Making A Living In The Ottoman Lands 1480 To 18:

Making a Living in the Ottoman Lands, 1480 to 1820 Suraiya Faroqhi, 1995 Living in the Ottoman Ecumenical Community Markus Koller, Vera Costantini, 2008-07-31 This book dedicated to Suraiya Faroqhi shows that the early modern world was not only characterized by its having been split up into states with closed frontiers Writing history from the bottom by treating the Ottoman Empire and other countries as subjects of history reduces the importance of political borders for doing historical research Each social economic and religious group had its own world view and in most of the cases the borders of these communities were not identical with the political frontiers Regarding the Ottoman Empire and the other early modern states as systems of different ecumenical communities rather than only as political units offers a different approach to a better understanding of the various ways in which their subjects interacted In this context the term ecumenical community designates social religious and economic groups building up cross border communities Different ecumenical communities overlapped within the boundaries of a state or in a specific area and gave them their distinctive characters This festschrift for Suraiya Faroqhi aims to describe some of the close contacts between various ecumenical communities within and beyond the Ottoman borders Wealth Accumulation and Entrepreneurship in the Ottoman Empire, 18th to 20th Centuries Maria Christina Chatziioannou, Sophia Laiou, 2024-12-23 This book provides a significant contribution to our understanding of the Ottoman Empire s economic history particularly through its exploration of local entrepreneurship which brings new perspectives to the economic dynamics of the region This focus adds a valuable dimension to the broader narrative of Mediterranean social and economic developments from the 18th to the 20th century By emphasizing the role of both Muslim and non Muslim agents the work challenges more Eurocentric narratives that have often influenced the historiography of economic activities in this region The inclusion of Ottoman Turkish and Greek sources underlines the importance of accessing voices and records that have been underutilized in previous studies The fact that this project is a result of Greek Turkish academic cooperation is particularly noteworthy as it promotes a more nuanced and comprehensive view toward shared histories in order to shed light on complex historical phenomena This work will be of interest to scholars of Ottoman and Mediterranean history seeking to explore the nuances of economic and social change from within the Ottoman Empire It will also appeal to a wider audience interested in the history of early entrepreneurial activities and the complex interplay between cultural and economic dynamics in historical contexts Artisans of Empire Suraiya Faroqhi, 2009-06-23 The manufacture and trade in crafted goods and the men and women who were involved in this industry including metalworkers ceramicists silk weavers fez makers blacksmiths and even barbers lay at the social as well as the economic heart of the Ottoman empire This comprehensive history by leading Ottoman historian Suraiya Faroqhi presents the definitive view of the subject from the production and distribution of different craft objects to their use and enjoyment within the community Succinct yet comprehensive Artisans of Empire analyses the production and trade of crafts from the beginning of the 16th century to the early 20th century focusing on its history politics and culture Production methods the organisation of trade guilds religious differences the contribution of women and the structure of the Ottoman economy all come under scrutiny in this wide ranging history that combines keen analysis with descriptions of the beautiful and sometimes unknown works of Ottoman artisans Faroghi sheds new light on all aspects of artisan life setting the concerns of individual craftsmen within the context of the broader cultural themes that connect them to the wider world Combining social cultural economic religious and historiographical insights this will be the authoritative work on Ottoman artisans and guilds for many years to come Society and Politics in an Ottoman Town Hülya Canbakal,2007 This monograph provides a fresh insight into society urban government and elite power in a little studied region of the Ottoman Empire bridging Anatolia and Syria Forging Urban Solidarities Charles L. Wilkins,2010 As with most empires of the Early Modern period 1500 1800 the Ottomans mobilized human and material resources for warmaking on a scale that was vast and unprecedented The present volume examines the direct and indirect effects of warmaking on Aleppo an important Ottoman administrative center and Levantine trading city as the empire engaged in multiple conflicts including wars with Venice 1644 69 Poland 1672 76 and the Hapsburg Empire 1663 64 1683 99 Focusing on urban institutions such as residential quarters military garrisons and guilds and using intensively the records of local law courts the study explores how the routinization of direct imperial taxes and the assimilation of soldiers to civilian life challenged and reshaped the city s social and political order

The Ottoman World Christine Woodhead, 2011-12-15 The Ottoman empire as a political entity comprised most of the present Middle East with the principal exception of Iran north Africa and south eastern Europe For over 500 years until its disintegration during World War I it encompassed a diverse range of ethnic religious and linguistic communities with varying political and cultural backgrounds Yet was there such a thing as an Ottoman world beyond the principle of sultanic rule from Istanbul Ottoman authority might have been established largely by military conquest but how was it maintained for so long over such distances and so many disparate societies How did provincial regions relate to the imperial centre and what role was played in this by local elites What did it mean in practice for ordinary people to be part of an Ottoman world Arranged in five thematic sections with contributions from thirty specialist historians The Ottoman World addresses these questions examining aspects of the social and socio ideological composition of this major pre modern empire and offers a combination of broad synthesis and detailed investigation that is both informative and intended to raise points for future debate The Ottoman World provides a unique coverage of the Ottoman empire widening its scope beyond Istanbul to the edges of the empire and offers key coverage for students and scholars alike

French Trade in Istanbul in the Eighteenth Century Edhem Eldem,2023-08-28 This work deals with French trade in Istanbul in the eighteenth century using French and Ottoman sources and integrating the political and social dimensions of the question It also sheds light on the financial dimension of trade particularly that of bills of exchange and monetary trade linking Istanbul to other Ottoman cities and to European financial centers Finally it tackles the issue of western economic penetration arguing that despite some signs of domination French control over the market was efficiently opposed by local actors that economic integration with the West was often realized on equal terms and that much of the domination witnessed toward the end of the century was in fact the result of French diplomatic leverage and of the gradual estrangement of non Muslim traders from the Ottoman commonwealth

Ottoman Tulips, Ottoman Coffee Dana Sajdi,2014-06-09 Tulips and coffee are defining cultural products of the Ottoman eighteenth century along with their related institutions of palace and coffeehouse These cultural products hold multiple meanings in the history and historiography of the period For example scholars argue that the janissary coffee house was used variously for such diverse means as headquarters for rebellion a Sufi lodge police station and racketeering office Ottoman Tulips Ottoman Coffee offers a critical exploration of a range of definitive cultural phenomena of the Ottoman 18th century including the coffee house print culture imperial architecture royal pageantry and festivals Chapters explore previously untouched subjects such as the changing forms of imperial ritual in Ottoman public circumcision celebrations as well as unravelling the historiography of the so called Tulip Period This has traditionally been characterised by the construction and eventual destruction of the famed palace of Saadabad and the reputedly failed project of the first Ottoman printing press The book reassesses these failures as reflective of the general ill preparedness of the Ottoman public for enlightened reform Most importantly this book rejects the prevailing view that the 18th century was in political and cultural decline and argues in fact it was a period of cultural dynamism and change Ottoman Tulips breaks free of the twin teleologies of Ottoman decline and Western induced change reassessing the impact of Westernization and modernization in the 18th century and revealing comparisons and interactions between the Ottoman court and its Safavid counterpart
