shows how geological movements moulded the land of this unique cradle and how they still impact on it. Discussions are woven around the three major forces of integration: These are identity forces, bonds of language, ethnicity, religion, or ideology; utilitarian forces, bonds of common material interest and coercion; the institutional use or threat of physical violence. By studying these forces, Professor Chapman shows how the organization of territory has been central to the region's historic cultural, linguistic, and economic development. In addition to the material on the Northwest frontier, Afghanistan, and Kashmir, which was added for the second edition, the Northeastern borderlands are also now examined in this fully revised third edition. The current geopolitical state of the region is completely updated and greatly enhanced. Tamil Geographies Martha Ann Selby, Indira Viswanathan Peterson, 2008-05-22 How perceptions of land and space influence social and aesthetic conditions in the Tamil region of India. Decentring the Indian Nation Andrew Wyatt, John Zavos, 2023-03-31 First published in 2003, Decentring the Indian Nation examines the various centrifugal forces apparent in recent Indian politics. After achieving independence in 1947, India's elite opted to build a modern nation-state. This idea was carefully nurtured during the fight for freedom from British rule by the dominant Congress movement. In recent years, the idea of a centralised state has been challenged from a number of directions. Strong regional political movements have questioned the assumption that India's federal system requires a dominant centre. The related trend of identity-based mobilisation has challenged settled notions of Indian national identity. The authors discuss the idea that as a nation, India is becoming decentred and consider the implications of this idea for the development of the Indian polity. This book will be of interest to students of politics, geography, and development. Encyclopedia of Social History Peter N. Stearns, 1993-12-21 A reference surveying the major concerns, findings, and terms of social history. The coverage includes major categories within social history: family, demographic transition, multiculturalism, industrialization, nationalism, major aspects of life for which social history has provided a crucial per. Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women Cheris Kramarae, Dale Spender, 2004-04-16 For a full list of entries and contributors, sample entries, and more, visit the Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women website. Featuring comprehensive global coverage of women's issues and concerns, from violence and sexuality to feminist theory, the Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women brings the field into the new millennium. In over 900 signed A-Z entries from US and Europe, Asia, the Americas, Oceania, and the Middle East, the women who pioneered the field from its inception collaborate with the new scholars who are shaping the future of women's studies to create the new standard work for anyone who needs information on women-related subjects. God Willing Ali Riaz, 2004-06-03 Is Bangladesh becoming a Taliban state? The question has become urgent in light of the growing strength of militant groups supposedly aligned with Al Qaeda. The landslide victory of the center-right coalition in the general election of October 2001 and the deliberate and planned violence against religious minorities that followed, God Willing explores the explosive issue of Talibanization by analyzing the politics of Islamism in the world's third most populous Muslim country. Ali Riaz helps the reader to understand the emergence of Islamism as a legitimate democratic political in a largely secular state as opposed to the media's sensational portrayal of Bangladesh as a country overrun by Islamist forces with a supranational agenda. The author compares Bangladesh with Indonesia and Pakistan thus adding a valuable global context for evaluating the politics of Muslim countries. Language, Religion and Politics in North India Paul R. Brass, 2005. This book is recognized as a classic study both of the politics of language and religion in India and of ethnic and nationalist movements in general. It received overwhelmingly favorable reviews across disciplinary and international boundaries at first publication, characterized as a masterly conceptual analysis of language, religion, ethnic groups, and nationhood, a monumental work of interest to all political scientists, one that should be required reading for any politically concerned person in the United Kingdom. From a TLS review: a work whose value and importance can scarcely be overstated, with no competitor in the same class. In the Time of Oil Mandana Limbert, 2010-06-07. Compelling ethnography. Mandana Limbert offers unusual insights into contemporary Arabian Peninsula society. This is an exemplary book for a region in which such books are few and far between. Dale F. Elckelman, Dartmouth College. The Political Economy of Development Norman T. Uphoff, Warren F. Ilchman, 2023-11-15. Ilchman and Uphoff believe that political science has failed in the past to meet its own standards of rigor and cogency and does not meet standards of usefulness and relevance set by others. The Political Economy of Change attempts to remedy these shortcomings by expanding the limits of social science analysis to deal with problems of allocation and productivity in all spheres of public choice, not just the economic sphere. Ilchman and Uphoff believe that political science has failed in the past to meet its own standards of rigor and cogency and does not meet standards of usefulness and relevance set by others. The Political Economy of Change attempts to remedy these shortcomings. Spatial Fragmentation of Political Behaviour in India Sheel Chand Nuna, 1989. Revision of the author's thesis.
