Fast, Fun & Easy Creative Fabric Clocks Lynn Koolish,2007-04-01 It's About Time to Create a Clock Stitched shaped layered and decorated you've never seen clocks like these Time flies when you make one of these fun clocks Accent any room with working clocks made from fabric paper quilt blocks photo transfer buttons trims and memorabilia Helpful resource list makes it easy to find everything you need It's easy to forget that these fun projects are functional as well as decorative 6 different projects plus inspiration from guest artists will have you designing your own in a matter of minutes A resource list is included for clock materials movements and embellishments Make it quicker with fast2fuse Double Sided Fusible Stiff Interfacing Making Time Yulia Frumer,2018-01-19 What is time made of We might balk at such a question and reply that time is not made of anything it is an abstract and universal phenomenon In Making Time Yulia Frumer upends this assumption using changes in the conceptualization of time in Japan to show that humans perceive time as constructed and concrete In the mid sixteenth century when the first mechanical clocks arrived in Japan from Europe the Japanese found them interesting but useless because they failed to display time in units that changed their length with the seasons as was customary in Japan at the time In 1873 however the Japanese government adopted the Western equal hour system as well as Western clocks Given that Japan carried out this reform during a period of rapid industrial development it would be easy to assume that time consciousness is inherent to the equal hour system and a modern lifestyle but Making Time suggests that punctuality and time consciousness are equally possible in a society regulated by a variable hour system arguing that this reform occurred because the equal hour system better reflected a new conception of time as abstract and universal which had been developed in Japan by a narrow circle of astronomers who began seeing time differently as a result of their measurement and calculation practices Over the course of a few short decades this new way of conceptualizing time spread gradually becoming the only recognized way of treating time Johann Ludwig Eberhardt and His Salem Clocks Frank P. Albright,2017-12-15 Eberhardt 1758-1839 was master clockmaker in Salem for more than thirty eight years Albright attributes more than thirty clocks to Eberhardt building his evidence by a diligent reading of the Moravian records and by a careful cataloging of the characteristics of each clock He reconstructs Eberhardt's methods of clockmaking in precise detail from the inventories and the purchase invoices of equipment and materials and he attempts to identify the cabinetmaker in each case Originally published in 1978 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value European Clocks in the J. Paul Getty Museum Gillian Wilson,David Harris Cohen,Jean Nérée Ronfort,Jean-Dominique Augarde,Peter Friess,2013-08-15 Among the finest examples of European craftsmanship are the clocks produced for the luxury trade in the eighteenth century The J Paul Getty Museum is fortunate to have in its decorative arts collection twenty clocks dating from around 1680 to 1798 eighteen produced in France and two in Germany They demonstrate the extraordinary workmanship that went into both the design and execution of the cases and the intricate movements by which the clocks operated In this handsome volume each clock is pictured and discussed in detail and each movement diagrammed and described In addition biographies of the clockmakers and enamellers are included as are indexes of the names of the makers previous owners and locations
