Regional Integration Experience Theory :

Regional Integration A. M. El-Agraa, 1999 Regional Integration provides a comprehensive and critical analysis of both the theoretical and empirical literature in international economic integration initially inspired by the creation of the European Coal and Steel Community in 1951 and enhanced since the 1960s through the proliferation of regional integration schemes Focusing on the pure theoretical and technical empirical work in the field the author covers all developments in abstract modeling and measurement techniques In assessing the experience of regional integration El Agraa addresses the issues of customs unions versus free trade areas customs unilateral tariff reduction regional integration and multilateralism and estimating the benefits of integrated markets Regional Integration fully updates and revises the analysis of the author's very well received The Theory and Measurement of International Economic Integration 1989 to take into account the impact of another decade of rapid integration around the world

Regional Integration, Identity & Citizenship in the Greater Horn of Africa Kidane Mengisteab, Redie Bereketeab, 2012 Examines how regional integration can resolve the crises of the Greater Horn of Africa exploring how it can be used as a mechanism for conflict resolution promoting the economy and tackling issues of identity and citizenship The Greater Horn of Africa GHA is engulfed by three interrelated crises various inter state wars civil wars and inter communal conflicts an economic crisis manifested in widespread debilitating poverty chronic food insecurity and famines and environmental degradation that is ravaging the region While it is apparent that the countries of the region are unlikely to be able to deal with the crises individually there is consensus that their chances of doing so improve markedly with collective regional action The contributors to this volume address the need for regional integration in the GHA They identify those factors that can foster integration such as the proper management of equitable citizenship rights as well as examining those that impede it including the region's largely ineffective integration scheme IGAD and explore how the former can be strengthened and the latter transformed explain how regional integration can mitigate the conflicts and examine how integration can help to energise the region's economy Kidane Mengisteab is Professor of African Studies and Political Science at Penn State University Redie Bereketeab is a researcher at the Nordic Africa Institute Sweden

Assessment and Measurement of Regional Integration Philippe De Lombaerde, 2006-09-27 The book fills a niche in the market for books on regional integration where most of the publications deal with theory or the analysis of specific cases almost no books can be found dealing with analytical methodology The book includes a combination of well known and expert scholars and up and coming young academics The book will appeal strongly to both economists and politics and while the authors present an interdisciplinary approach the economists and political scientists' approaches are kept separate

Regional integration and productivity : the experiences of Brazil and Mexico (Working Paper ITD = Documento de Trabajo ITD ; n. 14) Mauricio Mesquita Moreira, Ernesto Lopez Cordova, 2015 What is the impact of integration on productivity What are the main channels Is there anything specific about productivity effects in regional agreements This paper tries to answer these questions by looking at the experience of Brazil and Mexico We estimate firm level productivity and test its causal links with trade and FDI variables The results suggest strong trade related gains with import discipline emerging as the dominant effect The results on learning by exporting were mixed with gains restricted to Brazil's regional and worldwide exports On FDI foreign firms appear to have had a positive impact on their buyers and suppliers in Mexico but in Brazil the overall impact was statistically insignificant on productivity levels and negative on productivity growth

Regional Integration Processes in the Commonwealth of Independent States Katarzyna

Czerewacz-Filipowicz, Agnieszka Konopelko, 2016-11-26 This book investigates the economic political and cultural factors that influence regional economic integration processes as well as international political cooperation in the area of the Commonwealth of Independent States CIS The authors analyze market integration manifested in interregional trade investment and service connections Taking a constructivist approach they shed new light on how national ethnic religious and linguistic factors as well as systems of government political regimes and models of leadership shape foreign policy decision making in various post Soviet countries European Economic and Political Issues Frank H. The European Union Ali El-Agraa,2007-08-09 The European Union provides a comprehensive introduction to the economics and policies of the EU

Roadmap to an ASEAN Economic Community Denis Hew Wei-Yen,2005 At the Ninth ASEAN Summit in Bali on 7 October 2003 the leaders of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations agreed to establish an ASEAN Economic Community AEC by 2020 It is envisaged that the AEC would be a single market and production base with a free flow of goods and services investments capital and skilled labour An integrated ASEAN with a sizeable market of over 500 million people could become an alternative to China as a regional production base for MNCs Although there are roadmaps for the fast track integration of eleven priority sectors an overall longer term roadmap needs to be formulated to realize the AEC This book addresses the main issues

New Regionalism and the European Union Alex Warleigh-Lack,Nick Robinson,Ben Rosamond,2011-06-01 The debates on regionalism have been polarized between European Union EU scholars and non EU scholars with the assumption being that regionalism within the EU and other regions of the world are quite distinct with little to be learnt from dialogue with each other This book challenges such assumptions and calls for a genuine debate between scholars of regionalism This book demonstrates that more can and needs to be learned about regional integration all over the world through comparison and reflection on specific regional trends Beginning with a theoretically driven introduction leading experts in the field are brought together to offer a series of case studies on regional integration within Latin America Africa Asia North America and Europe In Part III the authors investigate the links between the EU and selected other regional organisations and processes exploring the dynamics through which these interregional relations are developing and the implications they have for the study of contemporary regionalism regionalisation both inside and beyond the continent of Europe The conclusions set out a challenging research agenda for comparative studies in the field Addressing one of the under explored aspects of EU studies the EU s coexistence with other pan continental regional organisations in the European continent this book will be of interest to students and scholars of regionalism IPE European Studies and international politics

The European Union Illuminated A. El-Agraa,2015-05-05 The EU is under stress Many believe in the euro s demise because they blame it for the 2008 financial crisis and the unwelcome austerity measures Many resent the immigrants from the new EU member states threatening the survival of the Single European Market Many complain of a Brussels diktat seeking an escape from joint EU decisions Several member states want to unilaterally deal with the enhanced competition from the emerging markets especially China undermining the EU's common commercial policy run by a single EU commissioner. And many in the UK want its exit from the EU diluting EU unity and reducing its global influence. These concerns are either misguided or require a stronger EU to deal with them. This book aims to address these issues by considering the nature, importance, and future of the European Union.

The Politics of Regionalism in South Asia B. Mohanan, 1992

The SAGE Handbook of Comparative Politics Todd Landman, Neil Robinson, 2009-06-16

The SAGE Handbook of Comparative Politics presents in one volume an authoritative overview of the theoretical, methodological, and substantive elements of comparative political science. The 28 specially commissioned chapters written by renowned comparative scholars guide the reader through the central issues and debates, presenting a state-of-the-art guide to the past, present, and possible futures of the field.

Re-imagining Border Studies in South Asia Dhananjay Tripathi, 2020-12-23

This book presents a radical rethinking of Border Studies. Framing the discipline beyond conventional topics of spatiality and territoriality, it presents a distinctly South Asian perspective: a post-colonial and post-partition region where most borders were drawn with political motives, ignoring the socio-cultural realities of the region and economic necessities of the people. The authors argue that while securing borders is an essential function of the state in this interconnected world, crossing borders and border cooperation is also necessary. The book examines contemporaneous and topical themes like disputes of identity and nationhood, the impact of social media on Border Studies, trans-border cooperation, water sharing between countries, and resolution of border problems in the age of liberalisation and globalisation. It also suggests ways of enhancing cross-border economic cooperation and connectivity and reviews security issues from a new perspective. Well-supplemented with case studies, the book will serve as an indispensable text for scholars and researchers of Border Studies, military and strategic studies, international relations, geopolitics, and South Asian studies. It will also be of great interest to think tanks and government agencies, especially those dealing with foreign relations.

The Impact of the Global Financial Crisis on Emerging Financial Markets Jonathan Batten, Peter G. Szilagyi, 2011-03-02

The Global Financial Crisis of 2007-2009 has highlighted the resilience of the financial markets and economies from the developing world. This title investigates and assesses the impact and response to the crisis from an emerging markets perspective, including asset pricing, contagion, financial intermediation, market structure, and regulation.

Global Political Economy Robert G. Gilpin, 2011-08-29

This book is the eagerly awaited successor to Robert Gilpin's 1987 The Political Economy of International Relations, the classic statement of the field of international political economy that continues to command the attention of students, researchers, and policymakers. The world economy and political system have changed dramatically since the 1987 book was published. The end of the Cold War has unleashed new economic and political forces, and new regionalisms have emerged. Computing power is increasingly an impetus to the world economy, and technological developments have changed and are changing almost every aspect of contemporary economic affairs. Gilpin's Global Political Economy considers each of these developments. Reflecting a lifetime of scholarship, it offers a masterful survey of the approaches that have been used to understand international economic relations and the problems faced in the new economy Gilpin focuses on the powerful economic political and technological forces that have transformed the world He gives particular attention to economic globalization its real and alleged implications for economic affairs and the degree to which its nature extent and significance have been exaggerated and misunderstood Moreover he demonstrates that national policies and domestic economies remain the most critical determinants of economic affairs The book also stresses the importance of economic regionalism multinational corporations and financial upheavals Gilpin integrates economic and political analysis in his discussion of global political economy He employs the conventional theory of international trade insights from the theory of industrial organization and endogenous growth theory In addition ideas from political science history and other disciplines are employed to enrich understanding of the new international economic order This wide ranging book is destined to become a landmark in the field

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Regionalism Tanja A. Börzel, Thomas Risse, 2016-02-04 The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Regionalism the first of its kind offers a systematic and wide ranging survey of the scholarship on regionalism regionalization and regional governance Unpacking the major debates leading authors of the field synthesize the state of the art provide a guide to the comparative study of regionalism and identify future avenues of research Twenty seven chapters review the theoretical and empirical scholarship with regard to the emergence of regionalism the institutional design of regional organizations and issue specific governance as well as the effects of regionalism and its relationship with processes of regionalization The authors explore theories of cooperation integration and diffusion explaining the rise and the different forms of regionalism The handbook also discusses the state of the art on the world regions North America Latin America Europe Eurasia Asia North Africa and the Middle East and Sub Saharan Africa Various chapters survey the literature on regional governance in major issue areas such as security and peace trade and finance environment migration social and gender policies as well as democracy and human rights Finally the handbook engages in cross regional comparisons with regard to institutional design dispute settlement identities and communities legitimacy and democracy as well as inter and transregionalism

Region-Building in Southern Africa

Chris Saunders, Gwinyayi Albert Dzinesa, Dawn Nagar, 2013-07-04 How successful have Southern African states been in dealing with the major issues that have faced the region in recent years What could be done to produce more cohesive and effective region building in Southern Africa In this original and wide ranging volume which draws on an interdisciplinary team of mainly African and African based specialists the key political socio economic and security challenges facing Southern Africa today are addressed These include the various issues confronting the Southern African Development Community SADC and its institutions such as HIV AIDS migration and xenophobia land grabbing and climate change and the role of the main external actors involved with the region including the United Nations the European Union the United States and China The book also looks at the Southern African Customs Union and Southern African Development Finance Institutions including the Development Bank of Southern Africa and Industrial Development Corporation and issues of gender and peacebuilding In doing so the book goes to the heart of analyzing the effectiveness of SADC and other regional organisation suggesting how region building in Southern Africa may be compared with similar attempts elsewhere in Africa and other parts of the world

New Regionalisms in the Global Political Economy Shaun Breslin, 2002 Following the financial crisis at the end of the twentieth century regionalisms in the global political economy have evolved in a number of ways This informative book brings together the leading scholars in the field to provide cutting edge analyses of contemporary regions and regionalist projects Providing an innovative integration of theoretical issues with sophisticated analyses of a wide range of international case studies the chapters systematically consider the relationship between globalization financial crisis and regional projects In combination the contributions to this volume provide the widest possible base within the literature for a truly comparative study of contemporary regionalism
