Sex Work in Colonial Egypt Francesca

Biancani,2018-07-30 In the early 20th century Cairo was a vibrant and booming global metropolis The integration of Egypt into the global market had led to rapid urban growth and increased migration As occupational prospects for women outside the family were limited sex work became a prominent feature of the new modern city However the economic and social changes in Egypt ignited national anxieties about racial degeneration social disorder and imperial decadence Francesca Biancani argues here that this was a period of national crisis that became inscribed on the bodies on female sex workers Based on a wide range of rare primary sources including documents from court cases reformist papers police minutes and letters Biancani examines the discourses around sex workers and shows how prostitution was understood in colonial Egypt The book argues that from initially regulating and managing prostitution local and colonial elites began to depict sex workers as a threat to the physical and moral welfare of the rising Egyptian nation However far from being a marginal activity prostitution is shown to play a central role in the history of Egyptian nation making By exploring the interdependence of power and marginality respectability and transgression Biancani writes sex work and its practitioners back into the history of modern Egypt The book is an original contribution to the global history of prostitution and a vital resource for scholars of Middle East Studies

The Large Landowning Class and the Peasantry in Egypt, 1837-1952 Raouf Abbas,Assem

El-Dessouky,2022-09-01 In Egypt the landowning class first arose in the early part of the nineteenth century from land grants given to extended family members and friends of the ruler Muhammad Ali The development of capitalism and with it the evolution of law and social practice allowed these land grants gradually to take on the attributes of private property a process that culminated in 1891 in land becoming a form of property like any other From these developments a class of large landowners emerged and began to defend their interests both economic and political In two seminal Arabic works published in the 1970s the authors Abbas and El Dessouky traced the formation of this class exploring the multiple factors that influenced the rise and power of landowners Combined into one volume and translated into English for the first time this book offers a comprehensive analysis of landownership and its effects on Egyptian society The authors draw from extensive archival sources successfully integrating in their work the competing forces of the state the landlords and the peasants By

Building Histories Mrinalini Rajagopalan, 2017-03-01 Building Histories offers innovative accounts of five medieval monuments in Delhi the Red Fort Rasul Numa Dargah Jama Masjid Purana Qila and the Qutb complex tracing their modern lives from the nineteenth century into the twentieth Mrinalini Rajagopalan argues that the modern construction of the history of these monuments entailed the careful selection manipulation and regulation of the past by both the colonial and later postcolonial states Although framed as objective archival truths these histories were meant to erase or marginalize the powerful and persistent affective appropriations of the monuments by groups who often existed outside the center of power By analyzing these archival and affective histories together Rajagopalan works to redefine the historic monument far from a symbol of a specific past the monument is shown in Building Histories to be a culturally mutable object with multiple stories to tell
