J. C. Martin on Pulsed Power T.H. Martin, M. Williams, M. Kristiansen, 2013-06-29 As indicated in the Foreword to this series on Advances in Pulsed Power Technologies the pioneering roots of modern pulsed power as related by J C Charlie Martin and his co-workers of the Atomic Weapons Research Establishment Aldermaston Reading UK is an important if not essential record of the experiential history of the major developer of pulsed power advances during the post

World War II period It finds great utility as an instructive accounting of the trials tribulations and finally an almost chronological walk through their thoughts as they diligently and happily travel the yellow brick road to success It is recounted in the inimitable style of Charlie Martin as only he can relate with some insightful perspectives by Mike Goodman a constant companion and collaborator who shares his unique view of Charlie and the Aldermaston Group This collection of selected articles is unique for in large part the documentation of their struggle and final triumph have not been formerly published in any archival manner One reason we suspect was the defense related application and significance of their work compounded by the constant need for progress which did not allow for the time consuming preparation of formal submission to the literature This also explains the urgent and sometimes terse manner of their writings Yet the material remains remarkably current because we are dealing in large measure with pulsed systems less sensitive to those factors involved in slower pulsed scenarios

No Easy Answers Brooks Brown, Rob Merritt, 2002 On April 20 1999 Dylan Klebold and Eric Harris two seniors at Columbine High School in Littleton Colorado walked into their school and shot to death twelve students and one teacher and wounded many others It was the worst single act of murder at a school in U S history Few people knew Dylan Klebold or Eric Harris better than Brooks Brown Brown and Klebold were best friends in grade school and years later at Columbine Brown was privy to some of Harris and Klebold s darkest fantasies and most troubling revelations After the shootings Brown was even accused by the police of having been in on the massacre simply because he had been friends with the killers Now for the first time Brown with journalist Rob Merritt gets to tell his full version of the story He describes the warning signs that were missed or ignored and the evidence that was kept hidden from the public after the murders He takes on those who say that rock music or video games caused Klebold and Harris to kill their classmates and explores what it might have been that pushed these two young men from supposedly stable families to harbor such violent and apocalyptic dreams Shocking as well as inspirational and insightful No Easy Answers is an authentic wake up call for all the psychologists authorities parents and law enforcement personnel who have attempted to understand the murders at Columbine High School As the title suggests the book offers no easy answers but instead presents the unvarnished facts about growing up as an alienated teenager in America today This edition contains a new afterword that describes what the two authors have experienced and learned about Columbine since the publication of the book
