politics and crony capitalism

African Yearbook of International Law/Annuaire Africain De Droit International Abdulqawi A.

Yusuf,2001-02-01 The African Yearbook of International Law provides an intellectual forum for the systematic analysis and scientific dissection of issues of international law as they apply to Africa as well as Africa s contribution to the progressive development of international law It contributes to the promotion acceptance of and respect for the principles of international law as well as to the encouragement of the teaching study dissemination and wider appreciations of international law in Africa A clear articulation of Africa s views on the various aspects of international law based on the present realities of the continent as well as on Africa s civilization culture philosophy and history will undoubtedly contribute to a better understanding among nations The African Yearbook of International Law plays an important role in examining the tensions underlying the State in Africa and by shedding more light on the causes of the fragility of African State institutions so as to facilitate the identification of appropriate remedies The tension and interrelationships among issues such as territorial integrity self determination ethnic diversity and nation building are constantly addressed Development human rights and democratization in Africa are also the subject of continuous attention and examination The Special Theme of this volume is

Regional Economic Integration in Africa II The Political Economy of Regionalism F. Söderbaum, 2004-10-29 The Political Economy of Regionalism The Case of Southern Africa challenges prevailing wisdom showing how ruling political elites and big business join forces with certain external actors in order to promote market integration and economic globalization boost regimes and to satisfy group specific and even personal interests Only rarely do these forms of regionalism contribute to the poor and disadvantaged who instead opt out and survive through informal economic regionalisms or seek to create regionalisms rooted in civil society Interorganizational Diffusion in International Relations Tobias Lenz, 2021 This book examines how the European Union shapes the creation and change of regional institutions in other parts of the world

Nation-states and the challenges of regional integration in West Africa Kwame A. Ninsin, 2009 Since the Treaty establishing the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS was signed in 1975 several protocols have been adopted providing the legal and institutional framework for implementing the integration of the West African sub region All social and political stakeholders agree that regional integration is a major challenge for development in West Africa Yet the regional integration process has been affected by many delays even failures Member states have pursued a seemingly contradictory dual objective build a Nation state within colonial Borders and achieve regional integration to fight against under development Can national planning priorities be reconciled with the demands and objectives of regional integration processes in West Africa Since 2005 under the auspices of the Management of Social Transformations MOST Programme initiative the Social and Human Sciences Sector of UNESCO has organized a series of national seminars on West African regional integration in the ECOWAS region Four seminars have so far been organized in Senegal Mali Benin and Ghana This anthology publishes papers presented at Ghana's national seminar on Nation states and the Challenge of Regional Integration in West Africa the Case of Ghana held in Accra from 8 to 9 November 2005 The contributors suggest that Ghana's reluctance to relinquish its sovereignty stemmed from a lack of commitment in the first 20 years of ECOWAS existence and preoccupation with its own security and survival against internal and external threats The state has currently demonstrated renewed commitment by establishing a Ministry of Regional Cooperation and the New Agenda for Africa's Development NEPAD to coordinate and manage the sub regional integration programme In spite of positive developments results have been disappointing The new ministry remains isolated and is constrained by limited resources in finance and manpower Its approach to integration issues has been elitist and technocratic concentrating on formal trade and ignoring the importance of the informal trade that has been the traditional means of popular participation in the integration of West African economies Borderland communities with economic and social ties continue to engage in exchanges across political boundaries in defiance of national and state security concerns Empowerment of Ghanaians involved in small scale informal cross border trade in majority women would not only increase the levels of social and economic integration but would make the benefits of integration available to large sections of the population Africa in World Politics Guy Martin, 2002 This book examines the key aspects of Africa's external relations and reviews the various political security and economic strategies through which independent African states have tried to enhance their power and status in the world. The author analyses the ideology of Eurafrica as well as Europe's evolving relationship with Africa while also assessing the prospects for African regional integration in the context of Pan Africanism.

Climate Change and Africa Pak Sum Low, 2006-11-02

At the beginning of the twenty first century no environmental issue is of such truly global magnitude as the issue of climate change. The poorer developing countries are the least equipped to adapt to the potential effects of climate change although most of them have played an insignificant role in causing it. African countries are amongst the poorest of the developing countries. This book presents the issues of most relevance to Africa such as past and present climate desertification biomass burning and its implications for atmospheric chemistry and climate energy generation sea level rise ENSO induced drought and flood adaptation disaster risk reduction the UNFCCC and Kyoto Protocol especially the Clean Development Mechanism capacity building and sustainable development. It provides a comprehensive and up to date review of these and many other issues with chapters by the leading experts from a range of disciplines. Climate Change and Africa will prove to be an invaluable reference for all researchers and policy makers with an interest in climate change and Africa.
