Drama Trauma Timothy Murray, 2013-11-05 In this engaging cross disciplinary study Timothy Murray examines the artistic struggle over traumatic fantasies of race gender sexuality and power Establishing a retrospective dialogue between past and present stage and video Drama Trauma links the impact of trauma on recent political projects in performance and video with the specters of difference haunting Shakespeare s plays The book provides close readings of cultural formations as diverse as Shakespearean drama the Statue of Liberty contemporary plays by women African American performance and feminist interventions in video performance and installation The texts discussed include installations by Mary Kelly and Dawn Dedeaux plays by Ntozake Shange Rochelle Owens Adrienne Kennedy Marsha Norman and Amiri Baraka performances by Robbie McCauley Jordan Orlan and Carmelita Tropicana stage film and video productions of King Lear Othello Romeo and Juliet and All s Well that Ends Well Ebony, 1984-05 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine

Peculiar Passages Carol Allen, 2005 This book features African American women playwrights from 1875 to 2000 with an emphasis on the late nineteenth century a period rarely treated in regard to women s drama Highlighting the lesser known Pauline Hopkins Angelina Weld Grimk Georgia Douglas Johnson Eulalie Spence and May Miller and the well known Zora Neale Hurston Alice Childress Adrienne Kennedy and Ntozake Shange Peculiar Passages argues that these playwrights efforts define a tradition characterized by quick change mobility sensitivity to vernacular forms and dedication to intertextual dialogue Situating the plays within a broader context the book also connects them to minstrelsy the Passion Play and the Black Arts Movement The Dialectics of Our America José David Saldívar, 1991-10-31 Joining the current debates in American literary history Jos David Sald var offers a challenging new perspective on what constitutes not only the canon in American literature but also the notion of America itself His aim is the articulation of a fresh transgeographical conception of American culture one more responsive to the geographical ties and political crosscurrents of the hemisphere than to narrow national ideologies Sald var pursues this goal through an array of oppositional critical and creative practices He analyzes a range of North American writers of color Rolando Hinojosa Gloria Anzald a Arturo Islas Ntozake Shange and others and Latin American authors Jos Mart Roberto Fern ndez Retamar Gabriel Garc a M rquez and others whose work forms a radical critique of the dominant culture its politics and its restrictive modes of expression By doing so Sald var opens the traditional American canon to a dialog with other voices not just the voices of national minorities but those of regional cultures different from the prevalent anglocentric model The Dialectics of Our America in its project to expand the canon and define a pan American literary tradition will make a critical difference in ongoing attempts to reconceptualize American literary history

Contemporary African American Female Playwrights Dana A. Williams, 1998-06-30 Lorraine Hansberry s A Raisin in the Sun 1959 was a major dramatic success and brought to the world s attention the potential talent of African American women playwrights But in spite of Hansberry's landmark contribution both the theater and the literary world have often failed to include contemporary African American female playwrights within the circle of production publication and criticism In African American drama anthologies female playwrights are seldom given the degree of attention that is accorded their male counterparts And because of space constraints anthologies of works by women playwrights are forced to exclude numerous female dramatists including African Americans Meanwhile some scholars have argued that the works of African American female playwrights are seldom produced in the mainstream theater because these plays frequently challenge the views of white America But as A Raisin in the Sun demonstrates plays by African American women dramatists can have a powerful message and are worthy of attention A comprehensive research tool this annotated bibliography sheds light on the often neglected works of contemporary African American female playwrights Included within its scope are those dramatists who have had at least one work published since 1959 the year of Hansberry's monumental achievement The first section provides a listing of anthologies that include one or more plays written by an African American female dramatist The second gives entries for reference works and for scholarly and critical studies of the dramatists and their plays The third presents a listing of published plays by individual dramatists along with a summary of each drama the works of each playwright that are related to drama and secondary sources that treat the dramatists and their plays Entries are accompanied by concise but informative annotations and the volume closes with a list of periodicals that frequently publish criticism of African American female playwrights a section of brief biographical sketches of the dramatists and extensive indexes

The Cambridge Companion to African American Women's Literature

Angelyn Mitchell, Danille K. Taylor, 2009-04-30 The Cambridge Companion to African American Women's Literature covers a period dating back to the eighteenth century. These specially commissioned essays highlight the artistry, complexity, and diversity of a literary tradition that ranges from Lucy Terry to Toni Morrison. A wide range of topics are addressed from the Harlem Renaissance to the Black Arts Movement and from the performing arts to popular fiction. Together, the essays provide an invaluable guide to a rich, complex tradition of women writers in conversation with each other as they critique American society and influence American letters. Accessible and vibrant with the needs of undergraduate students in mind, this Companion will be of great interest to anybody who wishes to gain a deeper understanding of this important and vital area of American literature.

The Music in African American Fiction Robert H. Cataliotti, 2019-09-16 This is the first comprehensive historical analysis of how black music and musicians have been represented in the fiction of African American writers. It also examines how music and musicians in fiction have exemplified the sensibilities of African Americans and provided paradigms for an African American literary tradition. The fictional representation of African American music by black authors is traced from the nineteenth century (William Wells Brown, Martin Delany, Pauline E. Hopkins, Paul Laurence Dunbar) through the early twentieth century and the Harlem Renaissance (James Weldon Johnson, Langston Hughes, Claude McKay, Zora Neale Hurston) to the 1940s and 50s (Richard Wright, Ann Petry, James Baldwin, Ralph Ellison) and the 1960s and the Black Arts Movement (Margaret Walker, William Melvin Kelley, Leroi Jones, Amiri Baraka, Henry Dumas). In the century between Brown and Baraka, the representation of music in black fiction went through a dramatic metamorphosis. Music occupied a representative role in African American culture from which writers drew ideas and inspiration. The music provided a way out of a limited situation by offering a viable option to the strictures of racism. Individuals who overcome these limitations then become role models in the struggle toward equality. African American musical forms for both artist and audience also offered a way of looking at the world, survival, and resistance. The black musician became a ritual leader. This study delineates how black writers have captured the spirit of the music that played such a pivotal role in African American culture. Ph.D. dissertation, State University of New York at Stony Brook, 1993; revised with new preface and index.
