Carol A. Smith

Regional Analysis Studies In Anthropology:

Regional Analysis Carol A. Smith, 1976      Regional Analysis Carol A. Smith, 2014-05-10 Regional Analysis Volume II Social Systems consists of studies on the general applications of the regional framework for analyzing socioeconomic systems as they exist and develop in territorial environmental systems This volume is concerned with social systems emphasizing the interrelationships among the institutional components of complex societies Marriage and kinship political organization formation of ethnic and cultural territorial groups and stratification systems that are affected by regional environmental variables are also covered This publication is beneficial to social and regional scientists geographers economists social anthropologists archeologists sociologists and political scientists intending to acquire knowledge of the implications of rural urban relations and regional settlement patterns      Regional Analysis Carol A. Smith, 1976      Regional Approaches to Mortuary Analysis Lane Anderson Beck, 2013-11-11 In this volume archaeologists offer a new direction for burial research by expanding the models for mortuary analysis from a site specific to a regional level Contributors explore how regional mortuary approaches allow the introduction of new questions about peer polity interactions and regional alliances extending traditional settlement system and exchange analyses This volume features case studies examining mortuary sites as components of the archaeological landscape      Regional Analysis Carol A. Smith, 1976      Applied Methods Of Regional Analysis Dennis A Rondinelli, 2019-03-08 This book reflects a large number of intellectual debts that I owe to friends and colleagues The concepts and methods described here were developed and tested in field projects funded by the United States Agency for International Development Eric Chetwynd Jr played a central role in the Urban Functions in Rural Development UFRD projects on which the book is based Without his advocacy interest and support for nearly a decade the projects could not have been undertaken      Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology Carol R. Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 Medical practitioners and the ordinary citizen are becoming more aware that we need to understand cultural variation in medical belief and practice The more we know how health and disease are managed in different cultures the more we can recognize what is culture bound in our own medical belief and practice The Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology is unique because it is the first reference work to describe the cultural practices relevant to health in the world's cultures and to provide an overview of important topics in medical anthropology No other single reference work comes close to matching the depth and breadth of information on the varying cultural background of health and illness around the world More than 100 experts anthropologists and other social scientists have contributed their firsthand experience of medical cultures from around the world      The Evolution of Social Institutions Dmitri M. Bondarenko, Stephen A. Kowalewski, David B. Small, 2020-09-12 This book presents a novel and innovative approach to the study of social evolution using case studies from the Old and the New World from prehistory to the present This approach is based on examining social evolution through the evolution of social institutions Evolution is defined as the process of structural change Within this framework the society or culture is seen as a system composed of a vast number of social institutions that are constantly interacting and changing. As a result the structure of society as a whole is also evolving and changing. The authors posit that the combination of evolving social institutions explains the non linear character of social evolution and that every society develops along its own pathway and pace. Within this framework society should be seen as the result of the compound effect of the interactions of social institutions specific to it. Further the transformation of social institutions and relations between them is taking place not only within individual societies but also globally as institutions may be trans societal and even institutions that operate in one society can arise as a reaction to trans societal trends and demands. The book argues that it may be more productive to look at institutions even within a given society as being parts of trans societal systems of institutions since despite their interconnectedness societies still have boundaries which their members usually know and respect. Accordingly the book is a must read for researchers and scholars in various disciplines who are interested in a better understanding of the origins, history, successes and failures of social institutions.

Sourcing Prehistoric Ceramics at Chodistaas Pueblo, Arizona

Mar'a Nieves Zede-o, 1994. For decades archaeologists have used pottery to reconstruct the lifeways of ancient populations. It has become increasingly evident however that to make inferences about prehistoric economic, social and political activities through the patterning of ceramic variation it is necessary to determine the location where the vessels were made. Through detailed analysis of manufacturing technology and design styles as well as the use of modern analytical techniques such as neutron activation analysis Zede-o here demonstrates a broadly applicable methodology for identifying local and nonlocal ceramics.

The Cannon Reservoir Human Ecology Project Michael J. O'Brien, Robert E. Warren, Dennis E. Lewarch, 2014-05-10. The Cannon Reservoir Human Ecology Project: An Archaeological Study of Cultural Adaptations in the Southern Prairie Peninsula provides an overview of the Cannon Reservoir Human Ecology Project formed in May 1977 as an interdisciplinary regional archaeology program to investigate human adaptations on the southern fringes of the mid continental Prairie Peninsula. The research centered on the area of northeastern Missouri in and around the site of the proposed Clarence Cannon Dam and Reservoir. The book demonstrates how objectives and goals have been integrated with various methods and techniques to generate and analyze a vast amount of data in a regional archaeological project. Comprised of 18 chapters this book first defines the objectives and goals of the project, describes the project area and discusses the research design. A brief history of archaeological work in the region is also presented. The next section assesses the environment and implications for human settlement in the area, citing various physical and cultural changes that occurred during the Holocene and presenting developmental models of prehistoric and historical settlement systems. Subsequent chapters explore the chronology of the project area, analysis of lithic artifacts and vertebrate and archaeobotanical remains, prehistoric community patterns and prehistoric and historic settlement patterns. This monograph will appeal to students, specialists and researchers in the fields of archaeology and anthropology.

The Organization of Ancient Economies

Kenneth Hirth,2020-09-17 This is the first book written that examines ancient and premodern economies from a comparative and cross cultural perspective      Comparing Cultures Michael Schnegg,Edward D. Lowe,2020-05-28 Shows how comparative ethnographic methods can be successfully used to study important human concerns in anthropology      Empire and Domestic Economy Terence N. D'Altroy,Christine A. Hastorf,2005-12-27 The Upper Mantaro Archaeological Research Project is a benchmark for a new level of quality in Andean archaeological research This volume continues to develop UMAP approaches to understanding prehistoric Andean economy and polity      Ancient Mesoamerica Richard E. Blanton,1993-04-30 In this revised and updated 1993 edition the authors synthesize recent research to provide a comprehensive survey of Mesoamerica      Regional Comparisons in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies Iris Geva-May,B. Guy Peters,Joselyn Muhleisen,2020-06-29 Volume Three of the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis contains chapters concerned with Regional Comparisons and Policy Analysis one of the most prevailing approaches in comparative public policy Through the prism of inter jurisdiction comparisons of similarities and variations they address comparisons in specific policy sectors governance or institutional constructs and political regimes The foci are nevertheless on those comparisons between countries or regions which help to lesson draw by identifying and understanding the variation in policy analysis and policy making that exists within or across regions One benefit of regional comparisons is that it often allows studies to hold constant many variables ranging from colonial legacy to federal systems or from language to specific traditions and more effectively isolate dependent variables Regional organizations like the Organization for Economic Co operation and Development OECD or European Union are also considered as catalysts for regional policy approaches and harmonization and occupy a major role in this volume The chapters address a broad and diverse number of countries and geographical areas Latin America North America East Asia Southeast Asia Southern Africa the Baltic states the Nordic states Western Europe Central Europe Eastern Europe and Europe as a whole Regional Comparisons and Policy Analysis will be of great interest to scholars and learners of public policy and social sciences as well as to practitioners considering what can be learned or facilitated through methodologically and theoretically sound approaches The chapters were originally published as articles in the Journal of Comparative Policy Analysis which in the last two decades has pioneered the development of comparative public policy The volume is part of a four volume series the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis including Theories and Methods Institutions and Governance Regional Comparisons and Policy Sectors Each volume showcases a different new chapter comparing domains of study interrelated with comparative public policy political science public administration governance and policy design authored by the JCPA co editors Giliberto Capano Iris Geva May Michael Howlett Leslie A Pal and B Guy Peters      Social Sciences And Farming Systems Research Jeffrey R Jones,Ben J Wallace,Robert Booth,Robert E Rhoades,2019-07-11 The publication of this book has required the cooperation of many people along the way From its very conception the project of bringing together experiences from ongoing Farming Systems

Research projects has faced a problem of communication due to the dispersal of the participants Dr William Partridge and Lynne Goldstein were instrumental in the initial presentation of the symposium on Social Science participation in Farming Systems Research at the 83rd Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association Ben Wallace has done an admirable job not only as editor but as a point man throughout the process of organizing the conference and preparing the manuscript He deserves credit for expediting countless activities that could never have otherwise been accomplished because of the vagaries of international mails and telecommunications

The Protohistoric Pueblo World, A.D. 1275-1600 E.

Charles Adams, Andrew I. Duff, 2004-07-01 In the centuries before the arrival of Europeans the Pueblo world underwent nearly continuous reorganization Populations moved from Chaco Canyon and the great centers of the Mesa Verde region to areas along the Rio Grande the Little Colorado River and the Mogollon Rim where they began constructing larger and differently organized villages many with more than 500 rooms Villages also tended to occur in clusters that have been interpreted in a number of different ways This book describes and interprets this period of southwestern history immediately before and after initial European contact A.D. 1275-1600 a span of time during which Pueblo peoples and culture were dramatically transformed It summarizes one hundred years of research and archaeological data for the Pueblo IV period as it explores the nature of the organization of village clusters and what they meant in behavioral and political terms Twelve of the chapters individually examine the northern and eastern portions of the Southwest and the groups who settled there during the protohistoric period The authors develop histories for settlement clusters that offer insights into their unique development and the variety of ways that villages formed these clusters These analyses show the extent to which spatial clusters of large settlements may have formed regionally organized alliances and in some cases they reveal a connection between protohistoric villages and indigenous or migratory groups from the preceding period This volume is distinct from other recent syntheses of Pueblo IV research in that it treats the settlement cluster as the analytic unit By analyzing how members of clusters of villages interacted with one another it offers a clearer understanding of the value of this level of analysis and suggests possibilities for future research In addition to offering new insights on the Pueblo IV world the volume serves as a compendium of information on more than 400 known villages larger than 50 rooms It will be of lasting interest not only to archaeologists but also to geographers land managers and general readers interested in Pueblo culture

APAIS 1994: Australian public affairs information service, International Handbook of Interpretation in Educational Research

Paul Smeyers, David Bridges, Nicholas C. Burbules, Morwenna Griffiths, 2015-01-06 This handbook focuses on the often neglected dimension of interpretation in educational research It argues that all educational research is in some sense interpretive and that understanding this issue belies some usual dualisms of thought and practice such as the sharp dichotomy between qualitative and quantitative research Interpretation extends from the very framing of the research task through the sources which constitute the data the process of their recording representation and analysis to the way in which the research is finally or provisionally presented The thesis of the handbook is that interpretation cuts across the fields both philosophically organizationally and methodologically By covering a comprehensive range of research approaches and methodologies the handbook gives early career researchers what they need to know in order to decide what particular methods can offer for various educational research contexts fields An extensive overview includes concrete examples of different kinds of research not limited for example to teaching and learning examples as present in the Anglo Saxon tradition but including as well what in the German Continental tradition is labelled p dagogisch examples from child rearing and other contexts of non formal education with full description and explanation of why these were chosen in particular circumstances and reflection on the wisdom or otherwise of the choice combined in each case with consideration of the role of interpretation in the process The handbook includes examples of a large number of methods traditionally classified as qualitative interpretive and quantitative used across the area of the study of education Examples are drawn from across the globe thus exemplifying the different opportunities and constraints that educational research has to confront in different societies

Fieldwork and the Self J  r  my Jammes, Victor T. King, 2021-11-09 This book presents new perspectives on Southeast Asia using cases from a range of ethnic groups cultures and histories written by scholars from different ethnicities generations disciplines and scientific traditions It examines various research trajectories engaging with epistemological debates on the global and local on insiders and outsiders and the role played by personal experiences in the collection and analysis of empirical data The volume provides subjects for debate rarely addressed in formal approaches to data gathering and analysis Rather than grappling with the usual methodological building blocks of research training it focuses on neglected issues in the research experience including chance error coincidence mishap dead ends silence secrets improvisation remembering digital challenges and shifting tracks Fieldwork and the Self is relevant to academics and researchers from universities and international organisations who are engaged in teaching and learning in area studies and social science research methods A rich and compelling set of writings about fieldwork in and beyond Southeast Asia Lyn Parker Emeritus Professor University of Western Australia A must read for all especially emerging scholars on Southeast Asia and a refreshing read for critical old hands on the region Abdul Rahman Embong Emeritus Professor Institute of Malaysian and International Studies IKMAS Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia An impressive collection of essays by two academics who have devoted their academic life to anthropological fieldwork in Southeast Asia Shamsul A B Distinguished Professor and UNESCO Chair Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia The contributors share an unquenchable and passionate curiosity for Southeast Asia They have survived the uncertainties and disillusionment of their fieldwork and remained first grade scholars Marie Sybille de Vienne Professor National Institute for Oriental Languages and Civilisations Paris A penetrating reflection on current social science research on Southeast Asia Hans Dieter Evers Professor Emeritus and Senior Fellow University of Bonn
