Maharashtras Contribution To Music:

Maharashtra's Contribution to Music Vāmana Harī Deśapāṇḍe,1972 Hindustani Music in the 20th Century W. van der Meer,2012-12-06 AIM In spite of a reasonably extensive literature in English and Indian vernaculars there are extremely few books on Indian music that can be considered of a scientific standard I found when I took up an interest in Indian music in 1967 that even protracted reading of the studies in English was not conducive to an understanding of the principles of performance Most of my study and research have been devoted to the gradual refinement of this very understanding In the course of time it also became obvious that different scholars and different musicians held divergent views on many basic concepts of Indian music Therefore one of my tasks was to assess the degree of variability in Indian music As a corollary I wanted to know how this variability could manifest itself as change in a relatively short and well documented period It is often assumed that traditional cultures as e g in India are rather inert and that the art forms hardly ever change This study proves the contrary Indian music has a strong vitality If we examine the different treatises through the centuries this vitality would appear to be a basic characteristic I felt that at least an effort to discover the roots of such change would be valuable as a contribution to the study of art history and possibly to the sociology of culture The Life of Music in North India Daniel M. Neuman,1990-03-15 Daniel M Neuman offers an account of North Indian Hindustani music culture and the changing social context of which it is part as expressed in the thoughts and actions of its professional musicians Drawing primarily from fieldwork performed in Delhi in 1969 71 from interviewing musicians learning and performing on the Indian fiddle and speaking with music connoisseurs Neuman examines the cultural and social matrix in which Hindustani music is nurtured listened and attended to cultivated and consumed in contemporary India Through his interpretation of the impact that modern media educational institutions and public performances exert on the music and musicians Neuman highlights the drama of a great musical tradition engaging a changing world and presents the adaptive strategies its practitioners employ to practice their art His work has gained the distinction of introducing a new approach to research on Indian music and appears in this edition with a new preface by the author 'Raas' : The Mandal Raas of Mulher Province of Maharashtra Meghana Ashtaputre,2021-08-14 The followers of Ramanuj Sampradaya in Mulher province worship Lord Shri Krishna It has its historic importance The followers of this sect traditionally celebrate Raas Leela of lord Shri Krishna at every Sharad Poonam This tradition is 350 years old The Raas Leela of Mulher is equally important as the Raas Leela of Brindavan Lots of followers from the interior parts of Gujarat Karnataka and Maharashtra participate in the yearly Raas Leela celebration They come to worship Lord Shri Krishna among them some thank the Lord for their fulfilled wishes and others pray to God to fulfill their wishes They have a feeling of love affection and equality about all the religions in their hearts They all are lost in themselves their souls are connected to the Lord They are so engrossed in singing Bhajans that they forget hunger thirst etc In this Raas Leela one local child enacts Shri Krishna and others enact as his Gopis All night the followers sing Bhajans under the Chakra The Padas of Raas Leela are sung by them A total of 105 Padaas are sung They are composed in various Raagas Traditional as well as the Raagas which are scarcely known We can easily make out that those Raagas are different from the present ones In this book there is an humble effort to give the detailed information about the history of raas leela the present situation of Raas leela a live description Raas padaas with notation pt Bhatkhande notation system actual meaning of each pada a study of the raagas in which the padas are composed and an effort to know the actual face or structure of the raagas in medieval period and in modern period The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music: South Asia : the Indian subcontinent Bruno Nettl, Alison Arnold, Ruth M. Stone, James Porter, Timothy Rice, 1998 First published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Musicophilia in Mumbai Tejaswini Niranjana, 2020-02-28 In Musicophilia in Mumbai Tejaswini Niranjana traces the place of Hindustani classical music in Mumbai throughout the long twentieth century as the city moved from being a seat of British colonial power to a vibrant postcolonial metropolis Drawing on historical archives newspapers oral histories and interviews with musicians critics students and instrument makers as well as her own personal experiences as a student of Hindustani classical music Niranjana shows how the widespread love of music throughout the city created a culture of collective listening that brought together people of diverse social and linguistic backgrounds This culture produced modern subjects Niranjana calls musicophiliacs whose subjectivity was grounded in a social rather than an individualistic context By attending concerts learning instruments and performing at home and in various urban environments musicophiliacs embodied forms of modernity that were distinct from those found in the West In tracing the relationship between musical practices and the formation of the social subject Niranjana opens up new ways to think about urbanity subjectivity culture and multiple modernities The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Alison Arnold, 2017-09-25 In this volume sixty eight of the world's leading authorities explore and describe the wide range of musics of India Pakistan Bangladesh Sri Lanka Kashmir Nepal and Afghanistan Important information about history religion dance theater the visual arts and philosophy as well as their relationship to music is highlighted in seventy six in depth articles The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Ruth M. Stone, 2017-09-25 The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music is a ten volume reference work organized geographically by continent to represent the musics of the world in nine volumes The tenth volume houses reference tools and descriptive information about the encyclopedia's structure criteria for inclusion and other information specific to the field of ethnomusicology An award winning reference its contributions are from top researchers around the world who were active in fieldwork and from key institutions with programs in ethnomusicology GEWM has become a familiar acronym and it remains highly revered for its scholarship uncontested in being the sole encompassing reference work with a broad survey of world music More than 9 000 pages with musical illustrations photographs and drawings it is accompanied by 300 audio examples Between Two Tanpuras Vāmana Harī Deśapāṇḍe, 1989 Articles evaluating the contribution of some vocalists

Two Men and Music Janaki Bakhle, 2005-10-20 A provocative account of the development of modern national culture in India using classical music as a case study Janaki Bakhle demonstrates how the emergence of an Indian cultural tradition reflected colonial and exclusionary practices particularly the exclusion of Muslims by the Brahmanic elite which occurred despite the fact that Muslims were the major practitioners of the Indian music that was installed as a Hindu national tradition This book lays bare how a nation's imaginings from politics to culture reflect rather than transform societal divisions Maharashtra, Land and Its People, 2009 Indian Classical Music and the Gramophone, 1900-1930 Vikram Sampath, 2022-06-30 In 1902 The Gramophone Company in London sent out recording experts on expeditions across the world to record voices from different cultures and backgrounds All over India it was women who embraced the challenge of overcoming numerous social taboos and aesthetic handicaps that came along with this nascent technology Women who took the plunge and recorded largely belonged to the courtesan community called tawaifs and devadasis in North and South India respectively Recording brought with it great fame brand recognition freedom from exploitative patrons and monetary benefits to the women singers They were to become pioneers of the music industry in the Indian sub continent However despite the pioneering role played by these women their stories have largely been forgotten Contemporaneous with the courtesan women adapting to recording technology was the anti nautch campaign that sought to abolish these women from the performing space and brand them as common prostitutes A vigorous renaissance and arts revival movement followed leading to the creation of a new classical paradigm in both North Indian Hindustani and South Indian Carnatic classical music This resulted in the standardization universalization and institutionalization of Indian classical music This newly created classical paradigm impacted future recordings of The Gramophone Company in terms of a shift in genres and styles Vikram Sampath sheds light on the role and impact of The Gramophone Company's early recording expeditions on Indian classical music by examining the phenomenon through a sociocultural historical and musical lens The book features the indefatigable stories of the women and their experiences in adapting to recording technology The artists from across India featured are Gauhar Jaan of Calcutta Janki Bai of Allahabad Zohra Bai of Agra Malka Jaan of Agra Salem Godavari Bangalore Nagarathnamma Coimbatore Thayi Dhanakoti of Kanchipuram Bai Sundarabai of Pune and Husna Jaan of Banaras
