 Violent conflicts today are complex and increasingly protracted, involving more nonstate groups and regional and international actors. It is estimated that by 2030, the horizon set by the international community for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, more than half of the world's poor will be living in countries affected by high levels of violence. Information and communication technology, population movements, and climate change are also creating shared risks that must be managed.

that presents a powerful practical method to create inner happiness. It is known as a wish granting jewel or a cluster of blessings. Practitioners of this method gain wisdom, courage, confidence, and fortune in their lives. In World Peace through Inner Happiness, Lela Ryterski provides a concise history of the development of this practice used today by the Soka Gakkai, the organization that emerged from Nichiren's teachings. The Soka Gakkai has fostered a revolutionary worldwide Buddhist movement. Ms. Ryterski has been a member for over thirty-five years. She admits to having been a shy and timid person. Making wrong decisions and living according to others, she felt like a leaf in the wind. Through the practice of Nichiren Buddhism, she has become strong. She's learned that she's an important person and so is everyone. We're all born because we have a mission and we're on this path together. By infusing society with this teaching, we can transform the world from one mired in suffering to one of peace. World Peace through Inner Happiness gives a rational account of how to make the impossible possible. You cannot do all the good that the world needs, but the world needs all the good that you can do. A

He survived a World War II prison camp to become one of the great peacemakers of the twentieth century. From struggles against segregation in the late forties to Vietnam War protests in the sixties to condemnation of nuclear weapons in the eighties, McSorley has been on the cutting edge of the great social justice movements of the last half century. His life crossed paths with many of the world's most notable figures: Dorothy Day and Peter Maurin, Martin Luther King Jr., Daniel and Philip Berrigan, the Kennedy family, Bill Clinton, Don Helder Camara, and a host of peace leaders from throughout the world. In this autobiography, published six years before his death, McSorley documents his life, his travels throughout Europe, South America, Central America, and the Middle East. His descriptions of these events form a backdrop of the real story: his spiritual journey toward active peacemaking and unswerving pacifism. Through it all, he weaves the thread of the theology of peace. He applies gospel principles to our social and government structures. McSorley may be best known for his ability to cut through academic arguments to state the truth in the most basic of terms. He counters the justification of war with the biblical call to love enemies.
