Regulation Of Network Utilities The European Experience:

Regulation of Network Utilities Claude Henry, Michel Matheu, Alain Jeunemaître, 2001 Propelled by deep technical economic and cultural changes network utilities have in the last twenty years entered a new era Since competition has been widely introduced and promoted we have experienced a radical change in the structure of the industries and the role of the state authorities Their role in managing monopolies has evolved into regulating new forms of markets which has resulted in the creation of independent regulatory authorities These new public bodies work with governments to try and reconcile the needs of competition and public service missions This suggests the use of recent developments in economic theory to handle complex problems This volume offers an exploration by scholars and regulators of the new regulatory regimes across Europe The first part presents the pioneering experiences of the United Kingdom and Sweden The United Kingdom has quickly chosen to establish powerful and independent individual regulators Reforms in Sweden have been more gradual and regulators have in the first instance acted mainly as mediators Part two is devoted to second wave developments that took place in various European countries i e France Germany Italy and Spain countries where the legal tradition is less conducive to the concept of independent regulators There the regulators are often but not always less powerful and meet more obstacles in their efforts to prevent either the formation of oligopolies or the resistance of incumbent monopolies In Germany another problem has emerged as the federal tradition prevents the creation of independent regulators in certain key sectors The contributions in the third part of the volume throw some light on the problems of coordinating national regulations One can observe the continuous emergence of modes of cooperation between national regulators as well as European authorities Faced with certain categories of problem the European authorities are themselves led to act as common regulators The countries of central and eastern Europe which are progressively converging towards the general economic model of the West are more and more concerned with the accompanying regulation problems Last but not least the Internet raises worldwide problems of regulation that are beginning to be seriously considered International Handbook on Industrial Policy P. Bianchi, 2008-01-01 This timely and much needed Handbook reconsiders an old topic from a fresh perspective raising a number of new interesting and worthwhile issues in the wake of ten years of globalization This comprehensive analysis illustrates that old style industrial policies whereby the government directly intervened in markets and was often the producer itself are no longer relevant Structural changes occurring in economies summarized in the term globalization are triggering the definition and implementation of new industrial policies The contributors leading experts in their field unite to evaluate this shift of over a decade ago Employing various empirical and methodological approaches with a strong theoretical underpinning this world wide study of the state of the art of industrial policy issues is an invaluable reference tool It has been enthusiastically received by a wide ranging audience including scholars researchers and policy makers with an interest in industrial economics and policy business studies and policies for growth competitiveness and development Advancing

Privatization Experiences in the European Union Marko Köthenbürger, 2006 Experts evaluate the varied outcomes of privatization experiences in Austria Denmark Finland France Germany Ireland Italy the Netherlands Spain and the UK The trend toward privatization which began with privatization experiments in the UK under Margaret Thatcher and the deregulation of the telecommunications sector in the United States has attracted the attention of policymakers over the past two decades Privatization is broadly supported by most academic economists but the results of actual privatization efforts seem mixed In the UK for example telecom rates fell sharply after privatization but privatized rail service was widely perceived to have declined dramatically in quality In this CESifo volume international experts examine the experiences of 10 EU countries evaluating the real outcomes of privatization policies in Austria Denmark Finland France Germany Ireland Italy the Netherlands Spain and the UK The effects of privatization which includes not only changes in ownership of public activities and entities but also liberalization of markets and deregulation are difficult to distinguish from the effects of other economywide influences The studies in this volume meet this methodological challenge by using a well defined set of criteria including reducing consumer prices increasing quantity and improving quality by which to make their assessments Background chapters provide a conceptual framework for considering the issues Contributors Pablo Arocena Sean D Barrett Ansgar Belke Michel Berne Henrik Christoffersen Andrea Goldstein G nter Knieps David Newbery Martin Paldam David Parker G rard Pogorel Friedrich Schneider Eric van Damme Ingo Vogelsang Johan Willner
