Carla F. Shelton, Edward L. James

Middle School Advisement:

Advisory John P. Galassi, Suzanne Allen Gulledge, Nancy Dailey Cox, 1998 Advisory groups have played an essential role in improving the school climate and conditions for young adolescents in schools How middle school decision makers go about the process of designing or re designing an advisory program needs to be considered A discussion is presented of the background information that helps define advisories It describes some essential elements in the design of an advisory program proposes strategies for planners to use in facilitating decision making and explores possible future directions and alternative strategies for achieving the goals of advisory programs Chapter 1 looks at the impetus and chronology of advisory programs Chapter 2 presents a nomenclature to facilitate a discussion about advisory programs The decision making process described in Chapter 3 presents a card sorting activity that allows the planner to articulate their preconceived notions about potential goals activities and outcomes of an advisory program Chapter 4 suggests that students need for personal and social guidance may be addressed in ways other than what has traditionally been called advisor advisee Considering alternative ways can enhance the processes of planning collaborative decision making and creative construction that can be the key to success for a program Contains 103 references JDM

Creating Connections Erin Tobul, Ellen D'Amore, 2018 The middle grades years can be a difficult time for young adolescents Before students can learn they need to know that you their teacher see them and get them But making connections with students can be challenging What do we need to change in our pedagogy or our teaching styles to relate to our students with a better balance of social emotional care and academic content And how can we do this so we bond with each and every student The Advisory Pride Program offers a way for you to create connections with students helping them feel like they are cared for while helping them develop the soft skills essential for high school and college The Advisory Pride Program has five themes arranged in three sequences and each chapter includes an overview of the theme a sample agenda activities and formative assessments It is both flexible and turnkey Provided by publisher

Middle School Advisory Programs Susan Cvengros Mortensen, 2007 This comprehensive investigation on middle school advising was chiefly concerned with assessing and improving an advising program at a Seattle independent school For the purpose of gathering background information the directors of six advising programs in the region were interviewed Of primary interest was the history of each program's evolution the prevailing program priorities and the common expectations of advisors Following these interviews a detailed review of the focal advisory program was conducted Meetings were held with the advisors of each grade level at a fifth through eighth grade middle school These meetings were designed to ascertain developmental trends isolate student needs and determine advisory program priorities The grade level workshops were followed by eight advisory group observations eight interviews with advisors and eight interviews with advisees Finally over 350 electronic surveys were conducted of families advisors and advisees The interviews with program directors of other schools revealed a variety of program structures styles and priorities The most common priorities of all programs were academic advocacy and community building The interviews observations and surveys of the focal school revealed these same trends for priorities and the survey data revealed that most constituents have a common understanding of what the advisor s role should be While the data revealed that the majority of constituents are pleased with the advising at this school there were dominant perceptions about what might improve overall program effectiveness Some of the recommendations include establishing clear expectations refining program purpose improving program marketing increasing advisor training and providing advisors with ample tools for helping them manage unstructured time The discussion includes the final summary of recommendations gleaned from the inquiry and the initial literature review The Responsive Advisory Meeting Book Center for Responsive Schools,Michelle Benson,Rio Clemente,Nicole Doner,Jeannie Holenko,Dana Januszka,Amber Searles,2018-03-21 Transform Advisory into Responsive Advisory Meeting with structured purpose driven plans to build relationships develop communication and social skills and support and extend academics Developed from research with middle school students and teachers in rural suburban and urban public middle schools each plan is designed to meet students needs for belonging significance and fun while helping them build skills and explore their interests
