Effects of Higher Education Reforms: Change Dynamics Martina Vukasović, Peter Maassen, Monika Nerland, Bjørn Stensaker, 2012-12-09 Higher education is in transition On the one hand over the last decades it has become politically and economically more important and thus also an object of reforms. On the other hand, higher education has become less special and is no longer able to justify its unique governance arrangements. This volume presents a collection of contributions that go beyond reform agendas as such and focus on the effects of reforms at all relevant levels in higher education systems. It is organised in four themes: education research governance and academic profession with a variety of levels of analysis; theoretical perspectives; methodological approaches; and geographical foci. The topics in focus include the possible impact of latest national and European initiatives; changes in the primary processes of education and research on the levels of institutions, professions and for individuals as well as higher education dynamics in contexts often overlooked in the literature, e.g. Africa. The aim is to take stock of the growing knowledge basis with respect to higher education with a special focus on the influence of reforms on the key aspects of higher education.

Transformation in Higher Education Nico Cloete, 2006. This book presents the most comprehensive and most thorough study of the developments in South African higher education and research after the first democratic elections of 1994, that is of post-Apartheid South African higher education. This volume will provide its readers with a detailed insight into the new, i.e. post-1994 South African higher education system. The large number of experienced authors and editors involved in the book guarantees that the reader will be introduced to the new SA higher education system from a large number of perspectives that are presented in a consistent and coherent way. This book will be of interest to scholars, students, administrators, policymakers and politicians interested in South African higher education and research and policy analysis. Publications on higher education are not new. But this volume, which is the first of its kind as a collective effort of tracing and examining the twists and turns taken by processes of change in the South African higher education system in a context of profound societal and global transformation, adds a fresh dimension to the debate. In its examination of the extent to which the changes were in line with policy intentions, particularly with regard to equity, democratisation, responsiveness and efficiency, and how a new institutional landscape started emerging, it makes a momentous contribution to the current debate about higher education restructuring.

Njabulo Ndebele, Vice-chancellor, University of Cape Town and Chair of the South African Association of University Vice-chancellors. This book addresses a rich variety of issues on South African higher education. It puts these in the relevant context of the process of globalization and it shows that the South African experiences offer us a lot to learn. Highly recommended for those who are intrigued by the innovations taking place in South African higher education as well as for those who intend to grasp the effects of globalization.

Frans van Vught, Rector Magnificus and founding Director of the Center for Higher Education Policy Studies, University of Twente, The Netherlands. Reflection is a crucial ingredient to learning. In this book on higher education, we have reflections on a unique period in the history of a country that managed its transition to democracy in a way that was unique but from which we can all learn. Higher education in South Africa played a vital role in that transition and was part of the many tensions, choices and influences. They have been thoughtfully captured. Brenda Gourley Vice chancellor The Open University UK and board member Centre for Higher Education Transformation No contemporary higher education system has changed as dramatically as that in South Africa This book rich in data examines the changes that took place and offers insights into how change frequently cannot be predicted The analysis captures the excitement high expectations remarkable successes and failures in the transformation of the apartheid system of higher education This excellent study provides rich fare for comparative analysis Fred M Hayward American Council on Education Pilot Project Executive Vice President Council for Higher Education Accreditation US Managing Reform in Universities B. Stensaker, J. Välimaa, C. Sarrico, 2012-09-27 This collection now in paperback explores how universities are coping with the range of reforms and changes taking place across higher education today Analyzing areas such as leadership quality management strategic thinking collegiality and academic work and from the perspective of different agents within higher education including students academics and management this book examines the various differences between reform attempts and the actual changes happening in universities University Dynamics and European Integration Peter Maassen, Johan P. Olsen, 2007-07-23 This book explores the visions underlying the attempts to reform the European University as well as two European integration processes It presents a framework for analyzing ongoing modernization reforms and reform debates that take place at various governance levels and a long term research agenda It convincingly argues why the knowledge basis under the current University reforms in Europe should be considerably strengthened

The European Higher Education Area, 2019-02-11 This volume presents the state of the art with respect to the most important elements of the Bologna process The reflections on the past are also used to fuel the debate on the next decade In 2008 the Flemish Ministry of Education and Training invited the editors to produce a volume with chapters discussing topics that are deemed to be most salient in the coming decade Based on a tentative list of themes to be covered initially suggested by the Ministry the editors have solicited contributions from appropriate scholars experts on the specific topics As a result this volume contains a rich set of chapters which address the promises and perils of the Bologna process and its preliminary outcomes A difficult task given that the process is a target on the move and even changing in nature during the process It is also a difficult task because evidence can be interpreted differently paving the way for new paradoxes and complex interactions between the actors in the field Consequently we are faced with new questions every time we believe answers to old questions have been found The contributors to the volume not necessarily agree in their analyses of the Bologna process but there is nevertheless a fair amount of consensus According to their analyses governance quality mobility and diversity are the topics that have been most important to the Bologna process in the past and will be at centre stage in future discussions The book is meant to be a reflective exercise for those involved in whatever way in the Bologna process researchers teachers managers political decision makers The material is also relevant to those outside of the countries currently subscribing to the Bologna process Knowledge Production in European Universities Kwiek Marek, 2012-11-23

The book studies transformations of European universities in the context of globalization and Europeanization the questioning of the foundations of the Golden Age of the Keynesian welfare state public sector reforms demographic changes the massification and diversification of higher education and the emergence of knowledge economies Such phenomena as academic entrepreneurialism and diversified channels of knowledge exchange in European universities are linked to transformations of the state and changes in public sector services The first contextual part of the book studies the changing state university relationships and the second empirically informed part draws from several recent large scale comparative European research projects
