Black Moods Frank Marshall Davis, 2024-03-18 Black Moods collects for the first time all of Frank Marshall Davis's extant published poems as well as his previously unpublished work From sharp edged sketches of Southside Chicago's urban landscape to the prismatic world that lay beneath Hawaii's placid surface Davis's muscular poems blend social cultural and political concerns always shaped by his promise to try to be as direct as good blues John Edgar Tidwell's introduction examines both Davis's poetry and his politics presenting a subtle portrait of a complex writer devoted to exposing discriminatory practices and reaffirming the humanity of the common people      I Am the Darker Brother Arnold

Adoff, 1997 Collects verse by African American poets of the twentieth century      WLA, 1997      The Warrior Image Andrew J. Huebner, 2011-12-01 Images of war saturated American culture between the 1940s and the 1970s as U S troops marched off to battle in World War II the Korean War and the Vietnam War Exploring representations of servicemen in the popular press government propaganda museum exhibits literature film and television Andrew Huebner traces the evolution of a storied American icon the combat soldier Huebner challenges the pervasive assumption that Vietnam brought drastic changes in portrayals of the American warrior with the jaded serviceman of the 1960s and 1970s shown in stark contrast to the patriotic citizen soldier of World War II In fact Huebner shows cracks began to appear in sentimental images of the military late in World War II and were particularly apparent during the Korean conflict Journalists filmmakers novelists and poets increasingly portrayed the steep costs of combat depicting soldiers who were harmed rather than hardened by war isolated from rather than supported by their military leadership and American society Across all three wars Huebner argues the warrior image conveyed a growing cynicism about armed conflict the federal government and Cold War militarization literature to its limits requiring writers to exploit their expressive resources to the maximum in response to extreme events This Companion focuses on British and American war writing from Beowulf and Shakespeare to bloggers on the War on Terror Thirteen period based chapters are complemented by five thematic chapters and two chapters charting influences This uniquely wide range facilitates both local and comparative study Each chapter is written by an expert in the field and includes suggestions for further reading A chronology illustrates how key texts relate to major conflicts The Companion also explores the latest theoretical thinking on war representation to give access to this developing area and to suggest new directions for research In addition to students of literature the volume will interest those working in war studies history and cultural studies

Today Bestseller Drawing on the little known true story of one tragic night at an Ozarks dance hall in the author s Missouri hometown this beautifully written endearingly nostalgic novel picks up 50 years later for a folksy character driven portrayal of small town life split second decisions and the ways family secrets reverberate through generations From the new Fannie Flagg of the Ozarks a richly woven story of family forgiveness and reinvention for readers of Kristy Woodson Harvey Donna Everhart Sue Monk Kidd Jeannette Walls and Rita Mae Brown Anderson weaves a rich and poignant tale of a small Ozarks town s factual tragedy its generational secrets and the juxtapose of searching and belonging Vivid and evocative this is a debut to savor Kim Michele Richardson New York Times bestselling author of The Book Woman of Troublesome Creek series Daisy Flowers is fifteen in 1978 when her free spirited mother dumps her in Possum Flats Missouri It s a town that sounds like roadkill and in Daisy's eyes is every bit as dead. Sentenced to spend the summer living with her grandmother the wry and irreverent town mortician Daisy draws the line at working for the family business Flowers Funeral Home. Instead she maneuvers her way into an internship at the local newspaper where sorting through the basement archives she learns of a mysterious tragedy from fifty years earlier. On a sweltering terrible night in 1928 an explosion at the local dance hall left dozens of young people dead shocking and scarring a town that still doesn't know how or why it happened. Listed among the victims is a name that's surprisingly familiar to Daisy revealing an irresistible family connection to this long ago accident. Obsessed with investigating the horrors and heroes of that night Daisy soon discovers Possum Flats holds a multitude of secrets for a small town. And hardly anyone who remembers the tragedy is happy to have some teenaged hippie asking questions about it not the fire and brimstone preacher who found his calling that tragic night not the fed up police chief not the mayor's widow or his mistress not even Daisy's own grandmother a woman who's never been afraid to raise eyebrows in the past whether it's for something she's worn sworn or done for a living. Some secrets are guarded by the living while others are kept by the dead but as buried truths gradually come into the light they'll force a reckoning at last. Inspired by the true story of the Bond Dance Hall explosion a tragedy that took place in the author's hometown of West Plains Missouri on April 13 1928. The cause of the blast has never been determined. A vivid blend of sensorial writing historical detail and memorable characters await in this compelling surprising insightful story of the weight of long held secrets and the resulting hunger for truth.
