Exporting American Architecture 1870-2000 Jeffrey W. Cody, 2005-06-27 The export of American architecture began in the nineteenth century as a disjointed set of personal adventures and commercial initiatives It continues today alongside the transfer of other aspects of American life and culture to most regions of the world Jeffrey Cody explains how why and where American architects planners building contractors and other actors have marketed American architecture overseas In so doing he provides a historical perspective on the diffusion of American building technologies architectural standards construction methods and planning paradigms Using previously undocumented examples and illustrations he shows how steel frame manufacturers shipped their products abroad enabling the erection of American style skyscrapers worldwide by 1900 and how this phase was followed by similar initiatives by companies manufacturing concrete components

Writing through Music Jann Pasler, 2007-12-12 Drawing on a passion for music a remarkably diverse interdisciplinary toolbox and a gift for accessible language that speaks equally to scholars and the general public Jann Pasler invites us to read as she writes through music unveiling the forces that affect our sonic encounters In an extraordinary collection of historical and critical essays some appearing for the first time in English Pasler deconstructs the social moral and political preoccupations lurking behind aesthetic taste Arguing that learning from musical experience is vital to our understanding of past present and future Pasler's work trenchantly reasserts the role of music as a crucial contributor to important public debates about who we can be as individuals communities and nations The author's wide ranging and perceptive approaches to musical biography and history challenge us to rethink our assumptions about important cultural and philosophical issues including national identity and postmodern musical hybridity material culture the economics of power and the relationship between classical and popular music Her work uncovers the self fashioning of modernists such as Vincent d'Indy Augusta Holm's Jean Cocteau and John Cage and addresses categories such as race gender and class in the early 20th century in ways that resonate with experiences today She also explores how music uses time and constructs narrative Pasler's innovative and influential methodological approaches such as her notion of question spaces open up the complex cultural and political networks in which music participates This provides us with the reasons and tools to engage with music in fresh and exciting ways In these thoughtful essays music whether beautiful or cacophonous reassuring or seemingly incomprehensible comes alive as a bearer of ideas and practices that offers deep insights into how we negotiate the world Jann Pasler's Writing through Music brilliantly demonstrates how music can be a critical lens to focus the contemporary critical cultural historical and social issues of our time
