Regionalism And Multilateralism Ebays On Cooperative Security In The Asia Pacific:

Regionalism and Multilateralism Amitav Acharya, 2002 These essays written between 1990 and 2000 cover the most significant phase of multilateral institution building in the Asia Pacific region Addressing the most challenging issues of regional order the book articulates an institutionalist understanding of the international relations of the Asia Pacific and should be useful to both schools and policy makers interested in Asia Pacific security Current Law Index , 2005

Asia-Pacific Security Cooperation: National Interests and Regional Order See Seng Tan, 2014-12-18 New developments in the Asia Pacific are forcing regional officials to rethink the way they manage security issues The contributors to this work explore why some forms of security cooperation and institutionalisation in the region have proven more feasible than others This work describes the emergence of the professions in late tsarist Russia and their struggle for autonomy from the aristocratic state It also examines the ways in which the Russian professions both resembled and differed from their Western counterparts Multilateralism Amitav Acharya, 1997 Pacific Cooperation John Ravenhill, Vinod Aggarwal, Paul M Evans, Pauline Kerr, 2019-06-20 Long divided by cultural economic and political differences the Asia Pacific region has little history of multilateral cooperation Alliances that once linked individual countries with one or the other superpower fostered deep mistrust among neighbouring states The end of the Cold War however has created new opportunities for multilateral coo Asia's New Multilateralism Michael J. Green, Bates Gill, 2009 Traditionally stability in Asia has relied on America's bilateral alliances with Japan Australia and the Republic of Korea Yet in recent years emergent and more active multilateral forums such as the Six Party Talks on North Korea and the East Asia Summit have taken precedence engendering both cooperation and competition while reflecting the local concerns of the region Some are concerned that this process is moving toward less inclusive bloc based talking shops and that the future direction and success of these arrangements along with their implications for global and regional security and prosperity remain unclear The fifteen contributors to this volume all leading scholars in the field provide national perspectives on regional institutional architecture and their functional challenges They illuminate areas of cooperation that will move the region toward substantive collaboration convergence of norms and strengthened domestic institutions They also highlight the degree to which institution building in Asia a region composed of liberal democracies authoritarian regimes and anachronistic dictatorships has become an arena for competition among major powers and conflicting norms and assess the future shape of Asian security architecture Bilateralism, Multilateralism and Asia-Pacific Security William Tow, Brendan Taylor, 2013-09-02 Many scholars of international relations in Asia regard bilateralism and multilateralism as alternative and mutually exclusive approaches to security co operation They argue that multilateral associations such as ASEAN will eventually replace the system of bilateral alliances which were the predominant form of U S security co operation with Asia Pacific allies during the Cold War Yet these bilateral alliances continue to be the primary means of the United States strategic engagement with the region This book contends that bilateralism and multilateralism are not mutually exclusive and that bilateralism is likely to continue strong even as multilateralism strengthens It explores a wide range of issues connected with this question It discusses how US bilateral alliances have been reinvigorated in recent years examines how bilateral and multilateral approaches to specific problems can work alongside each other and concludes by considering how patterns of international security are likely to develop in the region in future Pacific Asia? Melvin Gurtov, 2002

Emphasizing human and environmental security over traditional power politics Mel Gurtov offers a provocative reinterpretation of security in the Asia Pacific region The author questions a number of prevailing assumptions such as the China threat a U S centered balance of power and the necessity of a greater Japanese security role He argues instead for a cooperative framework for future security that focuses on people s basic needs is sensitive to Asian nationalism and gradually replaces military power with developmental priorities With its concise appraisals of the security policies of the United States China Japan the two Koreas and the ASEAN countries this work will be a valued reference for policymakers scholars and students alike Emerging Asian-Pacific Multilateralism Vladimir I. Ivanov, 1992 Asia-Pacific Security Jing Dong Yuan, 2000 Reassessing Security Cooperation in the Asia-Pacific Amitav Acharya, 2007 Experts examine changing security arrangements in the Asia Pacific region particularly the rise of multilateral efforts at cooperative security Contested Multilateralism 2.0 and Asian Security Dynamics Kai He, 2020-04-28 In the 1990s there was a wave of multilateralism in the Asia Pacific led primarily by ASEAN Since the Global Financial Crisis of 2008 however many non ASEAN states have attempted to seize the initiative including the USA Japan China South Korea and Australia Kai He and his contributors debate the reasons for this contested multilateralism and the impacts it will have on the region s security and political challenges Will the Indo Pacific turn be a blessing or a curse for regional stability and prosperity Using a diverse range of theoretical and empirical perspectives these leading scholars contribute views on this question and on the diverse strategies of the great and middle powers in the region This collection will be of great interest to scholars and students of international relations in the Asia Pacific and of great value to policy makers in the region and beyond The Security Environment in the Asia-Pacific Hung-Mao Tien, Ten-jen Cheng, 2016-09-16 Multilateral security forums in the Asia Pacific region have evolved but bilateral defence alliances continue to form the principle pillars of national security for most nations in the region This text presents a survey of issues confronting the Asia Pacific region as it enters year 2000 Multilateralism in Northeast Asia[n] International Security James Tuck-Hong Tang, 1993 Security Cooperation In The Asia-Pacific Region Desmond Ball, Richard L. Grant, Jusuf Wanandi, 1993-10-28 CSCAP Regional Security Outlook 2007, 2007 No Better Alternative, 1997 Ten papers presented at the Third CSCAP Meeting on Comprehensive Security organised by the Centre for Strategic Studies held in Wellington New Zealand in December 1996 P 5 Multilateralism and Security Cooperation in Asia Pacific Pramila Krishnan, 2012 Minilateralism in the Indo-Pacific Bhubbendar Singh, Sarah Teo, 2020-05-05 While

US centred bilateralism and ASEAN led multilateralism have largely dominated the post Cold War regional security architecture in the Indo Pacific increasing doubts about their effectiveness have resulted in countries turning to alternative forms of cooperation such as minilateral arrangements Compared to multilateral groupings minilateral platforms are smaller in size as well as more exclusive flexible and functional Both China and the US have contributed to minilateral initiatives in the Indo Pacific In the case of the former there is the Lancang Mekong Cooperation mechanism involving China Cambodia Laos Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam established in 2015 In the case of the latter there has been a revival of the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue in 2017 involving the US Australia Japan and India This book examines the rise of these arrangements their challenges and opportunities as well as their impact on the extant regional security architecture including on the ASEAN led multilateral order A valuable guide for students and policy makers looking to understand the nature and development of minilateralism in the Indo Pacific region
