Proust Et Les Signes French Language:

Reading in Proust's A la recherche Adam Watt, 2009-06-18 Through close textual analysis of the scenes of reading in Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu Adam Watt offers an invigorating new study of the novel and previously unacknowledged paths through it After considering key childhood Primal Scenes which mark the act of reading as revelatory and potentially traumatic the book then identifies and examines the interwoven strands of the novel's narrative of reading showing that scenes where the narrator reads and where others provide lessons in reading are intricately connected within the narrator's ever unfolding considerations of intelligence sense experience knowledge and desire These acts of reading often bewildering the narrator with their mix of illuminations wrong turns and over determinations lead us to interrogate our own understanding of the act we accomplish as we read A la recherche This book emphasizes the complexities and contradictions with which reading always inescapably an engagement of both mind and body is riven and which connect it repeatedly to the experience of involuntary memory Reading is shown to be frequently fraught with heady instability and lure of a highly revealing sort from which narrator and readers alike have much to learn The book's final chapter shows how the narrator's critical energies turned contemplatively inwards in the Guermantes library are subsequently turned outwards for a final interpretive effort the reading of his now aged acquaintances at the Bal de t tes in a shift that provides the narrator not only the confidence to begin his work of art but also the humility to face undeterred the approach of death

Love, Desire and Transcendence in French Literature Paul Gifford, 2016-12-05 European literature and theory of the twentieth century have been intensely preoccupied with questions of Desire whereas love has increasingly represented a fractured and strange if not actually suspect proposal this is a prime symptom of an age of deep cultural mutation and uncertainty Paul Gifford's book allows this considerable contemporary phenomenon to be observed steadily and whole with strategic understanding of its origins nature and meaning Gifford paints a clear and coherent picture of the evolution of erotic ideas and their imaginary and formal expressions in modern French writing He first retraces the formative matrix of French tradition by engaging with five classic sources Plato's Symposium the Song of Songs the myth of Genesis the tension between Greek Eros and Christian Agape and the repercussions of Nietzsche's declaration of the death of God Modern variations on these perennial problematics are then pursued in ten chapters devoted to Proust Valéry Claudel Breton Bataille Duras Barthes Irigaray Emmanuel Kristeva Literary and theoretical perspectives are perfectly blended in his study of these attempts at deciphering Eros The book will appeal not only to students of French literature but to all those interested in the cultural upheavals of the twentieth century

Poststructuralism and Critical Theory's Second Generation Alan D. Schrift, 2014-09-11 Poststructuralism and Critical Theory's Second Generation analyses the major themes and developments in a period that brought continental philosophy to the forefront of scholarship in a variety of humanities and social science disciplines and that set the agenda for philosophical thought on the continent and elsewhere from the 1960s to the present Focusing on the years 1960-1984 the volume examines the major figures associated with poststructuralism and the second generation of critical theory the two dominant movements that emerged in the 1960s Althusser Foucault Deleuze Derrida Lyotard Irigaray and Habermas Influential thinkers such as Serres Bourdieu and Rorty who are not easily placed in standard histories of the period are also covered Beyond this thematic essays engage with issues as diverse as the Nietzschean legacy the linguistic turn in continental thinking the phenomenological inheritance of Gadamer and Ricoeur the influence of psychoanalysis the emergence of feminist thought and a philosophy of sexual difference the renewal of the critical theory tradition and the importation of continental philosophy into literary theory

A Bergsonian Approach to Translation and Time Salah Basalamah, 2024-10-15 This innovative book offers a systematic conceptual exploration of translation through the lens of time challenging the traditional notion of translation as mere linguistic transfer and advancing a new research agenda within the philosophy of translation The volume sets the stage by establishing an overarching framework that positions the philosophy of translation as a distinct subdiscipline within translation studies It then reviews existing scholarship on translation in light of Henri Bergson's philosophy of time proposing an expanded conceptualization of translation Using this foundation Basalamah explores a variety of topics at the intersection of translation and time from transdisciplinary perspectives including epistemology consciousness mediations through image and art the mind-body problem time in phenomenology and ethical and religious considerations As a pioneering work on the temporal characteristic of translation this book will be of interest to students and scholars in translation studies especially those focused on its philosophical treatment

The Reject Irving Goh, 2014-10-15 This book proposes a theory of the reject a more adequate figure than the subject for thinking friendship love community democracy the postsecular and the posthuman Through close readings of Nancy Deleuze Derrida Cixous Clement Bataille Balibar Rancière and Badiou Goh shows how the reject has always been nascent in contemporary

French thought The recent turn to animals and bare life as well as the rise of the Occupy movement he argues presents a special urgency to think the reject today Thinking the reject most importantly helps to advance our commitment to affirm others without acculturating their differences But the reject also offers Goh proposes a response finally commensurate with the radical horizon of Nancy's question of who comes after the subject

The History of Continental Philosophy Alan D. Schrift, 2013-04-12 From Kant to Kierkegaard from Hegel to Heidegger continental philosophers have indelibly shaped the trajectory of Western thought since the eighteenth century Although much has been written about these monumental thinkers students and scholars lack a definitive guide to the entire scope of the continental tradition The most comprehensive reference work to date this eight volume History of Continental Philosophy will both encapsulate the subject and reorient our understanding of it Beginning with an overview of Kant's philosophy and its initial reception the History traces the evolution of continental philosophy through major figures as well as movements such as existentialism phenomenology hermeneutics and poststructuralism The final volume outlines the current state of the field bringing the work of both historical and modern thinkers to bear on such contemporary topics as feminism globalization and the environment Throughout the volumes examine important philosophical figures and developments in their historical political and cultural contexts The first reference of its kind A History of Continental Philosophy has been written and edited by internationally recognized experts with a commitment to explaining complex thinkers texts and movements in rigorous yet jargon free essays suitable for both undergraduates and seasoned specialists These volumes also elucidate ongoing debates about the nature of continental and analytic philosophy surveying the distinctive sometimes overlapping characteristics and approaches of each tradition Featuring helpful overviews of major topics and plotting road maps to their underlying contexts A History of Continental Philosophy is destined to be the resource of first and last resort for students and scholars alike

Space in Theory Russell West-Pavlov, 2009 Space in Theory Kristeva Foucault Deleuze seeks to give a detailed but succinct overview of the role of spatial reflection in three of the most influential French critical thinkers of recent decades It proposes a step by step analysis of the changing place of space in their theories focussing on the common problematic all three critics address but highlighting the significant differences between them It aims to rectify an unaccountable absence of detailed analysis to the significance of space in their work up until now Space in Theory argues that Kristeva Foucault and Deleuze address the question How are meaning and knowledge produced in contemporary society What makes it possible to speak and think in ways we take for granted The answer which all three thinkers provide is space This space takes various forms psychic subjective space in Kristeva power knowledge space in Foucault and the spaces of life as multiple flows of becoming in Deleuze This book alternates between analyses of these thinkers theoretical texts and brief digressions into literary texts by Baricco de Beauvoir Beckett Bodrožić or Bonnefoy via Borges Forster Gide Gilbert Glissant Hall to Kafka Ondaatje Proust Sartre Warner and Woolf These detours through literature aim to render more concrete and accessible the highly complex conceptualization of contemporary spatial theory This volume is aimed at students postgraduates and researchers interested in the areas of French poststructuralist theory spatial reflection or more generally contemporary cultural theory and cultural studies
