Pathways Of Change In Africa:

Pathways of Change in Africa Ian Scoones, 2002 In the literature of sustainable development many have argued for the encouragement of mixed farming involving the integration of livestock and crops on one farm to meet the needs of small scale African farming systems Scoones and Wolmer both with the Environment Group at the Institute of Development Studies U of Sussex argue that behind this argument is the implicit or explicit assumption that mixed farming represents a stage in a normative evolutionary process towards an ideal They suggest that this view is mistaken and that mixed farming is only one of a range of possible pathways of change in agricultural systems They present case studies from Ethiopia Mali and Zimbabwe and analyze how social actors have varying access to resources This variance is often due to institutional arrangements that are too often ignored in discussions of mixed farming and therefore fail to take into account situations that could help development efforts to be more effectively targeted Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Evaluation Management in South Africa and Africa Fanie Cloete, 2014-12-01 This blind peer reviewed book systematically records analyses and assesses for the first time in a single volume the implications of the global development and management of professional evaluation for the African continent The book deals with the most strategic contemporary evaluation themes Each of these themes contains discussions of theoretical issues illustrated with one or more short case studies while selected longer case studies and other relevant documentation are also taken up in annexures at the end of the book. The book therefore comprises a guide to best M E practices for purposes of systematic policy programme and project evaluations. It is suitable for both professional M E institutionalisation and capacity building projects as well as for evaluation information dissemination and education at different levels in the public private and voluntary sectors in society especially in a developmental context.

Women and Power in Post-Conflict Africa Aili Mari Tripp, 2015-10-20. The book explains an unexpected consequence of the decrease in conflict in Africa after the 1990s. Analysis of cross national data and in depth comparisons of case studies of Uganda, Liberia and Angola show that post conflict countries have significantly higher rates of women's political representation in legislatures and government compared with countries that have not undergone major conflict. They have also passed more legislative reforms and made more constitutional changes relating to women's rights. The study explains how and why these patterns emerged, tying these outcomes to the conjuncture of the rise of women's movements, changes in international women's rights norms and most importantly gender disruptions that occur during war. This book will help scholars, students, women's rights activists, international donors, policy makers, non governmental organizations, NGOs and others better understand some of the circumstances that are most conducive to women's rights reform today and why.

Energy Regulation in Africa Ishmael Ackah, Charly Gatete, 2024-03-19. This book analyzes the political economy governing energy regulation across the African continent. Presenting case studies that span diverse energy sectors and countries, it provides an overview of their complex political and regulatory frameworks. The book explores emerging technologies and energy markets, highlighting Africa's preparedness for the energy transition and sheds light on the pivotal role of cross border energy trade with regard to energy access. Further, it examines regulators' influence within regional power pools as well as their contribution to gender mainstreaming in the energy sector, addressing vital social issues. This book is divided into five parts, the first of which focuses on the political economy of energy regulation. The second part discusses emerging technologies and climate change issues, while the third examines regional energy markets and regional institutional collaboration. The fourth part features contributions on gender mainstreaming, while part five rounds up the coverage. The book will be of interest to policymakers and investors in Africa as well as scholars interested in energy regulation and economics.

Gender Equality, Climate Action, and Technological Innovation for Sustainable Development in Africa Ogechi Adeola, Olaniyi Evans, Innocent Ngare, 2023-12-07. This open access book explores the intersection of gender and climate change, suggests ways in which innovative technologies can accelerate climate relief actions, and offers strategies for integrating climate change initiatives into national policies and planning. By examining the devastating consequences of climate change on women and girls throughout the continent, the authors pose a crucial question: Does gender matter in climate change discussions in Africa? Political and social traditions have burdened women with greater vulnerability to the impacts of climate related natural disasters, including violence, displacement, poverty, famine, and lack of access to clean water However women are also key to effective and inclusive climate mitigation adaptation and decision making The authors provide a compelling discourse that identifies the social and economic benefits for all citizens when genderinclusive policies shape equitable and targeted action plans from mitigationto adaptation and funding The UN s SDG 13 calls for urgent action and commitment to combat climate change The implementable and action oriented propositions presented in this book will be of interest to students educators practitioners third sector actors and policymakers committed to gender equality sustainable development and climate action in Africa

Pathways to Prosperity for Adolescent Girls in Africa Kehinde Ajayi,Estelle Koussoubé,2025-01-22 Africa stands at a crossroads with its future prosperity hinging on the policy and investment decisions it makes today The continent has an opportunity to shape the trajectories of generations to come by investing in the success of a pivotal population its adolescent girls With over 145 million adolescent girls calling Africa home the potential for transformative change is immense Yet challenges persist from high rates of child marriage to limited educational opportunities Over half of African girls ages 15 to 19 are out of school or married or have children How can African countries overcome these challenges to ensure that adolescent girls enter adulthood empowered to thrive Pathways to Prosperity for Adolescent Girls in Africa offers a groundbreaking road map for change This landmark report Outlines concrete actionable policy recommendations Provides a comprehensive review of evidence based interventions Presents a data driven categorization of African countries to guide investments in adolescent girls and Introduces an innovative framework for understanding and measuring adolescent girls empowerment Drawing on extensive research and consultations with adolescent girls policy makers and practitioners this report reveals that investing in adolescent girls can yield a tenfold return in economic impact It outlines six key areas for targeted action building human capital enhancing economic success focusing on the most vulnerable girls adopting a holistic approach addressing data and evidence gaps and mobilizing diverse stakeholders Whether you are a policy maker researcher development practitioner or advocate this report will equip you with the knowledge and tools to drive meaningful change Discover how empowering adolescent girls can transform individual lives and African economies Join the movement to secure a brighter future for Africa s adolescent girls and nations alike The time for action is now

Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa Melissa Leach,Ian Scoones,2015-06-05 Amidst the pressing challenges of global climate change the last decade has seen a wave of forest carbon projects across the world designed to conserve and enhance forest carbon stocks in order to reduce carbon emissions from deforestation and offset emissions elsewhere Exploring a set of new empirical case studies Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa examines how these projects are unfolding their effects and who is gaining and losing Situating forest carbon approaches as part of more general moves to address environmental problems by attaching market values to nature and ecosystems it examines how new projects interact with forest landscapes and their longer histories of intervention The book asks what difference does carbon make What political and ecological dynamics are unleashed by these new commodified marketized approaches and how are local forest users experiencing and responding to them The book s case studies cover a wide range of African ecologies project types and national political economic contexts By examining these cases in a comparative framework and within an understanding of the national regional and global institutional arrangements shaping forest carbon commoditisation the book provides a rich and compelling account of how and why carbon conflicts are emerging and how they might be avoided in future This book will be of interest to students of development studies environmental sciences geography economics development studies and anthropology as well as practitioners and policy makers

Hydroclimatic Extremes in the Middle East and North Africa Ahmed Mohammed Hussain El Kenawy, El Sayed Mohamed Robaa, Mohammed Magdy Mustafa Torab, Mohamed Hereher, 2024-05-29 Hydroclimatic Extremes in the Middle East and North Africa Assessment Attribution and Socioeconomic Impacts focuses on assessing the current situation of hydroclimatic extremes in the MENA region with particular emphasis on dry and wet extreme events The results of the rapidly changing atmospheric and oceanic situations of these extremes will be addressed presenting examples for the environmental socioeconomic and cultural impacts of these events in the region and evaluating the current ability to monitor and adapt to such events as well as exploring the potential use of advanced geospatial techniques in improving current understanding of these extreme events The book utilizes a multidisciplinary approach with various state of the art methods approaches and analytical techniques in environmental meteorological and hydrological sciences providing case studies from the Middle East and North Africa It will provide a solid basis for scientists to assess the validation of several research methods in the region and may be applicable to other regions as climate change continues to cause increasing aridity worldwide The case studies presented will reflect the multifaceted character of hydrometeorological extremes in the region with representative examples for the environmental socioeconomic and cultural impacts of climate change Therefore this book is a valuable source for climatologists meteorologists hydrologists geographers and water resources scientists Thoroughly details the effects of climate variability in the Middle East and North Africa a hotspot region of climate change vulnerability Examines changes in hydroclimatic extremes at different spatial scales ranging from local assessments to investigations that cover the entire region Provides a comprehensive assessment of hydrometeorological feedback to current and future climate change in the MENA region Fills the current gap in the literature concerning the response of arid and semiarid regions to climate change with particular emphasis on the MENA region

Livestock: A Pathway out of Poverty, The Palgrave Handbook of Democracy, Governance and Justice in Africa Aderomola Adeola, Makau W. Mutua, 2022-10-03 There is an emerging consensus that what is projected as democratic governance and justice in Africa requires a re calibration in particular in relation to the constitutive demos human rights the realisation of commitments at various governance levels and the convergence between these ideations The post colonial narrative on democracy has unveiled some crevices in rule of law political equality political participation political culture and freedom of the press Aside from the fact that these notions are threatened by some existing institutional structures these notions are increasingly being negotiated across political spaces Evident in the prevalent narrative is an imperative for Africa to assert its place on the global scene of democratic governance and justice However if this will be accomplished it is important to understand some of the issues that need to be worked through in this transition

2019 Annual trends and outlook report: Gender equality in rural Africa: From commitments to outcomes Agnes Quisumbing,Ruth Suseela Meinzen-Dick,Jemimah Njuki,2019-10-31 Gender sensitive policy and programming have an integral role to play in fostering inclusive agricultural growth to meet the commitments of African countries to the Malabo Declaration goals The 2019 Annual Trends and Outlook Report from ReSAKSS applies a gender lens to key issues that must be addressed to fully achieve these goals Chapters examine the intersections between gender and 1 the context and institutions within which rural people operate 2 the natural resources that men and women depend on for agriculture sources of vulnerability and resilience to shocks 3 assets and income and 4 livelihood strategies and well being The report serves as the official M E report for the Comprehensive Africa Agriculture Development Programme CAADP tracking progress on over 30 CAADP indicators

Liber Amicorum Marius Paul Olivier,Letlhokwa George Mpedi,Evance Kalula,2020-12-10 Though some may categorise this work as a memorial publication this book of friends is truly a celebratory publication by colleagues from Africa and beyond who had the privilege to know Edwell and Mathias personally It is a tribute to the life and work of two individuals that each made a unique contribution to social justice law and its development As evidenced by the Tributes and Lists of Publications contained herein both Edwell and Nyenti as they were colloquially known were productive scholars but they leave a legacy that extends beyond the academic realm to that of friendship and shared humanity

Livestock, a pathway out of poverty: ILRI's strategy to 2010 , Institutional Arrangements for Conservation, Development and Tourism in Eastern and Southern Africa René van der Duim,Machiel Lamers,Jakomijn van Wijk,2014-11-16 This book presents an overview of different institutional arrangements for tourism biodiversity conservation and rural poverty reduction in eastern and southern Africa These approaches range from conservancies in Namibia community based organizations in Botswana conservation enterprises in Kenya private game reserves in South Africa to sport hunting in Uganda and transfrontier conservation areas The book presents a comparative analysis of these arrangements and highlights that most arrangements emerged in the 1990s through either a decentralized or centralized change trajectory that was sponsored by donors They aim to address some of the challenges of the fortress types of conservation by combining principles of community based natural resource management with a neoliberal approach to conservation evident in the use of tourism as the main mechanism for accruing benefits from wildlife The book illustrates the empirical relevance of these novel arrangements by presenting their growth in numbers and discuss how these arrangements differ in their form With respect to the conservation and development impacts of these arrangements we show that they have secured large amounts of land for conservation but also generated governance challenges and disputes on tourism benefit sharing affecting the stability of these arrangements to generate socioeconomic and conservation benefits

Medical Geology of Africa Theophilus Clavell Davies,2024-06-14

Medical Geology of Africa explores the connection between geological materials processes and the health of humans and animals The book fosters an improved understanding of the ways in which the geological environment impacts the geographical distribution of health problems and how they contribute to better diagnoses and therapy Africa s unique geoenvironmental condition gives added relevance to such studies underlining the need for geoscience and public health students and practitioners to understand new principles and applications Chapters in the book provide extended enquiry based investigations and examples that employ real geochemical datasets epidemiological records public health statistics and visualizations Provides a summary of current research on Medical Geology of Africa Identifies gaps in knowledge of the role of the geo environment in deciphering unknown aetiologies Assembles the most recent literature on current thematic issues and prescribes directions of future research

Biological Invasions in South Africa Brian W. van Wilgen,John

Measey,David M. Richardson,John R. Wilson,Tsungai A. Zengeya,2020-03-10 This open access volume presents a comprehensive account of all aspects of biological invasions in South Africa where research has been conducted over more than three decades and where bold initiatives have been implemented in attempts to control invasions and to reduce their ecological economic and social effects It covers a broad range of themes including history policy development and implementation the status of invasions of animals and plants in terrestrial marine and freshwater environments the development of a robust ecological theory around biological invasions the effectiveness of management interventions and scenarios for the future The South African situation stands out because of the remarkable diversity of the country and the wide range of problems encountered in its varied ecosystems which has resulted in a disproportionate investment into both research and management The South African experience holds many lessons for other parts of the world and this book should be of immense value to researchers students managers and policy makers who deal with biological invasions and ecosystem management and conservation in most other regions

Culture, Entertainment and Health

Promotion in Africa Kimani Njogu,2005 This book brings together multiple voices and positions from Africa These voices assembled during a 2003 Soap Summit held in Nairobi are powerful and varied and suggest ways in which issues of health

could be tackled in an entertaining manner The summit organised by Population Communications International Africa highlighted the critical role that the arts can play in ensuring better health especially among the youth It resulted from the recognition that young people in Africa are faced with a myriad of problems and complications as they struggle to deal with growth and identity formation within a globalising social and economic setup They are in dire need of information on their own sexuality and how to deal with it and are getting conflicting signals from the mass media as well as their immediate environment The youth are under intense pressure from their peers to engage in premarital sex which is in most cases unprotected The HIV AIDS epidemic presents frightening challenges and all health programs should look for ways of dealing with it Of great to concern is the vulnerability of women and girls in Africa due to rising poverty gender violence lack of access to youth friendly reproductive health facilities and lack of a conducive infrastructure especially in informal settlements and in the rural areas The myriad problems presented by the pandemic require a multi sectoral approach This book brings together a number of strategies being undertaken in Africa that combine entertainment and education in a positive way The voices from the Soap Summit are interspersed with those of the Editor to create a dialogue on entertainment education that contributes to the discussion on the way social change might be undertaken
