Animals play crucial roles in Buddhist thought and practice However many symbolically or culturally significant animals found in India where Buddhism originated do not inhabit China to which Buddhism spread in the medieval period In order to adapt Buddhist ideas and imagery to the Chinese context writers reinterpreted and modified the meanings different creatures possessed Medieval sources tell stories of monks taming wild tigers detail rituals for killing snakes and even address the question of whether a parrot could achieve enlightenment Huaiyu Chen examines how Buddhist ideas about animals changed and were changed by medieval Chinese culture He explores the entangled relations among animals religions the state and local communities considering both the multivalent meanings associated with animals and the daily experience of living with the natural world Chen illustrates how Buddhism influenced Chinese knowledge and experience of animals as well as how Chinese state ideology Daoism and local cultic practices reshaped Buddhism He shows how Buddhism Confucianism and Daoism developed doctrines rituals discourses and practices to manage power relations between animals and humans Drawing on a wide range of sources including traditional texts stone inscriptions manuscripts and visual culture this interdisciplinary book bridges history religious studies animal studies and environmental studies In examining how Buddhist depictions of the natural world and Chinese taxonomies of animals mutually enriched each other In the Land of Tigers and Snakes offers a new perspective on how Buddhism took root in Chinese society The Standards of Mesopotamia in the Third and Fourth Millennia BCE Renate Marian van Dijk-Coombes, 2023-04-05

Depictions of standards form a fundamental part of the visual repertoire of ancient Mesopotamia These depictions can offer great insight into the thought world of the peoples with which they are associated because different standards were associated with different deities and could be found in multiple contexts In this book Renate Marian van Dijk Coombes examines the standards which are represented in the visual culture of the third and fourth millennia BCE covering the Uruk Early Dynastic Akkadian and Neo Sumerian periods She analyses each of the different standards how they looked what they symbolised and the contexts in which they were found. In addition, developments and changes in the representation of these standards are traced across the periods under discussion.

The Nile Mosaic of Palestrina Paul G.P. Meyboom, 2015-08-24. The famous Nile Mosaic of Palestrina (ancient Praeneste) in central Italy, dating to c. 100 B.C., is one of the earliest large mosaics which have been preserved from the classical world. It presents a unique comprehensive picture of Egypt and Nubia. The interpretation of the mosaic is disputed, suggestions ranging from an exotic decoration to a topographical picture or a religious allegory. The present study demonstrates that the mosaic depicts rituals connected with Isis and Osiris and the yearly Nile flood. The presence of these Egyptian religious scenes at Praeneste can be explained by the assimilation of Isis and Fortuna, the tutelary goddess of Praeneste, and by the interpretation of the mosaic as a symbol of divine providence.
