Commentary on Paul's Letter to the Philippians Zack Meaders Guess, 2017-10-17 Pastor Guess has been preaching for over fifty years and considers it a great privilege that God called him into the ministry During this time he has had a love affair with the Word of God Early in his ministry he was drawn to Paul's Epistle to the Philippians This church was extremely generous and helpful to Paul It was obviously a favorite church of Paul Brother Guess began to study the book and eventually memorized it He has preached through it several times He wrote this commentary as a labor of love He also loves the Koine Greek that the Lord used in the inspiration of the New Testament In writing this commentary he has heavily drawn from many of the divinely inspired grammatical constructions that cast much light on this epistle Also he has done extensive Greek word studies that provide a spiritual gold mine Any New Testament assembly that wants to please the Lord would do well to study and emulate this delightful church that caused the beloved apostle such joy

A Roman Commentary on St. Paul's Letter to the Philippians Richard J. Cassidy, 2019-09-03 Paul writes his letter to the Philippians referencing two related forms of persecution The Christians of Philippi are experiencing persecution by the Roman authorities who govern the Philippi Paul himself is experiencing persecution by the Roman authorities the Roman emperor's praetorian guard in Rome Roman persecution is thus the fundamental context for his letter Paul's most basic premise in this letter is to hold high the slave Jesus Christ In perhaps the most moving passage he ever wrote Phil 2:6-11 Paul delineates that Jesus did not count equality with God something to be grasped at but rather empties himself taking the form of a slave and embracing crucifixion the slave's form of death Accordingly God has raised Jesus to the highest place and has caused all on the earth above the earth and under the earth to bow at the name of Jesus and to proclaim that Jesus alone is Lord to the glory of God the Father Very significantly Paul affirms that Christian slaves are ennobled by Jesus initiatives Because these slaves now join the other Christian citizens in having citizenship in heaven Paul's letter constitutes a radical threat to the Roman imperial authorities in this way as well

The Price of Partnership in the Letter of Paul to the Philippians Mark A. Jennings, 2018-01-25 Mark A Jennings challenges the consensus that there is no clear single purpose that shapes the entire epistle to the Philippians instead arguing that there is significant evidence for Paul to have written the letter with the sole intent of persuading the church to maintain its exclusive partnership with him and his gospel mission Jennings examines each section of Philippians with standard historical critical methods rhetorical criticism and social scientific methods Establishing that Paul's argument is rooted in three fundamental tenets emphasis is first placed on koinonia and the agreement that Paul and the Philippians had entered into regarding his apostolic mission Second Jennings looks at the repeated proofs that Paul offers that simultaneously affirm the ordained superiority of his apostolic mission and repudiate the claims of his rivals Third Jennings analyses the issue of finances in the epistle discussing how Paul rhetorically transforms the Philippians financial support into a salient indicator that they esteem his gospel mission authentic Finally whereas other scholars have argued that Paul entreats the Philippians to be steadfast in their commitment to the gospel of Christ Jennings proposes that Paul urges the church to be steadfast in their commitment to his gospel of Christ Jennings then considers how this seemingly small distinction has profound ramifications for understanding the letter and shows the gap between these interpretations

Philippians Peter Oakes, 2007-04-30 A case study in modelling the social make up of an early Christian community

The Mission of the Church James P. Ware, 2005-11-01 Paul seemingly nowhere in his letters commands his congregations to preach the gospel Therefore many scholars have concluded that Paul's thinking had little or no place for a mission of the church This study undertakes a fresh investigation of the question by devoting close attention to a text hitherto overlooked in discussion of early Christian mission Paul's letter to the Philippians The Jewish context of Paul's thought in Philippians is the key to unlocking his understanding of church and mission in the letter The study accordingly begins in Part One with an investigation of conversion of gentiles in ancient Judaism Part Two drawing upon this Jewish context focuses on close exegesis of Philippians revealing the crucial place of the mission of the church in Paul's thought The questions addressed by this study go to the heart of our understanding of Paul and of mission in earliest Christianity A
