The Magical Pine Ring Margaret Bedrosian,1991 Margaret Bedrosian's pioneering interdisciplinary study examines the continuing effect of Armenian history on Armenian American writing Using the work of ten Armenian American poets and fiction and non fiction writers she shows the continuing impact on Armenian Americans of cultural symbols myths and attitudes carried over from the Old World and explores the ways in which two cultures meet conflict and become integrated in the imagination Through analysis of writers actual or fictionalized experience The Magical Pine Ring provides an understanding of the Armenians specific concerns as Armenians and as immigrants the effect of their self awareness as Armenians on their adaptation to America the typical and stereotypical situations and personalities that emerged with time and the key values and beliefs that endured even as names were changed and assimilation blurred physical and social demeanor Bedrosian also explores the directions Armenian American writers have taken in portraying group history and the nature of their self discovery as Armenian Americans For the most part this literature is not a direct outgrowth of the mainstream of Armenian literature The relationship of the writer discussed here is one of spirit of ancestral sympathies burdens and responsibilities These writers register the pain of exile and alienation as they weave images of yearning and loss celebration and futuristic vision into their writing Through their crossroads identity in America these writers add to our understanding of the Armenian diaspora

The Armenian Genocide Legacy Alexis Demirdjian,2016-04-04 This volume focuses on the impact of the Armenian Genocide on different academic disciplines at the crossroads of the centennial commemorations of the Genocide Its interdisciplinary nature offers the opportunity to analyze the Genocide from different angles using the lens of several fields of study

The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies Patt Leonard,Rebecca Routh,2020-02-27 This bibliography first published in 1957 provides citations to North American academic literature on Europe Central Europe the Balkans the Baltic States and the former Soviet Union Organised by discipline it covers the arts humanities social sciences life sciences and technology

The United States and the Armenian Genocide Julien Zarifian,2024 This is the first book to examine how and why the United States refused to officially acknowledge the 1915-17 Armenian Genocide until the early 2020s Drawing from congressional records rare newspapers and interviews with lobbyists and decision makers historian Julien Zarifian reveals how genocide recognition became such a complex politically sensitive issue

Ararat in America Benjamin F. Alexander,2023-11-30 How has the distinctive Armenian American community expressed its identity as an ethnic minority while assimilating to life in the United States This book examines the role of community leaders and influencers including clergy youth organizers and partisan newspaper editors in fostering not only a sense of Armenian identity but specific ethnic partisan leanings within the group's population Against the backdrop of key geopolitical events from the aftermath of the Armenian Genocide to the creation of an independent and then Soviet Armenia it explores the rivalry between two major Armenian political parties the Tashnags and the Ramgavars and the relationship that existed between partisan leaders and their broader constituency Rather than treating the partisan conflict as simply an impediment to Armenian unity Benjamin Alexander examines the functional if accidental role that it played in keeping certain community institutions alive He further analyses the two camps as representing two conflicting visions of how to be an ethnic group drawing a comparison between the sociology of religion models of comfort religion and challenge religion A detailed political and social history this book integrates the Armenian experience into the broader and more familiar narratives of World War I World War II and the Cold War in the USA Fifties Ethnicities Tracy

Floreani,2013-09-23 Fifties Ethnicities brings together a variety of texts to explore what it meant to be American in the middle of America s Century In a series of comparative readings that draws on novels television programs movie magazines and films Tracy Floreani crosses generic boundaries to show how literature and mass media worked to mold concepts of ethnicity in the 1950s Revisiting well known novels of the period such as Vladimir Nabokov s Lolita and Ralph Ellison s Invisible Man as well as less studied works such as William Saroyan s Rock Wagram and C Y Lee s The Flower Drum Song the original source of the more famous Rodgers and Hammerstein musical Floreani investigates how the writing of ethnic identity called into question the ways in which signifiers of Americanness also inherently privileged whiteness By putting these novels into conversation with popular media narratives such as I Love Lucy the author offers an in depth examination of the boundaries and possibilities for participating in American culture in an era that greatly influenced national ideas about identity While midcentury mass media presented an undeniably engaging vision of American success national belonging and guidelines for cultural citizenship Floreani argues that minority writers and artists were at the same time engaging that vision and implicitly participating in its construction Sacred Justice Marian Mesrobian MacCurdy,2017-10-23 Sacred

Justice is a cross genre book that uses narrative memoir unpublished letters and other primary and secondary sources to tell the story of a group of Armenian men who organized Operation Nemesis a covert operation created to assassinate the Turkish architects of the Armenian Genocide The leaders of Operation Nemesis took it upon themselves to seek justice for their murdered families friends and compatriots Sacred Justice includes a large collection of previously unpublished letters found in the upstairs study of the author s grandfather Aaron Sachaklian one of the leaders of Nemesis that show the strategies personalities plans and dedication of Soghomon Tehlirian who killed Talaat Pasha a genocide leader Shahan Natalie the agent on the ground in Europe Armen Garo the center of Operation Nemesis Aaron Sachaklian the logistics and finance officer and others involved with Nemesis Marian Mesrobian MacCurdy tells a story that has been either hidden by the necessity of silence or ignored in spite of victims narratives the story of those who attempted to seek justice for the victims of genocide and the effect this effort had on them and on their families Ultimately this volume reveals how the narratives of resistance and trauma can play out in the next generation and how this resistance can promote resilience

Historical Dictionary of Armenia Rouben Paul Adalian,2010-05-13 There are two Armenias the current Republic of Armenia and historic Armenia The modern state dates from the early 20th century Historic Armenia was part of the ancient world and expired in the Middle Ages Its people however survived and from its residue recreated a new country The history of the Armenians is the story of how an ancient people endured into modern times and how its culture evolved from one conceived under the influence of Mesopotamia to one redefined by the civilization of Europe The second edition of the Historical Dictionary of Armenia relates the turbulent past of this persistent country through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and over 200 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of Armenian history from the earliest times to the present The Armenian Genocide Richard G.

Hovannisian,2011-12-31 World War I was a watershed a defining moment in Armenian history Its effects were unprecedented in that it resulted in what no other war invasion or occupation had achieved in three thousand years of identifiable Armenian existence This calamity was the physical elimination of the Armenian people and most of the evidence of their ever having lived on the great Armenian Plateau to which the perpetrator side soon gave the new name of Eastern Anatolia The bearers of an impressive martial and cultural history the Armenians had also known repeated trials and tribulations waves of massacre captivity and exile but even in the darkest of times there had always been enough remaining to revive rebuild and go forward This third volume in a series edited by Richard Hovannisian the dean of Armenian historians provides a unique fusion of the history philosophy literature art music and educational aspects of the Armenian experience It further provides a rich storehouse of information on comparative dimensions of the Armenian genocide in relation to the Assyrian Greek and Jewish situations and beyond that paradoxes in American and French policy responses to the Armenian genocides The volume concludes with a trio of essays concerning fundamental questions of historiography and politics that either make possible or can inhibit reconciliation of ancient truths and righting ancient wrongs Picturing Identity Hertha D. Sweet

Wong,2018-05-02 In this book Hertha D Sweet Wong examines the intersection of writing and visual art in the autobiographical work of twentieth and twenty first century American writers and artists who employ a mix of written and visual forms of self narration Combining approaches from autobiography studies and visual studies Wong argues that in grappling with the breakdown of stable definitions of identity and unmediated representation these writers artists experiment with hybrid autobiography in image and text to break free of inherited visual verbal regimes and revise painful histories These works provide an interart focus for examining the possibilities of self representation and self narration the boundaries of life writing and the relationship between image and text Wong considers eight writers artists including comic book author Art Spiegelman Faith Ringgold known for her story quilts and celebrated Indigenous writer Leslie Marmon Silko Wong shows how her subjects formulate webs of intersubjectivity shaped by historical trauma geography race and gender as they envision new possibilities of selfhood and fresh modes of self narration in word and image With the Witnesses Dale

Tracy,2017-06-09 While trauma theory has been adopted by contemporary literary and cultural studies as an ethical way to study depictions of suffering there is a risk that its present use could cause more harm than good By emphasizing inaccessible histories unspeakable suffering and unconscious witnessing trauma theory may lead readers to claim others suffering through empathic identification In With the Witnesses Dale Tracy argues that poetry offers an alternative approach to engage with not only suffering in art but suffering in general Examining the strategies of witness poetry Tracy interrogates and reformulates the dominant models of trauma studies in which readers take over the witnessing position by identifying with the speaker as a witness If the purpose of reading such poetry is to contribute to a chain of witnesses what is the distinct role of a reader and how does it differ from the role of the poem's speaker Tracy proposes that metonymy a logic of nearness rather than likeness is compassion's formal manifestation Analyzing poetry that emphasizes the contiguity of metonymy over the substitution of metaphor she attends to the positions into which witnessing speakers invite readers Poems that respond to diverse national and transnational contexts of atrocity conflict and marginalization guide With the Witnesses toward a compassionate response to suffering that involves feeling with not as another Following each poem as a unique theory of compassion With the Witnesses demonstrates that poems hold suffering signed as art not claimable traces of suffering
