Rulers and Rulership in the Arc of Medieval Europe, 1000-1200 Christian Raffensperger, 2023-08-24 Rulers and Rulership in the Arc of Medieval Europe challenges the dominant paradigm of what rulership is and who rulers are by decentering the narrative and providing a broad swath of examples from throughout medieval Europe Within that territory the prevalent idea of monarchy and kingship is overturned in favor of a broad definition of rulership This book will demonstrate to the reader that the way in which medieval Europe has been constructed in both the popular and scholarly imaginations is incorrect Instead of a king we have multiple rulers male and female ruling concurrently Instead of an independent church or a church striving for supremacy under the Gregorian Reform we have a pope and ecclesiastical leaders making deals with secular rulers and an in depth interconnection between the two Finally instead of a strong centralizing polity growing into statehood we see weak rulers working hand in glove with weak subordinates to make the polity as a whole function Medievalists Byzantinists and Slavists typically operate in isolation from one another They do not read each other s books or engage with each other s work This book requires engagement from all of them to point out that the medieval Europe that they work in is one and the same and demands collaboration to best understand it

From Viking Stronghold to Christian Kingdom Sverre Bagge, 2012-08-09 In this seminal work Sverre Bagge provides a detailed account of Norwegian state formation in the period from c 950 to 1350 widening his perspective to include a discussion of the emergence of the medieval state and state formation in the Middle Ages in general The primary objective is to examine Norway as a case that may serve to illuminate some general problems of European state formation in the period problems related both to the formation of the European system of independent kingdoms within a common cultural framework and to the inner development of these kingdoms The volume furthermore examines the changes that took place in the military social economical ideological legal and administrative fields between the first formation of the kingdom and the early fourteenth century which according to common opinion represents a peak in the development of a Norwegian state The volume constitutes a vivid and compelling feat offering a fresh and innovative approach to an important chapter in the history of Norway while also casting new light on developments in the larger context of European history Sverre Bagge is Professor of Medieval History at the Centre for Medieval Studies at the University of Bergen
