Mustafah Evelyn Shakir David Williams Pauline Kaldas and Khaled Mattawa The Time Between Places Pauline Kaldas, 2010-11-01 This collection of twenty stories delves into the lives of Egyptian characters from those living in Egypt to those who have immigrated to the United States With subtle and eloquent prose the complexities of these characters are revealed opening a door into their intimate struggles with identity and place We meet people who are tempted by the possibilities of America and others who are tempted by the desire to return home Some are in the throes of re creating themselves in the new world while others seem to be embedded in the loss of their homeland Many of these characters although physically located in either the United States or Egypt have lives that embrace both cultures A Game of Chance follows the actions of a young man when he wins the immigration lottery and then must decide whether or not to change his life Cumin and Coriander takes us inside a woman s thoughts as she tries to come to terms with the path her life has taken while working as a cook for American expatriates in Egypt The Top enters the mind of a man whose immigration results in a loss of identity and sanity These compelling stories pull us into the lives of many different characters and offer us striking insights into the Arab American experience The American Journal of Nursing , 1925 Don't Tell Mrs. Harris Carolyn Carlyle, 1993 Head Nurse Belmore has had several run ins with the Junior Volunteers and doubts about some of the methods of the volunteers Museum , The Celestial Society Vivian Burch Martin, 2010-06-25 An important figure in mid Twentieth Century medicine and cardiology brilliant dynamic George Burch was outstanding on every front pioneering researcher in multiple aspects of the body s workings an inspiring educator editor and prolific writer and electrifying lecturer His patients loved him for his gentleness common sense approach and tireless advocacy on their behalf Immersed in medicine from childhood as he assisted his father a physician in rural Louisiana he was influential worldwide by a surprisingly young age Possessed of a healthy sense of humor he was nevertheless deeply serious of purpose He was an independent thinker outspoken and unfazed by mainstream opinion Increasingly controversial he became a hero to some but to others an outdated fossil The life story of this remarkable man resonates vividly in today s environment of confusion and inordinate expense in medical care Journal of the American Medical Association American Medical Association, 1887 The Southern California Practitioner , 1904 Reetz v. Rigg, 367 MICH 35 (1962) , 1962 7 "We Can't Kill Your Mother!" Lawrence Martin, 2011-09-30 In the early 1980s I wrote a story about an extremely ill patient cared for in our medical intensive care unit MICU at Mt Sinai Hospital Cleveland Called A Case For Intensive Care the story was for a general audience and appeared in a local college literary magazine Until then all my published writing had been for doctors only and I wanted to explain a complicated medical case in a way that anyone could understand In the ensuing years I wrote many other patient centered stories each intended for a general audience They are now collected in We Cant Kill Your Mother and Other Stories of Intensive Care This book is for the general reader In fact the only requirement is an interest in humanity Illness and medicine are universal and everyone has some familiarity with hospitals if only from the position of consumer

Most people have at some point either been hospitalized or visited a family member in the hospital. These stories take you inside the medical intensive care unit, a major part of every acute care hospital. That's the setting, but the subject is people and their serious and sometimes strange afflictions. The first chapter gives an overview of intensive care rounds and how the MICU operates. Succeeding chapters are devoted to one or two patients and the challenges they present. Like Harold Switek, too ill to leave MICU, too psychotic to stay. And Willie the Yellow Man, whose love affair with alcohol exceeded anything you've ever seen. You'll meet a young socialite hospitalized with rapid onset of total paralysis and wonder as we did, will she ever hug her kids again. And another woman about to have her baby during a terrifying asthma attack. I am not the first and will certainly not be the last medical professional to write about his or her patients. In a literary sense, doctors and nurses are privileged; what we see in our daily jobs is more than enough to fill many interesting books.

Lawrence Martin M.D., Cleveland, Ohio Chalker v. Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway Co., 207 MICH 138 (1919), 1919 26 Under the Tree of Life Ruben D. Gonzales, 2025-09-22 After a brutal military coup shuts down a Central African country, Dr. Thema Book is hired to lead a medical mission to aid desperate villagers and is aided by a team of former special ops veterans along for protection. Beneath a stand of Baobab trees which the locals call the Tree of Life, Dr. Book and her crew are drawn into a civil war between villagers and the military. Treating the locals as well as wounded child soldiers puts the mission in jeopardy while pitting crew members against each other. Faced with the decision to run or stay, Dr. Book discovers her roots in the village stretch deeper than she thought possible. Thema decides to stay and with the help of the ops team, they fight for the people she's come to love.
